OF THE JUNGLE

by Fred Toyer

ILL WITH FEVER, JULIAN IS RUSHED TO MISSIONARY DOCTORS THROUGH A DANGEROUS JUNGLE BY HIS PARENTS. ON THE WAY THE MOTHER BECOMES ILL... WHILE THEY REST, MO-LA-KA SMELLS THE ODOR OF A DEADENED LION... A LION HUNGRY FOR A KILL!

MO-LA-KA SPEEDILY PLACES HIS WIFE AND CHILD IN A NEARBY CAVE AND ROLLS A BOULDER ACROSS THE ENTRANCE.

HE THEN TURNS TO FACE THE JUNGLE'S MOST FEROCIOUS KILLER. PREVIOUS SCENES GREATLY PROTECTING HIS FAMILY, SEPARATE HIM FROM HIS MAIN WEAPONS!

THE LION ROARS ITS MIGHTY BATTLE CRY THAT USUALLY RENDERS HIS VICTIMS... MAN OF BEAST, PARALYZED IN FEAR, MO-LA-KA IS NEITHER PANIC STRICKEN NOR MADE SPEECHLESS.

AS THE LION HURLS ITS HUGE BULK AT MO-LA-KA, THE MAN SHOTS HIS OWN CHILLING LASER SPRINGS TO THE SIDE, STARTLED, THE LION MISSES HIS MARK BY INCHES!

INSTEAD OF BREAKING THE BACK OF THE MAN WITH ONE POWERFUL LEAP, THE LION FINDS HIS VICTIM ASTIRIDE HIS OWN BACK... A MIGHTY BAND OF STEEL-LIKE MUSCLE CLAMPS AGAINST HIS VITAL WINDPIPE!

BUT THIS IS NO ONE-SIDED FIGHT AS MO-LA-KA BATTLES TO CHOKE THE LION HE IS PAINFULLY CLAWED AND BATTERED THE POWERFUL ANIMAL TRIES TO BRING HIM IN RANGE OF HIS DECISIVE, SABRE-LINED JAWS!

JORAN

ABOVE THE BATTLE CAN NOW BE HEARD JULIAN'S CRY. BESIDE HIM LIES HIS MOTHER... STILL NO LONGER DOES HE FEEL HER TOUCH... SOMEHOW HE KNOWS HE IS ALONE!

NEXT WEEK: Warrior's End!

Casual Or Formal Wood Paneling Is Versatile

This traditional and contemporary style is coordinated by Weyerhaeuser Forestlog Pecan paneled walls, French chateau style sets off fine Regence desk and chair and a collection of treasured bronzes and porcelain. Warm paneling contrasts elegantly with curtains and rugs (both green). Inspired by classic French, this room freely introduces furnishings from other periods.

Take a room, panel it with wood, and use it as a family room or den. It immediately assumes a casual and relaxed atmosphere. Now take the same paneling and use it in a formal living room. Your finest furniture and accessories take on a beauty that is heightened by the graciousness of the setting.

Wood, the universal material, adapts readily to any design. It employs nature's own colors and patterns, so it never clashes with man-made fabrics and color schemes.

What kind of paneling should you choose? A large manufacturer such as Weyerhaeuser Company offers over 50 different species and color tones. Each paneling is unique and individual, with its own distinct character, but each will blend with and enhance any decor you like.

Feel free to develop your own style. You might begin by taking a look at your furniture and decorative accessories. Collectively, they give an accurate picture of what you like and feel at home with.

Keep this picture in mind whenever you acquire new possessions. If they look right with each other (and your choices need not be governed by any one style), they'll look right when seen against the perennially flattering background of wood.

There's a practical side of wood, too. Hardwood paneling produced by Weyerhaeuser is factory pre-finished to protect the surface from abuse, wear and tear. Maintenance is reduced to a minimum. Your walls will last the life of your home and never require anything more than a wipe with a damp cloth.

For more paneling and decorating ideas, you may secure a 20-page full-color booklet, "Decorating with Paneling", by sending 50c to Weyerhaeuser Company, Box B 4238, Tacoma, Wash. 98401.

AT HOME
THE LOUNGING PAJAMA OF 1917 WAS THE FORE-RUNNER OF TODAY'S GLAMOROUS HOSTESS PAJAMAS.

