Carmichael, Chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is widely known as a principle advocate of "black power."

Rustin, Director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute and architect of the 1963 March on Washington, an advocate of

Clarence Mitchell to Speak at ECSC Founder's Day Program

ELIZABETH CITY—Clarence Mitchell, Director of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, will deliver the major address at the 75th Anniversary Convocation to be held at Elizabeth City State College on Sunday, December 11, at 3 p.m. Mitchell, recently cited by a Washington newspaper as perhaps the most effective worker for civil rights in the country, has for a number of years been the spark plug in working with the United States Congress on civil rights legislation.

Isaac A. Battle, of Gatesville, N. C., past president of the Alumni Association, will be cited for his work and leadership with the Alumni Association.

T. S. Cooper of Elizabeth City will be cited as an Alumnus who over a period of 67 years has given leadership and contribution in education in his community and as a member of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. J. R. R. McRay, Pastor of Cornerstone Baptist Church, Elizabeth City, will be cited for his consistent loyal support of the Institution and its program over many years. Dr. Herman Glen Cooke of the College Department of Biology will be cited for his research and writings in the fields of Ecology and Entomology.

A special citation will be presented to McDonald Dixon, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and to each present Trustee of the College. These citations will be in appreciation of the work of the Trustees through the history of the college and document the membership of the present Board on the 75th Anniversary.

St. Paul's Prof Selected For DIB Entry

LAWRENCEVILLE, Va.—Dr. Clara Barnes Jenkins, a member of the Department of Education at Saint Paul's College, Lawrenceville, Va., has been selected by the editors of the Dictionary of International Biography as an American entry for Volume Three of that publication. The Dictionary of International Biography, published in London, England and edited by Geoffrey Handley-Taylor, is an international publication of contemporary achievement.

The meeting is the third of a forum series sponsored by the New York Chapter of the League for Industrial Democracy. The League, an educational organization, is dedicated to "increasing democracy in our economic, political and cultural life." The Chairman of the Board of Directors is Michael Harrington, author of "The Other America."

Entries in the recent volume come from the United States of America, Greece, Canada, the Philippines, Australia, and Great Britain. Biographies are not confined to any one profession, but cover government officials, civic workers, business executives, professors and teachers, lawyers, surgeons, engineers, and artists.

A former recipient of a fellowship from the Faculty Fellowship Committee of the United Negro College Fund and a recipient of other scholastic grants and subsidies Dr. Jenkins holds membership in numerous educational and professional organizations. Listed as a biographee in Who Who in American Education and in Who's Who of American Women, she has been chosen for entry in the next edition of Who's Who in the South and Southeast.

A resident of Henderson, N. C. and a notary public for that state, she is the only member of her race from that city selected by the editors of D. I. B. for recognition in its third international publication.

INVITED TO VIET NAM—(Olympia, Wash.)—Comedian Dick Gregory, his wife Lillian beside him, announces here that he has been invited to North Viet Nam to discuss entertainment of American prisoners of war during the Christmas holidays. He said that he will fly to London and on to Paris where he will depart for Hanoi.

His wife and 2 eldest daughters will go too. He does not have State Dept. approval to make the trip.

The Negro in Modern American History Textbooks

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF TEACHERS, AFL-CIO

CHICAGO — Making its debut in the field of curriculum research, the 126,000 member American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO has published a new and exciting research study entitled "The Negro in Modern American History Textbooks."

Written by Irving Sloan, a Scarsdale, N. Y. teacher, under an AFT research grant, the study reviews the thirteen best-selling textbooks used in many of our junior and senior high schools. It answers the question "Are publishers of American secondary school texts being candid when they report that their approaches to the American Negro have changed in the past year?"

Said Mr. Sloan upon publication of the study: "For the most part, authors and publishers are making genuine efforts to explore the myths of Negro history and show the Negro's rightful place in the history of this country. But none of the texts have completely succeeded, and several are so far from the target that they invite suspicion."

Copies of the Sloan study are available by sending $1 (or $10 for 25 copies) to the AFT Research Department, 716 North Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

R for Health
Professionalism

Pharmacy is one of man's oldest professions, dating back thousands of years. And yet, it is as young as today's new drug discovery.

About 90 per cent of today's wonderful medicines had not been discovered 25 years ago—giving some indication of the constant study required by doctors and pharmacists to keep up with the world of medicines. Many drug stores stock upwards of 7,000 different medicinal preparations!

But because he operates a retail enterprise, and has daily contact with his customers, some people forget that the pharmacist is a professional man, like the physician, scientifically trained and licensed to be a member of the community health team.

The people identify the professional pharmacist with the mortar and pestle, and the fancy colored jars of herbs and chemicals that used to fill his shelves. Today's pharmacist, thanks to scientific research and advanced techniques of manufacturing and packaging, spends less time compounding than did his predecessor. And yet, today's pharmacist is more scientific, more expert in all phases of pharmacy — including compounding — than ever before!

Also, he is better educated; he must have a minimum of five years in a college of pharmacy. And because of his training, he is a reliable source of information about medicines and minor ailments. As a member of the community health team, the pharmacist consults with the doctor about medicines. The pharmacist is the only person permitted by law to fill a prescription.

Above all these things, the pharmacist is also a citizen in his community, and most often a very active one. Many are civic leaders, and some have sought and won high political office.

Without question, the quality of our health services is better because of pharmacy — and the professional pharmacist.
