White Racism Blamed For Urban Disorders Past 4 Years

Advisory Commission Calls For Halt on Two Societies in U. S.

WASHINGTON—The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders reported to the President and the nation Sunday that Americans must halt a "movement toward two societies—one black, one white—separate and unequal"—in an effort to end urban violence.

In its report on eight months of studies into racial unrest, the 11-member Commission also:

— Asserted that America "cannot—it will not—tolerate coercion and mob rule" and that violence and destruction must be ended "not only in the streets of the ghetto, but in the lives of people."

— Blamed "white racism" for the explosive mixture which culminated in the urban disorders of the last four years, but also condemned black extremists who have stimulated a mood of violence which needs only a spark to set it aflame.

— Outlined courses of action local governments, and the police, to heal a widening breach between the "power structure" and the Negro slum dweller—to open doors that have long been barred to him in the white community.

— Called for far-reaching action—much of it over the next three to five years—in jobs, housing, education and welfare—to bring Negroes out of "ghettos" and into the mainstream of American society. The Commission declared: "This is our basic conclusion. Our nation is moving toward two societies, one black, one white—separate and unequal. The 250,000 word report, signed by all members of the bi-partisan Commission, was completed more than three months in advance of the July 29 deadline which was set by President Lyndon B. Johnson when he established the Commission on that date last year. Members of the Commission are:

Governor Otto Kerner, of Illinois, Chairman; Mayor John V. Lindsay, of New York City, Vice-Chairman; Senator Fred R. Harris, of Oklahoma; Senator Edward W. Brooke, of Massachusetts; Representative James C. Corman, 22nd District, California; Representative William M. McCulloch, 4th District, O.; Charles B. Thornton, Chairman of the Board, Litton Industries, Inc.; Roy Wilkins, Executive Director, NAACP.

I. W. Abel, President, United Steel Workers of America; Miss Katherine Graham Peden, former Commissioner of Commerce of Kentucky; Herbert Jenkins, Chief of Police, Atlanta, Ga.

Telegrams Sent President And Attorney Gen.

FAYETTEVILLE — Three North Carolina Negro organizations have sent telegrams to President Johnson and Attorney General Ramsey Clark requesting that federal registrars be sent into Cumberland County.

They consist of the Fayetteville Area Poor Peoples Group, The Afro-American Students Association of Fayetteville State College and the North Carolina Voter-Education Project of Durham.

They charge the chairman of the Board of Elections in Cumberland County has refused to appoint deputy registrars, saying that if registration is made too easy for certain citizens, they won't vote, causing his office to have to go to the extra work of purging their names from voter rolls.

John Edwards, director of the State Voter-Education Project, has stated he feels that this is in violation of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, and therefore, his group has joined with other organizations in appealing to the president and the

Fuller Delivers Stirring Speech On Black Power at Shaw U.

RALEIGH — Howard Fuller, Director of Training for the Foundation for Community Development, had a Shaw University student-faculty audience so enthralled Friday night with his stirring speech on Black Power that he received a standing ovation at the completion of his 40-minute address in the C. C. Spaulding Gymnasium.

Speaking at a student-faculty assembly, sponsored by the Shaw Players, the dynamic Mr. Fuller said one definition of power is, "The white man sitting up there in Washington making decisions against Blacks." His address was interrupted nine times with applause and he received a standing ovation at the conclusion.

Presently employed as Director of Training for Community Development, Fuller went on to say, "Black people must have the ability to affect decisions that will help them directly. Since the white people are justified in getting what they want through power, why can't the Black man?" he asked. We must demand a real part in deciding what happens in this nation.

"Let's take a look at ourselves politically. When the Legislature comes back to town I want you to put on some dark shades because white reflects light, and the only Black man you'll see down there will be the janitor."

"All of the Boards are dominated by whites," he declared—the Welfare Board, the State Board and especially the Draft Board. As long as a Negro is "responsible" (a "Yes" man to the Caucasians) he is all right as a Board member, but as soon

NCM Pres. Delivers Address On Black Revolution in Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga.—Speaking at the bi-monthly luncheon of the twenty-one year old, interracial HUNGRY CLUB FORUM in Atlanta, today, Joseph W. Goodloe, recently installed president of the NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL Life Insurance Company, stated, "The black revolution has not only liberated Negro business for survival but has fortified it for growth, prosperity and progress in the finest American tradition."

"For more than a decade," he said, "we, at NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL have been struggling with the questions surrounding Negro-operated business. Complex questions like these cannot be answered simply. Although we do not pretend to have all the answers we do feel we have a few, sound answers. And, these form the basic guidelines for

Symposium On 'Black Identity' At NCC Mar. 20

"Black Identity" in its personal, institutional, and social aspects will be the theme of a three-day symposium at North Carolina College, Wednesday through Friday, March 20-22. The symposium sessions, which will convene from 2 to 4:30 p.m. each day in B.N. Duke Auditorium, will feature a position paper by a North Carolina College faculty member and a seminar on a related topic. General assembly sessions will convene at 8 p.m. and will feature prominent leaders.