IN THE VICTORIAN ERA OF TORTUROUS WASP-WAIST CORSETS, WOMEN WERE INCINED TO REMOVE THEM WHENEVER POSSIBLE. THEREFORE, AMONG WOMEN OF FASHION, THE CORRECT THING FOR HOME WEAR WAS A TEA GOWN, FOR IT COULD BE WORN WITHOUT A GIRDLE.

THE FLAPPER WASN'T ALWAYS BOYISH. THE LOOSE FITTING BOUDOIR GOWN SHE WORE IN THE EVENING TO RELAX IN WAS OFTEN FASHIONED IN A FILMY FABRIC THAT DRAPED GRACEFULLY AROUND HER. TODAY'S ROMANTIC DRESSING GOWN IS THE DESCENDANT OF THE 1920'S BOUDOIR GOWN SHOWN.

Six Members of Senior Citizens Club Honored in June Event

Six members of the Senior Citizens Club of St. Titus Church, with June birthdays, the Church mmm bobberod gave the club an indoor picnic at the Parrish House of the Church Wednesday, June 14. The six honorees were: Mme. Hallie Baines, Lillian Buchanan, Effie Cotton, Mamie Dawson, Sadie Postles and Addie Williams. Other members brought birthday remembrances for the six.

On a long table were placed one of Mrs. Williams' inimitable pound cakes and a beautiful spice cake with white icing, baked by Mrs. Baines' niece, Mrs. Josephine Simmons. Fried chicken, rolls, pimento cheese sandwiches, potato salad, fruit punch flowing abundantly, ice cream, pickles and candies were furnished by the others. Mrs. Cotton and Mrs.

Dawson had been the other cooks.

Members served themselves from the table and sat about in picnic style. Mrs. Baines' niece who brought the cake stayed for a while and helped with the preparations. The four little grand children of Mrs. Williams—Dean, Mark, Karen, and Joyce—who had been invited came with kisses for everyone—chocolate kisses. They very helpfully and expertly distributed the gifts.

Besides the six honorees, the following members were present: Misses Iola Allen and Bertie Sowell, Mesdames Geneva

New Three-in-One Kitchen

The family that fears a major remodeling project to have an ultra modern kitchen should take heed of a three-in-one kitchen plan. It enables you to install an under-counter automatic dishwasher, add a food waste disposer and an Instant-Hot water dispenser at the same time... all in an area of 48" and without the mess and cost of complete remodeling. Or you can install an electric combination dishwasher-sink with cabinet and work surface plus the two added time-saving appliances.

Introduced by The Hobart Manufacturing Company of Troy, Ohio, the system features the newest automatic dishwasher, an Instant-Hot water dispenser (shown at right edge of sink) which provides "teakettle" hot water, up to 190 degrees, at the turn of a knob for preparing instant foods and beverages.

The food waste disposer features a "drop in place" starting control and an electronic direction control which makes the unit virtually jam-proof. The disposer grinds away all unsightly food waste quickly and quietly to keep food preparation area neat and clean all day long.

The color variety of the kitchen plan is endless, with a wide variety of under-counter dishwasher fronts available to blend with any kitchen decor.

The entire "no remodeling" three-in-one plan is merchandised by the company's KitchenAid Dishwasher Division.

How Smart is Your Cat ?

No dumb bunny is the domestic cat. This one displays her contempt for the I.Q. of a rabbit friend.

NEW YORK (CFN) — If you have a cat, chances are you have often wondered just how intelligent your pet really is. It is a question that has troubled psychologists for decades and one that remains largely unanswered.

More is known about the intelligence of dogs, apes, monkeys and elephants. When placed in laboratory intelligence testing situations cats often prove to be altogether uncooperative subjects, according to scientists at the Purina Cat Care Center.

In a classroom test, a cat was placed in a box that had a latch on the front door. A pan of food was placed beside the door. Was puss smart enough to undo the latch and open the door to get to the food? She was much too smart to be bothered with such elaborate procedure. By extending one leg, she pulled the pan against the cage and calmly raked the food inside the box.

A cat named Ace also vexed the students. Ace was provided with incentive, in the form of food beyond paw reach, to get out of a box by operating a pulley attached to the door. Ace spent 28 minutes in the box. For 25 minutes, Ace sat still, content to look around and wash himself. Two minutes were spent in happy play.

Similar tests by other researchers suggest that cats are too intelligent to show off like monkeys, be led down blind alleys like mice in a maze, or panicked into bolting toward foods like so many hungry dogs.

As a result of this intelligence—or indifference—on the part of the cat, science has, more often than not, wound up chasing its own tail.
