

THE SMALLEST—(Fort Ord, Calif.)—Like many buck privates after first taste of army training, Robert Clifford Daly has concluded the infantry isn't for him. "My legs get tired on long marches trying to keep in step," lamented 19-year-old Daly. The leading candidate for the smallest man in the army is two inches shy of being five feet tall. Standing alongside 6-ft., 6-in. SSG Lawrence Reeves emphasizes Daly's diminutive stature. He enlisted in Denver, Colo., with hopes of becoming a tunnel rat in Vietnam but the army decided he should first receive training at Ft. Ord boot camp. The army has now reassigned him to Ft. Benning, Ga., where he will become airborne and not foot-weary.

North Carolina Garden Times

By M. E. GARDNER
N. C. State University

It will soon be bulb planting time. How do you rate bulbs in your garden? Many think that no flowers are more welcome than those produced by bulbs because they appear early in the spring and continue to bloom until golden bell and other early flowering shrubs take over. They are comparatively easy to grow and are adapted to so many situations around the home—in the garden, in the flower borders and naturalized among trees or other suitable locations.

The soil should be well prepared. This may be done by deep spading or with a tiller. Work in organic matter along with fertilizer. Peat moss is good or well decomposed compost.

It is rather difficult to make fertilizer recommendations because the kind and amount applied will depend upon the general physical condition of your soil and whether it is light or heavy. A suggestion or two might help.

Bone meal is good. Use about four pounds per 100 square feet. Use the same amount of dolomitic limestone and work both into the soil to a depth of at least six inches.

A complete fertilizer is always good because you have a better plant food balance. The most commonly used mixture is 8(N)-8(P)-8(K). Use a liberal sprinkling of 8-8-8 over the area to be planted, also a liberal sprinkling of dolomitic limestone. Incorporate with soil as suggested for bone meal.

There is good reason for deep placement of fertilizer because calcium and phosphorus do not move readily in the soil. For this reason plants cannot absorb these two important nutrient elements unless they are placed in the root zone.

Dolomitic limestone is recommended because it contains magnesium. This element is essential for satisfactory plant growth because it has much to do with the manufacture of chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in leaves.

The depth of planting will depend upon the kind of bulb. A general rule is to cover the bulbs with soil to a depth equal to three times the diameter of the bulb. The exact depth is not a matter of too much concern because a variation of an inch or two will do no great harm.

Plant a little deeper than suggested in very sandy soils and not so deep in the heavy clays.

Yes, We All Talk

By MARCUS H. BOULWARE
THE NEW PRESIDENT

Question: As a newly elected club president, please outline how I should proceed to master parliamentary law?—B. A. N.

Answer: First, get a simple book on parliamentary law and study it. Next, reserve a brief practice period at each business meeting. Third, prepare yourself a chart of notions arranged according to precedence. For example, the questions should include:

1. Can the motion interrupt a speaker?
2. Does it require a second?
3. Is it debatable?
4. What vote is required to pass it?
5. If lost, may it be proposed a second time?
6. What other motions may be applied to it?

Readers: For my Parliamentary Chart of Motions, send 30 cents to Dr. M. H. Boulware, Division of Speech Pathology and Audiology, Tennessee State A. & I. University, 3500 Centennial Boulevard, Nashville, Tennessee. I have moved to Tennessee.
