

CONVENTION ATTENDANTS —Shown at the Seagram Distillers Company hospitality suite at the recent convention of the National Newspaper Publishers' Association in Cleveland are (from left): W. O. Walker, publisher of the Cleveland CALL POST; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley; Carl Moore, Seagram's Control States division field assistant; and Ron Hamilton, Seagram's Ohio sales representative.

Hollywood Happenings

By WALTER BURRELL
As Indians go, Rodd Redwing, full-blooded Chick-a-saw from New York City, is certainly one of the most noteworthy to be found. If you're a fan of the shoot-'em-ups, then you've probably seen him hundreds of times biting the dust as the cavalry comes riding to the rescue.

However, if you're Sammy Davis, Jr., Gary Cooper, Elvis Presley, Glenn Ford, Jerry Lewis, Henry Fonda, Marlon Brando, Frank Sinatra, Burt Lancaster, Dean Martin, Richard Widmark or Ronald Reagan, then you went to him for shooting lessons. For those are only a few of the noted actors he's shown how to handle a gun.

You see, Rodd Redwing is no ordinary cigar store Indian; he's considered the fastest man with a pistol in the world and is also the top gun coach in Hollywood.

Rodd's current assignment is coaching Don Knotts and Barbara Rhoades in the comedy-western, "The Shkiest Gun in the West." Not that Barbara is the first woman to seek his services — Barbara Stanwyck, Claire Bloom, Ruta Lee and Nancy Kovak strapped on guns under his critical guidance also.

"Actually," notes Rodd "women are much faster when it comes to learning how to handle sidearms. They're less clumsy and can control their hands easier than men. The problem they usually have is the weight of the gun. A six shooter is after all a pretty heavy piece of equipment."

Though Rodd was born in New York City, both his parents were natives of Oklahoma. His mother, Lillian Redwing, was the inspiration for the song, "Red Wing," written in 1907 by Kerry Mills. His Aunt, Princess Redwing, was the Indian girl in Cecil B. DeMille's first movie, "The Squaw Man," which was made in 1912. Rodd has himself worked in every DeMille film since "Squaw Man," with the exception of "The Greatest Show On Earth." "As a boy in New York," recalls Redwing, "I was made quite aware of the stereotypes applied to various groups, especially to members of minority races. I became fascinated by weapons of the Old West, especially the bow, but I got to the point where I wasn't satisfied with a mastery of archery."

CONGRATULATIONS — (New Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, 2nd from left, congratulates the new postmaster of New York City, John R. Strachan, right, immediately following Strachan's swearing-in as personnel head of the world's largest post office — New York. Mr. O'Brien is joined by Postmasters Leslie N. Shaw, left, Los Angeles, and Henry W. McGee, 2nd from right, of Chicago. Postmasters McGee and Shaw head, respectively, the second and third largest post offices in the United States. Postmaster Strachan, a career employee with a background of over a quarter of a century of postal service, is the 32nd Postmaster to head the New York office.

UNCF Gets Grant of $165,000 from IBM Corp.

NEW YORK—The United Negro College Fund this week received a grant of $165,000 from the International Business Machines Corporation to help strengthen faculties and improve the level of instruction at the Fund's 33 member colleges and universities.

In announcing receipt of the grant, Dr. Stephen J. Wright, the Fund's president, noted that the entire sum will be used to help qualified teachers expand their field of knowledge through advanced study, research and writing.

The award will enable about 45 faculty members to engage in doctoral and post-doctoral training and research during the next three years. Seventeen teachers from 11 of the Fund's member colleges have already received fellowship appointments for the 1967-68 academic year.

