19 MODELS PARTICIPATE IN THE DAUGHTERS OF ISIS FASHION SHOW

Nineteen models participated in the Total Look in Fashions, Sunday evening, November 26 at the Craftsman's Lounge. Mesdames Minnie T. Forte, Cleo Hooks, and Harriette Armstrong represented the Well-dressed Daughters of Isis in full regalia. Each order modeled an after five poire de soire coat and dress, street attire, and formal attire. Mrs. Hazel

Smith represented the Woman on the Go in a smart black and white suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Mary Prince wore a pale yellow plaid walking suit, yellow hat, and black accessories. Mrs. Blanche Parham modeled a gold metallic tunic with gold shoes and accessories. A navy mini dress trimmed with green fringe was worn by Miss Mary E. Wilder.

Central State U. Faculty Affirms Support of President Groves

WILBERFORCE, OHIO—We the faculty at Central State University wish to make known to our students and their parents, our friends and the general public our position in the present emergency in which the Board of Trustees and the Administration found it necessary to close the University, temporarily.

We hereby affirm our support of President Harry E. Groves and his administration in its attempts to develop and maintain a climate conducive to academic excellence for all who seriously seek such excellence. As a scholar in his own right, he has contributed greatly to the intellectual atmosphere of this university.

It has been the concern of the President and the faculty to maintain the high standards and heritage of the past in planning educational programs at this institution for all students regardless of race, color, or creed and to direct students in their efforts to resolve problems of contemporary life. We are cognizant of the fact that the major task of the University lies in contributing to the development of each person involved in the educational adventure of our times.

Despite the weaknesses and inadequacies in many aspects of the American way of life, we reaffirm our faith in democracy. We have considered our program at Central State University an opportunity to develop the skills and habits as well as attitudes and behaviors considered requisite for the experience of living in a democratic society. We concur with President Groves in his convictions that:

Freedom of speech, which includes the spoken word, the written word and even actions such as marching is a democratic tradition both respected and upheld by this University. Violence, threats, intimidation and interfering with the lawful rights of others are not a part of anybody's rights and will not be condoned by this University.

We believe that the majority of our students feel the same way. We, the faculty, support the Board and the President in their beliefs that there is no justification for second-class or second-rate goals or processes or content in planning and implementing the educational program of this university. We believe that each student at the University should have the opportunity to enter the mainstream of society without handicap.

We eagerly await the reopening of the University and the return of gown; Algeria Hardy, a light green long gown with an attached long lace train; Jackie Lucier, a long empire waist pink satin gown covered with pink lace with matching accessories; and Mrs. Gertrude Ratliff, an elegant taffeta covered with lace, all white with a flat bow in the back. Other forthcoming events include the Illustrious Commandress Ball, Past Illustrious Commandress Luncheon, and a Benefit Ball for charity.

LES FLEUR GARDEN CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. GENEVA DILLARD MON., NOV. 20

The Les Fleur Garden Club held its regular meeting at the lovely spacious home of Gardener Geneva Dillard on Barbee Road on Monday night, November 20. The home was beautifully decorated with Fall Flowers. The garden gate was opened with the singing of a song "Come Ye Thankful People Come." Accompanist was Miss Wanda Faye Dillard. The "Lord's Prayer" was repeated in unison and the singing of the club song "Thank God For a Garden" followed.

The meeting was opened for business by Gardener Lydia F. Wray, president. After the business session, Gardener Thorpe gave a very interesting discussion on "Birds in My Garden." Gardener Naomi Thorpe presented a lovely arrangement of flowers that was on display at Durham Business College, made by Gardeners Mason and Thorpe, to Gardener Dillard since this was the first time the club had met with her in her new home. The members also surprised her with some lovely and useful gifts for the new home.

Gardener Dillard served a very tasty repast to the following: Gardeners Mary H. Smith, Mary W. Byrd, Ruby B. Philyaw, Eleanor B. Floyd, Naomi W. Thorpe, Emma Cox, Lottie M. Mason, Mozella McLaughlin, Maggie M. Vass, Lyda F. Wray, Clara P. Perkins and Geneva E. Dillard.
