World War II Veterans Notified Of Change in Term Insurance

WINSTON-SALEM — If you're one of the 24 million World War II veterans receiving dividends this year on your GI term insurance, the Veterans Administration suggests you consider a change to one of the seven types of permanent type level premium insurance.

At present the average premium for a World War II veteran on $10,000 worth of insurance is $9.90 monthly, according to W. R. Phillips, Manager of the Winston-Salem VA Regional Office.

In 20 years it will jump to $39.70 a month.

In retirement years it becomes prohibitive for most veterans to pay premiums on term insurance.

For comparison the premium $10,000 worth of term insurance is:

Age 60	$307.80 yearly
Age 70	$731.60 yearly
Age 80	Nearly $2,000 yearly
Age 85	More than $3,000 yearly

And up! Conversion from term insurance to a permanent plan has been a slow and continuing process since World War II.

Each policyholder receives a notice about the modified life plan and other plans on which premiums do not increase with his term renewal notice.

Yet, the conversion number is only a token of what needs to be done, Phillips points out.

Many veterans who get older cannot afford the term insurance so they let it lapse when they need it most.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Health Hints Released By Medical Association

CHICAGO, Ill. — With the advent of the spring season of 1967 most of us are beginning to get out of doors again. There are gardens and lawns that need work and outdoor chores of all sorts that have accumulated during the winter.

With the return of outdoor activities comes once again the hazard of minor accidents, cuts and scratches. Most often these aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

But sometimes these little scratches can be more serious. Sometimes they are the channel through which you could get tetanus (lockjaw).

Tetanus-producing spores lie dormant in the soil of your garden, the dirt of your garage, and the dust inside your house. These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound—a pin scratch, a bee sting or a small cut, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association.

Tetanus spores may remain in your body for long periods without producing the disease. Or, they may produce poison effects in five to fourteen days, even though the wound has healed.

First signs of tetanus are irritability and restlessness. Muscles rapidly become rigid, eventually causing a clenched jaw leer that gives tetanus its nickname—lockjaw.

When symptoms appear, the outlook is grim, even with the best treatment. To avoid the deadly consequences, be sure you are immunized with tetanus toxoid. When you are immunized, your body manufactures antibodies that will fight tetanus toxin. A booster is needed every ten years and whenever you are injured.

If you aren't protected, in an emergency there is no time for immunization. If you have no built-in immunity, your physician may inject tetanus antitoxin. An emergency shot, however, is not always effective.

Your only long-range guarantee against tetanus is immunization with tetanus toxoid. Only one of every four Americans has this protection. Have you?

Before coming to Hollywood, where he's currently starring with Henry Fonda in "Death Dance At Banner," Michael Parks held a variety of jobs. One in particular he'll never forget: he worked for a few months as a casket upholsterer.
