Bennett College Observes Science Emphasis Week

GREENSBORO — Scientists from A. and T. College, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill last week joined with Bennett College's faculty and students in the 14th annual observance of Science Emphasis Week.

Dr. J. Henry Sayles, chairman of the science division, presided over the opening seminar discussion on Monday afternoon at which time Dr. Walter W. Sullivan, professor of chemistry at A. and T. College, spoke on "The Wittig Reaction." In other afternoon sessions, Miss Messeret Taddeus, of Ethiopia, a member of the class of '67 who is now enrolled in graduate study at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, and Dr. E. G. HOW TO DISCOVER EUROPE!

AMERICANS WHO VISIT EUROPE THIS YEAR ARE BEING LET IN ON ONE OF THE CONTINENT'S BEST-KEPT SECRETS: TOURIST MECCAS WHICH ATTRACT VISITORS LOOKING FOR QUIET, UN-SPOILED AND ECONOMIC PLACES TO GET AWAY FROM IT ALL.

1. SCANDINAVIANS TAKE THE LEAD IN KNOWLEDGE OF WHERE TO GO, WHAT TO DO AND SEE — FOR THE THRIFTY, FUN AND SUN-LOVING VIKING TAKE ADVANTAGE OF UNIQUE ALL-INCLUSIVE ECONOMIC EXCURSIONS BY BUS AND PLANE FROM DENMARK TO HOLIDAY DESTINATIONS THROUGHOUT EUROPE AND THE MEDITERRANEAN.

4. TRAVELER BOGS TRAVEL. SCANDINAVIA'S LARGEST TOURIST SERVICE, WAS STARTED BY ELIF KROGAGER, A 57-YEAR-OLD VILLAGE PASTOR WHO WAS SO POOR THAT HE COULDN'T AFFORD TO TRAVEL. ONE REASON HIS TOURS ARE SO ECONOMIC IS THAT TRAVELERS NOW OWN THE BUSES, JEES, AND MANY OF THE HOTELS INVOLVED.

in the DRIVER'S SEAT

The government's "Discover America" travel program is setting the theme for many vacationers planning their holiday this summer.

"Fly-drive" is the method many use to make the most of their U.S. vacations, Hertz Rent A Car reports.

By flying to the scene with a rented car waiting in their destination airport, travelers save precious time and get maximum mobility to enjoy such Hertz "Discover America Fly-Drive" vacations as:

Fly to San Francisco and drive to colorful Golden Gate Park, Chinatown, Nob Hill, nearby Napa Valley and Yosemite National Park.

Fly to Seattle and drive through Puget Sound to Mt. Rainier National Park and Grand Coulee Dam.

Fly to Las Vegas and drive north, Hertz suggests, to fascinating Zion and Bryce Canyon National Parks.

Fly to St. Louis and drive around the amazing Ozark country, with its lakes, fishing and historical locales.

Fly to Dallas and drive through Old West country to see the Alamo and NASA Space Center.

Fly to Knoxville and drive the scenic expanse of Great Smoky Mountains National Park, Hertz says.

Fly to Jacksonville and drive up the coast through Myrtle Beach, Cape Hatteras and Kitty Hawk.

Fly to Milwaukee and drive the magnificent northern lake area, the unique Wisconsin Dells and Mackinac Straits.

Fly to Boston and drive through the cool historic greenery of New England, Hertz reports.

STRENGTH IN RESERVE

The Army Reserve by-word is training. Constant readiness is its goal. One of every 200 Americans belongs to the Army Reserve and each of them, whether in units or in the Ready Reserve Mobilization Reinforcement Pool, lives by this word.

Performing double duty, members of the Army Reserve may wear a homburg, or a sombrero, or a steelworker's hard hat, or a bus driver's cap, or any one of a dozen other types of civilian headgear as they go about their daily tasks in civilian life. But, during 48 to 72 training assemblies, many of which take up whole weekends, and two weeks each summer, they doff civilian headgear for Army hats.

More than 700,000 members of the Ready Reserve may change hats this way. The other two categories of the Army Reserve—Standby and Retired—are not so directly affected, although their ranks swell the total number of Army Reservists to more than one million.

ry, professor of zoology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, led discussions.

A preview of the new residence hall to be completed by fall was given by a panel which included Mrs. Louise G. Street, of the home economics department and two representatives of the firm of Loewenstein-Atkinson, architects.

Other speakers during the week included Dr. Aden C. Magee, associate research professor in the College of Home Economics at UNC-G; Dr. Larry M. Slikin, professor of physics at the UNC-CH, and Dr. J. A. Williams, professor of biology at A. and T. College. Students reporting on research projects included Misses Marcenia Brown, Anita Pinson, Ida Pinnix, Rose M. Allen, Sylvia Potts and Vera Fowler.

Your Aging House

Seth Clarke's Folly
There's nothing funnier than watching a really smart fellow really outsmart himself — and that's what happened to Seth Clarke. And anyone who hangs around the courthouse will tell you he's a very sharp lawyer.

What happened was that Seth decided to make a family room out of his closed-in porch. Now you've got to realize that Seth had never done anything more mechanical than sharpen a pencil. But this didn't daunt Seth one bit. He found some plans in one of those fancy women's magazines and away he went hammering and sawing, setting tile, splicing cable and what have you.

Well, sir, when he was just about finished a building inspector happened by and asked Seth if he had a building permit. Being a lawyer, you'd think Seth would know that in most communities there are strict laws that say something about having a permit when you structurally alter a dwelling.

How to Keep Your House Springtime Fresh

Does the mere thought of Spring housecleaning frighten you? Well, it needn't. With the proper organization and equipment, it can lift your spirits, and afterwards, those of your entire family.

Half the battle is in the planning. List the individual tasks under two separate columns. In one column enter standup chores such as taking up rugs and cleaning out closets, and in the other, the lighter sit-down jobs, such as mending slipcovers or tidying bureau drawers.

In this way you can budget your energy, doing the toughest jobs when you're full of zip. Allow enough time to do each job properly, and just as important, enough time for relaxation.

Group jobs to be done in any one area. For example, you'll probably want to wash down kitchen cupboards and straighten out food-pantry shelves on the same day.

After you've finished the first steps such as removing and storing storm windows, and perhaps removing, cleaning and storing draperies to make way for lighter summer curtains, and dusting thoroughly, you'll want to banish musty odors and make your house free of dangerous germs by deep-cleaning walls, floors, and storage shelves.

According to the Lysol Home Health Information Bureau, deep-cleaning means washing with a solution of warm, soapy water to which a disinfectant has been added. It will deodorize and at the same time disinfect. This is especially important for closets where brooms or old rags that may retain bacteria are kept.

As you clean, open the windows and air the rooms.

Remove mattresses and wash blankets in a disinfectant solution. Air mattresses while you wash down and disinfect the slats and coils of the bedsprings. To freshen mattresses, brush with a solution of disinfectant and soap. Rearrange items on storage shelves for greater convenience with frequently used objects placed at waist or shoulder level. Finally, once your house is in the best order, try to keep it that way by giving systematic attention to individual areas throughout the summer.
