Continued from front page with 13 schools, 8 of which were traditionally white and 5 were Negro. It is operating under a desegregation plan based upon residential zones which the LDF says have been gerrymandered to perpetuate segregation.

Again, all of the white students in the system continue to attend the traditionally white schools and 80% of the Negro students continue to attend the traditionally and still all-Negro schools.

These cases thus present, in effect, to the Supreme Court the issue of whether "tokenism" in school integration is sufficient to comply with Brown.

"There is a crisis in human relations in America today. Negroes in this country are demanding that they be accepted for what they are — human beings with rights commensurate with their status as citizens of the United States."

"Our multi-racial society can pursue its dreams in harmonious concord, or it can continue to burn its energy in futile discord. Congress can face the issues boldly and lay down the guidelines for greater cooperation between all members of our society, or it can sidestep the issues, and leave the field open to prejudice and unreason."

"Earlier this week, President Johnson said that race riots in our cities are 'inevitable' this summer and in future years. I am not ready to concede that they are inevitable. Certainly, we must offer constructive alternatives to racial strife."

"Enactment of a fair housing bill will, in itself, not solve all of our problems. But failure to recognize the rights of all our citizens to equal access to decent housing within their means will certainly aggravate those problems."

Continued from front page that readers and staff are hopelessly crowded and services are severely curtailed," he said.

One book is retired to storage now for each book purchased by the library. More than half of the main library's collection is now in storage where books are inaccessible and vulnerable to damage. Only 22 chairs are available in the reading room, although the public school student population of the county now numbers 27,500.

Linder has emphasized that the Stanford L. Warren Library would continue to serve the system as its major branch. "It is well located and equipped for this service," he stated. Terms of the merger of Durham's two library systems, effected in 1966, state that this property must always be used as a library facility.

Linder came to Durham from Spartanburg, S. C., in 1965 on the provision that Durham's Negro and white library systems be merged into one more economical, effective unit. The library staff has been integrated at both the main and Stanford L. Warren facilities.

Trustees of the combined facility include Dr. Benjamin E. Powell, chairman; John E. Wheeler, vice chairman and chairman of the building committee; Dr. W. C. Bennett, Mrs. W. A. Clement, Mrs. Harmon L. Duncan, Ellis D. Jones, Sr., Mrs. E. R. Merrick, E. L. Phillips, Dr. Charles A. Ray, E. T. Rollins, Jr., J. M. Schooler and Mrs. Marshall Spears, Jr.

Cost to the taxpayer of approval of the bond issue will be 1 1/3 cents per $100 valuation of property. The property owner whose house is valued for tax purposes at $10,000 will pay approximately $1.33 annually until bonds are retired.

The permissive tax levy item is a request to set the upper legal limit of taxation for library operation at 10¢ per $100 valuation of property. The present library budget of $256,000 is already equal to a tax of 5 1/2 cents, according to Linder. Any increase in the library budget would still be approved by library trustees and county commissioners and the maximum permitted would be reached only after a period of years in a new library facility, Linder stated.
