

Child Over Protection Not Answer to Safety

RALEIGH—Over - protection is not the answer to physical safety for your child but training and supervision are, says

Frances Jordan, extension family relations specialist, North Carolina State University. As soon as children can understand, they need to learn to protect themselves from hazards.

helping a child learn about hazards can help adults become more aware of safety precautions the entire family should develop.

Miss Jordan points out. Fenced-in play areas will help keep the youngest one safer, but so will the repeated reminder of "look both ways before crossing the street."

beaches and pools. Often they happen just a short distance of the child's house in fish ponds, cesspools, wells, cisterns, rivers, reservoirs, lakes, creeks or brooks. Almost half the children who drowned were one-year-olds who were left unattended, the specialist adds.

Seeks Probe of Tele. Service For Candidates

CHARLESTON, S. C. — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) last week asked the Federal Communications Commission and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to investigate circumstances around the reported delay of telephone service for Negro political candidates in Charleston, S. C.

Jack Greenberg, LDF director-counsel, said, "It is incredible Bell System cannot promptly fill reasonable order placed by Negro candidates for election."

"I request immediate investigation to see whether this order can be filled and whether refusal is racially motivated." Complete text of Greenberg's wire to Nicholas Johnson, chairman, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, and Benjamin S. Gilmer, president, AT and T. New York City, follows.

Benjamin C. Cook, Jr., chairman, Legal Redress Committee, NAACP, Charleston, South Carolina, informs me Southern Bell Telephone Company recalcitrant rendering service to committee supporting Negro candidates for election to be held June 13. He states telephone company first requested $100 deposit each line. After several weeks negotiations district manager J. K. Livingston accepted $100 deposit for all phones and stated phones would be installed May 20. On 20th or 21st a phone company representative left message saying company had no facilities to fill order. Mr. Cook made further inquiry. Thursday this week one phone was installed. Mr. Cook inquired of Mr. Stroman, general manager, about balance of order. Mr. Stroman said company would make complete installation immediately. Later Mr. Stroman called denying commitment stating order could not be filled. It is incredible Bell System cannot promptly fill reasonable order placed by Negro candidates for election. I request immediate investigation to see whether this order can be filled and whether refusal is racially motivated.

This learning will not occur in one easy lesson. It's an on-going thing that a parent must skillfully inject into a child's every day life so he'll be able to take care of himself whenever he's away from parental protective custody.

Suffocation and choking are the most frequently reported causes of accidental death of children under one year of age. But from ages one through nine, the three top killers are motor vehicles, drownings and fire. In younger children, poisoning also rate high.

Motor vehicle accidents for this age group are not on the highways so much as they are right in the family driveway or street in front of the house.

"WHEN A NEW EMPLOYEE came into the boss' office and asked for a raise, the boss thundered, 'You can't ask for more money so soon! First you have to work yourself up.'"

"PLANS for a family outing were being discussed. 'Should we bring field glasses?' the father asked. His four-year-old daughter gushed excitedly in reply. 'No! We don't have to! Mommy is bringing paper cups.' Catholic Digest, May

Beauty is...

A Bare Fact in Summer

Summer is surfing, swimming, beach parties, vacations and romance. It can also be sunburns, prickly heat, insect bites, dry skin and dry hair.

With Old Sol about to deal out equal rations of fun and tricks, you'd better develop your own "Operation Head Start" now, so you can step out of your fun furs into your bikini with your best bare-foot forward.

The sleek, slim look is a must for showing off the snappy summer fashions. If you collected a few extra pounds during the winter, that cocoon of heavy clothes has probably kept your secret, but you'd better start today to shed both so you won't be tempted to "crash" diet tomorrow.

Then there's the bronzed look that goes with the months ahead.

Why jeopardize your clear complexion to achieve it — particularly if you have super-sensitive skin? A few minutes of sun bathing daily — sort of a pre-season conditioning program — plus a good suntan lotion will help prevent sunburn and that parched look. But in case you get a little too enthusiastic, be prepared for the emergency. Sea Breeze antiseptic lotion dabbed on immediately will bring soothing relief from painful sunburn. It helps where it hurts. Also says a cool 'scat' to prickly heat and takes the itch out of non-poisonous insect bites.

One more tip—decide now on a becoming easy to manage hair style. The long straight styles are definitely 'in' and can be twirled off your neck in hot weather or for that glamorous look in the evening. Or you may prefer one of the still popular short, straight cuts that respond to a quick flick of the comb. Whatever the style, you'll want your hair silky-shining all summer. A vigorous brushing each day, a cream rinse after shampooing, and a pretty scarf or beach hat to protect your hair from the sun, will turn one more trick in your favor!
