"Home for the holidays" takes on added meaning this year with the news that special rates on handy rental cars are being offered.

Hertz Rent A Car suggests you check your local auto rental location to find out what bargains are available, both in your home area and at your holiday destination.

Rental cars are playing a growing part in making holidays more enjoyable. Hertz reports, thanks to the mobility and convenience they provide. For example, many families are using rental cars in these ways:

- If they own a compact, they rent a full-size car to take the whole family wherever they're going in comfort.

- If they have a large family, they choose a station wagon to accommodate everybody... plus packages.

- If they're visiting down south, they fly in and reserve an air conditioned car waiting at the destination airport.

- If they want to make a real splash on a home visit, they rent a luxury or sports car.

- If there are people on their gift list who "have everything," they give the use of a Hertz car, anywhere in the U.S. or more than 100 other countries, via an attractive gift certificate.

- If they have special holiday chores—bringing home a tree from the country, for instance—they rent a special vehicle to meet their need.

- And, if they're planning a ski holiday, they can get one of Hertz' "skierized" cars, complete with ski racks, snow tires or chains and ice scraper, all at no extra cost.

One way or another, the rental car is becoming a permanent holiday feature. Hertz reports, by adding the pleasure of convenient and comfortable transportation to the rest of the season's joys.

Take a deep breath, girls—and bypass the potatoes! The belt is back—and that means even the slimmest of us is going to have to become a waist watcher again! Fashion said it had to happen. What's gone up has always come down (hemlines will be next) and what swings out always gets squeezed back in. Which brings us back to the belt. Heralded as a return to the romantic, this "prettygirl" revival is influencing everything from ready-to-wear to curly-que hair. Glenhaven's belted great coat is a stunning example of the new silhouette. Like so many of today's fashions, this coat is made of a COIN bonded fabric in order to weather even the most wicked winter, beautifully. COIN is the trademark for a quality controlled method of joining two fabrics together permanently. What does quality control mean to you? It means that you can dry clean your garment without worry. Your dry cleaner will tell you that a COIN bonded fabric is a "no problem" fabric. Look for the hangtag when assembling your winter wardrobe. And while you're getting things into shape, don't forget about yourself. Nothing is better grounds for redistributing pounds than the belt!

GM, Union Start Talks On Contract

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers, with Ford and Chrysler new contracts all wrapped up, moved on to General Motors Monday with indications that automation and use of computers would be major problems.

UAW officials distributed a 24-page release in which they accused GM of trying to remove some auto jobs from UAW category by putting them into computerized fields with white collar, nonunion workers.

GM vice president labor relations Louis G. Seaton had told newsmen earlier Monday as he emerged from a preliminary meeting with the UAW that he was optimistic.

Seaton said, "GM is well aware of the economic dimensions of the Ford and Chrysler
