

Buz Sawyer

By Roy Crane

EXCELLENT! 500-FOOT DEPTH WITH A SHARP DROP-OFF AT 550.

WHEN A REMOTE-CONTROLLED UNDERWATER TV SCANS THE SITE.

PERFECT LOCATION!

THE SUPPORT SHIP NEPTUNE IS SECURELY MOORED AT THE FOUR CORNERS AND THE SAWYERS HOME FOR THE COMING WEEKS IS LOWERED INTO THE OCEAN.

THE BALLAST TANKS ARE PARTLY FILLED WITH WATER AND THE HABITAT IS LOWERED INTO THE GLOOMY DEPTHS

OKAY, LET HER GO.

AS IT SETTLES ON THE OCEAN FLOOR, ITS POSITION IS FLASHED TO THE NEPTUNE ABOVE BY CLOSED-CIRCUIT TV

IT'S SECURELY ON THE BOTTOM. OKAY, AQUANAUTS, INTO YOUR DIVING GEAR. TIME TO GO DOWN!

THEY CLOSE THE HATCH. ATMOSPHERIC PRESSURE IS INCREASED AS A CRANE SLOWLY LOWERS THE 5 AQUANAUTS TO THE MURKY DEPTHS 500 FEET BELOW.

WELL, LET'S GO, PEPPER. INTO THE PTC ELEVATOR.

GEE, DAD I'M KINDA NERVOUS.

I'M SURE WE ALL ARE. SON, NO ONE HAS EVER BEFORE LIVED AT A DEPTH OF 500 FEET.

IT TAKES AN HOUR FOR THE AQUANAUTS TO GET INTO THEIR HOT-WATER-HEATED "UNDERWEAR" AND WET SUITS.

THE PTC (PERSONNEL TRANSFER CAPSULE) SETTLES ON THE OCEAN FLOOR. THE HATCH OPENS AND THE AQUANAUTS SWIM TO THE HABITAT...

...AND POP UP INSIDE THROUGH THE WELL IN THE BOTTOM.

I STILL MARVEL THAT THE WATER DOESN'T COME INSIDE!

AW, MOM, THAT'S BECAUSE THE ATMOSPHERIC PRESSURE INSIDE IS EQUAL TO THE WATER PRESSURE OUTSIDE.

WATER, ELECTRICITY, EVERYTHING OKAY.

BRRR! I'M COLD!

AW, MOM, OUR HABITAT'S HEATED TO 91 DEGREES. YOU FEEL COLD BECAUSE BODY HEAT ESCAPES IN OUR ATMOSPHERE THAT'S MOSTLY HELIUM.

THINK OF IT! 500 FEET BELOW THE SURFACE OF THE OCEAN... YET ALL THE CONVENIENCES OF HOME.

SURE, ELECTRICITY, TELEPHONE, STOVE, REFRIGERATOR, FRESH-WATER SHOWERS! EVEN A TV!

BUZ CHECKS THE ALL-IMPORTANT UMBILICAL CABLES THAT LINK THE HABITAT WITH THE SUPPORT SHIP 500 FEET ABOVE.

HOW ABOUT SOME LUNCH, CHRISTY?

OKAY, BUT NOTHING FRIED. NO WAY TO REMOVE THE SMOKE.

WOW! THE COFFEE'S SCALDING!

THAT'S FUNNY, AGAIN, IT'S THE RAPID HEAT LOSS IN OUR ATMOSPHERE. THAT'S CHIEFLY HELIUM. WATER WON'T BOIL, A MATCH WON'T LIGHT... GOOD TIME TO STOP SMOKING.

WATER, ELECTRICITY, EVERYTHING OKAY.

BRRR! I'M COLD!

HI, NIPPER... HERE'S AN ICE CREAM CONE FOR YOU

HOW ABOUT SOME CANDY, NIPPER OLD BUDDY?

NIPPER, I WANT YOU TO HAVE THESE COOKIES

NEXT TO CHRISTMAS, I THINK I LIKE BROTHERHOOD WEEK THE BEST

HI, CONNIE!

WHY ARE YOU SO UNHAPPY?

I DEVELOPED A BRAND NEW PERSONALITY THIS MORNING...

BUT MY MOTHER MADE ME WASH IT OFF

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP, NIPPER?

I'M NOT GOING TO GROW UP, WELLINGTON!

I DON'T WANT TO RISK BEING PUT THROUGH...

...WHAT I'M PUTTING MY PARENTS THROUGH NOW

Yes, We All Talk

By MARCUS H. BOULWARE

HUMAN BODIES TALK

In delivering a public speech, we have noted that body movement and gestures count often more than do the voice. Yet, the writer does not subscribe wholeheartedly to this philosophy.

In communicating orally, people talk a great deal with their bodies, and not with their voice it is said.

The average person actually speaks 10 to 11 minutes a day, and the rest of the time is spent pouring out information with his eyes, eyebrows, facial expression, body movement, and perhaps best of all by complete silence.

Perhaps the idea of body movement has given great hope in lipreading instructing of the deaf.

AWARD WINNER — Colonel Daniel James, USAF, Vice Commander, one of the recipients of the Freedom Foundation's awards to Armed Forces personnel in active service. Col. James of Pensacola, Florida received an award of $100 and the George Washington Honor Medal. He is listed in the top ten class of the "Letters From Armed Forces Personnel", and one of three awardees from the United States Air Force. Col. James is stationed at San Francisco, California. This announcement was made recently, by Freedom Foundation President, Kenneth D. Wells.

MARINES IN VIET NAM CHOOSE NEW PIN-UP—MODE!

Gloria Ziko is "most photogenic composite of Woman," according to the results of a recent vote by men in the Third Battalion, Eleventh Marines.

The men, stationed in Viet Nam, made their selection after seeing Miss Ziko's picture in a recent ad from Summit Laboratories, Inc., manufacturers of hair care products.

Marines in the Fourth Raider Battalion, also on duty in Viet Nam, wrote Summit after seeing Miss Ziko in the same ad. They would like an autographed photo, they explained, to hang in their company tent. Reason: to boost company morale.

Prediction: More Cold Weather Ahead!

Is Your Car Equipped to GO on Ice or Snow?

If not, it's time to come in and see our New HERCULES TIRES.

Rigsbee Tire Sales can insert carbolid tip studs in Hercules snow tires to give you non-skid protection even on slick icy roads and streets. The cost is nominal and this new concept in safety is approved by the State of North Carolina. Carbolid tipped studs will wear with the rubber, giving you anti-skid protection throughout the life of the tire tread. Get ready for whatever comes... snow or ice—You know we still have a lot of cold weather left. Get Hercules with studs now at either of our two locations.
