Rams, Aggies, Norfolk State Leading Squads In '67-68 CIAA Basketball Championship Race

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Even though the fabulous Earl Monroe is gone from Winston-Salem's basketball team that zipped to a 30-1 record last season, don't dismiss the Rams as a contender for this season's CIAA (Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association) title.

"Gaines (C.E. Gaines, the Ram's coach) must always be considered a contender," said one of the coaches in the 18 member conference which begins play on December 1st. "He's also the shrewdest recruiter around," said another opponent, "and he'll have a good team."

A pre-season survey of the league indicates that this may be one of the closest races ever, with A&T, hot shooting Norfolk State, mentioned most often as the teams to beat.

After that, it's take your pick from Howard University, Maryland State, Johnson C. Smith and Hampton Institute, all with some of the strongest teams they have had in recent years.

A&T is a pre-season favorite on the strength of four returning starters. Coach Cal Irvin begins his 14th season as the Aggie's coach with ace rebounder Ted Campbell, the tourney's Most Valuable Player; slick ball handlers Soapy Adams and Carl Hubbard and George Mack. Irvin has picked up All-Army performer 6-6 Lonnie Klutz to round out his starters.

Each club lost one of its top scorers by fouls during the regulation game. Joseph Pridgen collected his fifth foul with 7:20 showing on the clock and left the game with 16 points. Virginia State's Reginald Roach picked up his fifth foul with 3:20 remaining in the contest and left with 22 points, high for the Trojans.

Lenon led the NCC scoring with 22 points. All-CIAA center Lee Davis scored only 12 points, but led both teams with 22 rebounds. Rose added 10 points for the Eagles who will travel to Charlotte Monday to meet Johnson C. Smith University.

Coach Floyd Brown's Eagles scored the first basket of the game when Davis hit a jump shot, but the Trojans tied the count at 6-6 with 16:30 showing on the clock.

The homesteaders enjoyed their biggest lead of the first 20 minutes at 33-25 with 47 seconds remaining in the half and carried a 33-37 lead to the dressing room at halftime.

After NCC jumped to a 52-43 margin with 10 minutes remaining in the game, Virginia State outscored the Eagles, 13-6, during a five-minute stretch to narrow the gap to 58-56.

Four Locals Score in Double Figures in Turning Back Bulls

CHARLOTTE—North Carolina College's Eagles posted their second close Central Intercollegiate Athletic Conference win in a row here Monday night as four eagles scored in double figures to help edge J. C. Smith Bulls 89-82.

NCC outpointed Virginia State, 68-66 in overtime Saturday.

Against the Smith Golden Bulls, Paris Lenon netted 21 points, Billy Rose, 20, Joe Pridgen, 19, and Lee Davis, 16, to pace the Eagles.

Behind 42-37 going into the second half, the Golden Bulls went into a full court press that staggered the visitors and Smith pulled into a 64-64 tie with nine and a half minutes to go.

But the Eagles, who never resorted to drastic pressure tactics, pulled away as Lenon, 6-4 senior forward, and Rose, sophomore guard, bagged 10 and eight points, respectively, in the remainder of the game to keep NCC out of the fire.

Both teams suffered from foul trouble as Davis, NCC's 6-8 center, drew his fourth personal, with 17 minutes left to play.

Smith's big man, 6-7 Wilton Enoch, also was hobbled by foul trouble. Davis committed his fifth personal with 10 seconds left in the contest.

The loss was the Golden Bulls' first against no wins.

NCC's next test is against Shaw Bears in Raleigh on Saturday night.

Another Must Game for Rams

LOS ANGELES—Week after week, Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams has been saying: "We've got to do it ourselves. We can't depend on anyone else doing it for us."

So the Rams head into another ultra-crucial game here Saturday with the world champion Green Bay Packers, a contest which will be televised nationally.

Los Angeles must win or forget about a division conference or "AFL championship." At least that is the sound reasoning of Allen and the Rams because none of them expect a miracle from the New Orleans Saints in their visit Sunday to Baltimore to play the unbeaten Colts, who are one game in front of the Rams in the Coastal Division.

Green Bay has already nailed down the top spot in the Central Division and is set to meet either Baltimore or the Rams at Milwaukee Dec. 23 for the Western Conference title.

A Ram victory over Green Bay would then bring the division struggle right down to the final game of the regular season with Johnny Unitas and the Colts here Dec. 17.

BARBER SCOTIA DOWNS MORRIS BROWN CAGERS

NAMED TO ALL-STATE TEAM—Senior Elvin Bethea, captain of A&T's football team, continues to pile up honors as he terminates a brilliant four-year career. Bethea was recently named to the All-State team picked by the Greensboro Daily News. He also played in the first Annual East-West Shrine Bowl in Raleigh. Bethea is being courted by several pro teams.

junior year, Virginia Union could wind up among the leaders. St. Augustine's has eight returnees from last season, including 6-4 Johnnie Lockett who averaged 22.9 points a year ago and 6-7 Ray Gilmore, one of the top rebounders in the league.

Shaw, Morgan, Livingstone, Fayetteville, Virginia State, and St. Paul, may prove troublesome in spots but will battle mainly for the six places in the standings.

Biedenbach, Serdich Set State Pace

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — A eight-point spurt early in the second half got State on its way to a 75-62 over Maryland here

Wednesday night as Coach Norm Sloan's team won its second straight Atlantic Coast Conference contest.

Joe Serdich, Eddie Biedenbach, Bill Mauresdes and Bill Kreter were all in double figures, but it was junior guard Dick Braucher who led the surge that put the wolfpack on top by a decisive margin.

With State leading 42-40 and 16 minutes to go, Braucher poured through six straight points and Mauresdes added two to give the Wolfpack a 50-40 advantage six minutes deep in the second half.