The theme of the sessions on Wednesday will be "Black Power." The position paper will be by Dr. James Brewer, of the history department. The "Black Power" statement by the National Committee of Negro Churchmen will be the focal point of the seminar. Howard Fuller, a community organizer and the controversial figure in North Carolina's black power movement, will address the general session.

City Garbage Contract May Brew Labor Dispute Here

Last Monday night the Durham City Council listened for four hours to a barrage of arguments against the city administration's proposal to farm out garbage collection to a private firm, Modern Clean-Up Service, Inc., of Oak Ridge, Tenn. The Council voted to delay their decision until Friday. Pessimists say that the contract will be awarded; optimists predict that it will not.

The president of Modern Clean-Up, Robert A. Tooke, acted as a Consultant recent-burg, Florida, when garbage collectors, went on strike there. Tooke brought in workers, some of whom he recruited from Tennessee, without telling them they were going in to be strike breakers. The city hastily ordered anti-riot equipment, fearing the reaction of the strikers; but when the imported workers discovered they'd been hired to break a strike, they faded away and the strike was settled. Tooke did not pay his Tennessee workers' bus fare home, and the city had to do it.

The Council heard Luke Professor Eugene Grueling report on his investigation of Tooke's firm. He found that Modern Clean-Up will double its business if it gets the contract, and it will be charging Durham residents about double what Oak Ridge, Tenn., pays per capita for comparable service. Last week the Durham Morning Herald noted that the budgeted cost of garbage collection for 1967-68 is $250,000 less than Tooke's bid for a year's service.

If the Council refuses to turn over garbage collection to Tooke, an unnecessary public storm is hoped to be avoided.

St. Mark AMEZ To Host DCNA Meet Sunday

The annual meeting of the Durham Committee On Negro Affairs will be held at St. Mark A.M.E. Zion Church, Sunday, March 10 it was announced this week by Dr. C. E. Boulware, executive secretary of the organization.

J. H. Wheeler, chairman of DCNA stated Wednesday he trusts the meeting will be well attended by representatives from all sections of the city in view of the fact that a Primary and a General Election will be held this year.

In addition to the discussion of the political program of the Committee annual reports from all committees of the organization will be had, Dr. Boulware stated.

Following the reports, a discussion of the Primary and General Election will be held with plans being made for a mammoth registration and vote campaign for the entire county.

Inauguration of NCC President Set for Apr. 27

Dr. Albert N. Whiting will be formally inaugurated as president of North Carolina College in ceremonies Saturday, April 27.

The inaugural weekend will begin on Friday with a semi-formal (black tie) art exhibit in the James E. Shepard Memorial Library. Events on the day of the inaugural will include an inaugural luncheon, a concert by the NCC band, an inaugural procession, and a reception for the president.

Special invitations will be mailed to representatives of colleges and universities, to state government officials, to federal officials, to alumni of the college, to prominent citizens of Durham and the state, and to principals of junior and senior high schools.

Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, dean of NCC's graduate school, is general chairman of the event.

Owners of automobiles are the least punctual of all people because they assume they can get anywhere in the city in ten minutes, which is possible if everything favors them, but it never does.

CITIZENS FOR MCCARTHY TO HOLD MEETING

A group composed of Durham residents and Duke University faculty and students today (Tuesday) announced the formation of Durham Citizens for McCarthy.

Patterned after similar organization which have formed recently in Chapel Hill and Raleigh, the new group hopes to express opposition to President Johnson's foreign policy and to channel funds and other help to Eugene McCarthy for his presidential campaign in forthcoming Democratic primaries.

A mass rally and organizational meeting for Senator McCarthy will kickoff the public activities of the new organization Wednesday night. The rally will take place at 8 p.m. in Room 130 of the Sociology building on the Duke University campus.

At this time several of the founders of Citizens for McCarthy will explain why they are backing the Minnesota Senator in his bid for the presidency and how North Carolina residents can participate in his campaign, although no presidential primary is scheduled for the Tarheel state.

Two private organizational meetings have preceded the mass rally. The second of these was attended by more than sixty people, most of whom were Duke faculty and students.

The primary goal of the group is to present a visible organization supporting McCarthy in Durham and to co-operate McCarthy activities in the Durham-Raleigh-Chapel Hill area with previously formed organizations.

Citizens for McCarthy also intends to concentrate on a straw presidential vote to be taken on the Duke campus in April. The poll will be conducted nationally by TIME magazine at a See MCCARTHY, page 8
