$25,000 Reward Posted For Miss. CR Slayers

Negro Rights Worker's Truck Blown Apart

NATCHEZ, MISS.—Rewards totaling $35,000 were being offered here this week for the bombing to death of Wharlest Jackson, a Natchez Negro civil rights worker, when his truck was blown apart Monday night. The city of Natchez is offering $25,000 and the Armstrong Tire and Rubber Company, where Jackson worked $10,000 for the arrest of those responsible for the death dealing explosion. Gov. Paul B. Johnson branded the killing of Jackson as "heinous and senseless murder." The Governor added: "The citizenry of Mississippi abhors this act of savagery which stains the honor of our state." Jackson, 36, and the father of six children, had only last week been promoted by the Tire and Rubber Company to a job formerly held by a white man. He was killed as he drove home from work. His wife said she could not understand the crime since civil rights activity had died down in Natchez.

Said Mrs. Jackson further: "It was dirty white people here in Natchez, that's all. It was evil because he didn't bother nobody. I didn't know his job was that important that someone had to kill him."

Back in 1965 a similar explosion badly injured George Metcalf, president of the Natchez branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Jackson was treasurer of the Natchez NAACP until last month.

The slaying of Jackson has precipitated protests. See SLAYER page 2A.

Negro Sheriff of Deep South to Protect All

ATLANTA, GA., Feb. 21 (SCLC)—The first Negro to be elected sheriff in the Deep South since Reconstruction pledged last night that "all persons in our county, regardless of color, will have the protection of the law. My staff and I serve not as oppressors, but protectors."

Lucius Amerson of Macon County, Alabama, the only Negro sheriff in the United States, spoke at a rally of the Atlanta affiliate of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. The meeting was called by newly elected officers of the Atlanta SCLC to protest against the slow pace of school desegregation, discrimination in employment, and slum housing in Atlanta.

The sheriff, whose home is in Tuskegee, told how he overcame numerous obstacles in his campaign, and how he has confronted threats since he took office Jan. 16. He said he could not have been elected without the support of SCLC and other organizations, and urged Negroes to unite behind candidates for political office.

Dr. Ralph David Abernathy, national Vice President At-Large of SCLC, called on the audience to join and support the SCLC affiliate and its new officers in "tearing down every vestige of segregation and discrimination which is still found here in Atlanta."

"We have a long way to go. Employment is at an all-time high in our city, but Negroes are still the last to be hired and the first to be fired. The vast majority of schools in Atlanta are still segregated, 13 years after the Supreme Court said this was unconstitutional. Atlanta is the home of the Braves, but also the home of many maladjusted and frustrated people because

Weaver Says Charges Against U. S. Housing Dept "Unfair"

WASHINGTON—Secretary Robert C. Weaver of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development today called charges against the Department by the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing "both inaccurate and unfair."

The Committee at a news conference held in Washington today accused the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development of failure to do all within its power to secure compliance with laws requiring nondiscrimination in housing.

"Equal opportunity in housing involves both an adequate supply of shelter at rents our people can afford and free access to that shelter," Secretary Weaver said.

Rev. A. D. Moseley, pastor of Mt. Gilead Baptist Church here, has been recently elected president of the Durham Branch of NAACP.

In accepting the office, Rev. Moseley lauded Rev. J. A. Brown and Rev. W. M. Fuller, past presidents, and pledged his services toward continuing the strides made in the fight for freedom, justice, and equality.

Plans are in the making for positive action on equal employment, housing, health, political action and the War on Poverty. School desegregation, and job opportunities.

Rev. Moseley is asking that special attention be called to Title IV, Section 405 of Public Law 88-352, The Civil Rights Acts of 1964, as it regards technical assistance authorized by the Commissioner of Education. $90,000 Raised For Allen U. at Founder's Day

COLUMBIA, S.C.—Dr. Benjamin J. Glover, President of Allen University, announced that $90,000 was raised during the 97th Founder's Day Celebration which ended Saturday, February 18. This amount is a portion of the $200,000 goal set by the institution in order to match federal funds for a new science building which is presently under construction.

The science building, scheduled to be completed by September, 1967, will house the new Physics Department as well as the Biology, Chemistry, and Mathematics Departments.

Dr. Samuel E. Duncan, President of Livingstone College, Salisbury, North Carolina delivered the Founder's Day message at eleven o'clock Saturday morning.

Speaking from the topic "Some Current and Potential Contributions of a Predominately Negro Church Related Institution of Higher Learning Deserving Support," the brilliant educator said, "Negro church related colleges, in general, must decide whether they are to be accredited or unaccredited and whether they will seek primarily to meet both the church and the larger community needs."

Dr. Duncan emphatically pointed out that "A private Negro College with a deep religious atmosphere and little financial support will not be sufficient in the days a-

NASSAU, BAHAMAS—Marguerite Pinning, attractive mother of three, laid aside her private life and stepped confidently into the public spotlight as she assumed her place as the wife of the Colony's Premier.

Urging all Bahamians to work harder and be more courteous to visitors than ever before, the charming Mrs. Pinning set a fetching picture of a devoted mother and political helper as she chatted informally and posed for photos with her children.

Mrs. Pinning became the first Bahamian-born first lady when her husband's Progressive Liberal Party won control of the House of Assembly in Colonywide elections in January.

Until then, she was a hard-working assistant in his law offices and a steadfast campaign helper in the political arena. Now she finds herself cast in the glare of public life and a seemingly endless demand for her time as official functions and public appearances begin to multiply.

Writes Anti-Discrimination Into Firemen Contracts

MANHASSET, N.Y.—The town of North Hempstead, L.I., threatened by civil rights leaders with demonstrations, has written an anti-discrimination clause into contracts with eight volunteer fire departments on Long Island.

The inability of Negro residents to gain admission to volunteer fire companies in Nassau County had led to numerous complaints of racial discrimination and threats of demonstrations.

On Jan. 17, Gerald Taylor, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Youth and College Division, had attended a Hempstead Village Board meeting to protest alleged discrimination against Negroes in the volunteer fire units. Taylor and leaders of other civil rights groups also plans to stage demonstrations if restrictions barring qualified Negro applicants were not halted.

The turbulent meeting between the civil rights representatives and the Board ended abruptly with a warning by Hempstead Mayor Walter B. Ryan that any disorder
