Cards of Thanks

It is with profound humility and gratitude that we give thanks to almighty God for giving us the strength to go onward. We are grateful to our old friends, we are indeed grateful to newly found friends, many whom we have never seen. We find it extremely hard to find words to express our gratitude to our friends in Durham, St. Albans, L.I., New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Washington, D. C., The Bondol Chemical Company and Allie Freeman, both of Little Rock, Ark., Pottstown, Pa., Middletown, Ohio, Norfolk, Va., Newport News, Va., Henderson, Franklinton, Chillum, Md., Creedmoor, Hillsborough, Port Au Prince, Haiti, Trinidad, British West Indies, members of the Funeral Profession, the Epsilon Nu Delta Mortuary Fraternity, the many churches and auxiliaries, Bronx, N. Y., Zebulon, Chapel Hill, members of the Order of the Eastern Star and Masonic Brothers throughout the state. To the members of the Loyal Group of the Morehead Ave. Baptist Church, and last but far not least, the neighbors of the Lyon Park Section, the faculty of the Lyon Park School, Lyon Park PTA, North Carolina College, the Pettiford family on Kent Street, who set up a cutting and writing team, also the personnel of the Scarborough and Hargett Funeral Home.

Humbly submitted,
The J. A. Carters

FATHER AND DAUGHTER AT COMMENCEMENT— All three of these people played an important role in Sunday's North Carolina College commencement. Sandra Larkins, left, was one of 452 graduates, and her father, Dr. John R. Larkins, right, of Raleigh, received the honorary degree Doctor of Humane Letters. The two are shown chatting with Watts Hill Jr., chairman of the State Board of Education and principal speaker for the occasion. Hill was also awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree during the finals program.

BIBLE QUOTE
Thou knowest the commandments, do not commit adultery, do not kill, do not steal, do not bear false witness, defraud not, honour thy father and mother.

A TRIBUTE TO THE CLERGY
Because our contacts with the clergymen of our community are frequent and varied, we must admit that we have sometimes been guilty of taking their selfless devotion for granted. May we then at this time express our appreciation for the many gracious services they render without complaint and often with little or no reward.