Those named as recipients of this year's IBM fellowships are: Dorothy D. Boone and Lela R. Hankins of Bennett College, Greensboro; Robert E. Masingale and Thelma Thompson, Bishop College, Dallas, Texas; Harold W. Conley, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.; Vincent Kohler, LeMoyn College, Memphis, Tenn.; Alan E. Farley and Corrie S. Hope, Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.; Charles M. Bell, Morris Brown College, Atlanta, Ga.; Esther E. Osborne, Oakland College, Huntsville, Ala.; Alandus C. Johnson and Richard E. Stenhouse, Paine College, Augusta, Ga.; Cyril E. Griffith St. Paul's College, Lawrenceville, Va.; Berthea L. Butler, Spelman College, Atlanta, Ga.; and Robert K. Jones, Paul L. Wall and Thelma Washington, Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala. The IBM Faculty Fellowship Program is the second to be administered by the United Negro College Fund. The first, initiated in 1964 and completed last June, enabled 43 individuals to pursue graduate studies at 28 institutions throughout the United States.

Institutions affiliated with the Fund employ nearly 2500 faculty members. Forty percent have doctoral degrees, and 48 percent possess master's degrees.

Power always establishes itself through service and perishes through abuse. —Duruy

NAACP LAUNCHES NATION-WIDE DRIVE — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Executive Director Roy Wilkins, right, discusses with newsmen the nationwide drive launched recently by his civil rights organization to gain one million signatures from NAACP members and the general public to support enactment of the 1967 civil rights bills. Emphasizing the need for additional civil rights legislation this year, Mr. Wilkins pointed to the long list of civil rights murders committed in the South where "no one has been convicted in these crimes." Mr. Wilkins said the nationwide visits by NAACP delegates to Washington during debate on the legisla-

STAY AWAKE ITCHING?
Let doctor's formula stop it. Zemo speeds soothing relief to externally caused itching of eczema, minor rashes, skin irritations, non-poisonous insect bites. Desensitizes nerve endings. Kills millions of surface germs, aids healing. "De-itch" skin with Zemo, Liquid or Ointment. Quick relief, or your money back!

Non-Whites Score Gain In Education

WASHINGTON — Non-white women and men have made significant progress in raising their level of educational development over the past quarter of a century according to figures released by the Labor Department's Women's Bureau.

The average years of school completed by nonwhite women and men 25 years of age and over in March 1966 were 9.6 years and 8.8 years, respectively. The averages in April 1940 were 6.1 and 5.4 years.

An even greater advance was seen among nonwhite women and men 25 to 29 years of age. In March 1966 the average years of school completed by women in this age group was 11.9 years; by men, 12.1 years. In contrast, the average years of school completed by women and men 25 to 29 years of age in April 1940 were 7.5 years and 6.5 years, respectively.

Another measure of the continuing increase in the level of education achieved by the nonwhite population is the rising proportion of the population 5 to 19 years of age enrolled in school.

In 1966, 87 out of 100 non-white girls in this age group were enrolled in school. The ratio for nonwhite boys was 90 out of 100.

CHAMBERLIN HONOR ROLL

Pupils making first honor roll at Chamberlin Studio are: Kenneth Gilliard, Sheila Gunn, Quinton Hart, Ludline Hubbard, Harold McCoy, Annette Page, Jacqueline Rowell, and Rosiland Thomas.

Making second honor roll are: Michelle Allison, Elaine Artis, Sheila Brown, Marie Brandon, Dawn Clayton, Joyce Clement, Cassandra Clayton, Christy Clayton, Thaliss Eaton, Shirley Ferrell and Karen Griffin.

You'll go better refreshed with ice-cold Coca-Cola. Coke has the taste you never get tired of. Always refreshing. That's why things go better with Coke after Coke after Coke.

Bottled under the authority of The Coca-Cola Company by:

DURHAM COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO

things go better with Coke

Give them something to talk about for their anniversary.

What better way to say "Happy Anniversary"? An extension phone is a thoughtful gift she'll really enjoy. Choose from a variety of styles and colors. Call our Business Office and give the gift that says it all.

GENERAL TELEPHONE
A Member of the GTE Family of Companies