Special on Negro Soldier to Be Aired Dec. 1

NEW YORK — "Same Mdd, Same Blood," a close-up study of the Negro soldier in Vietnam, will be presented as an NBC News one-hour special program in color, Friday, December 1 (10-11 p.m. NYT) on the NBC Television Network. Announcement of the program was made this week by Donald Meaney, Vice President, NBC

News. NBC News correspondent Frank McGee who spent nearly a month in the field with Negro troops, under combat conditions (more than any other major correspondent has to date), will be the reporter and writer on the program. Said Mr. McGee, "I've been in this business for 22 years, and this has been, without question, the most rewarding experience I've ever had."

The special documentary is produced for NBC News by Elliot Frankel.

On the question of race relations in Vietnam, the special program will answer such questions as: Has the white soldier completely accepted the Negro soldier as an equal? As a leader of men, has the Negro gained the respect of those who serve under his command?

Of active American troops in combat, about 20 per cent are Negro. Of noncommissioned officers active in combat, half are Negro. In drawing the portrait of the Negro soldier in Vietnam, Mr. McGee and a film crew lived nearly a month in the field with the 1st Platoon, C Company, 2nd Battalion, 327th Infantry, 1st Brigade, of the 101st Airborne Division, which has an outstanding combat record. Actual combat scenes of Negro and white members of the 1st Platoon in action in enemy territory, will be shown on the program, as well as close-up studies of the men of the 1st Platoon living together as a unit.

Mr. McGee talked at length with Platoon Sgt. Lewis B. Larry of Chicago, a Negro, who in his 12 years of military service in the States, Europe and Vietnam, has run the gamut of military experiences.
