Singer is Presented in Recital at Local Church

William A. Reeves, tenor, was presented in a recent recital by the Senior Choir of Oak Grove Free Will Baptist Church at the church. He was accompanied by Jerry McCants.

Reeves has studied under Mesdames Nell Hunter, Ruth Edwards, Afrika Hayes, (the daughter of Roland Hayes), Virginia Alston, Sarah Barden, Janie Speaks, and Theresa H. Claggett. He has also studied under Charles J. Harris and Raymond Massenburg.

His program, consisting mainly of religious works, featured the compositions of Burleigh, Handel, Giordani, Purcell and others.

For his performance Sunday evening he was highly praised by Mrs. Edna B. Mason, chairman of the program committee and Mr. Harris, who is in his own right a noted musician and accompanist. Said Mrs. Mason: "He has poise, grace, culture and a trained well balanced tenor voice. It would have thrilled you to have heard the rendition of 'I'd rather Have Jesus,' which brought Continued on 6A
