LET'S GIVE AGAIN!—(Coffee Brittle) (Coffee Cashew Kisses) —Every season is the time to make and give an assortment of homemade candies and cookies. Coffee Brittle and Coffee Cashew Kisses, both flavored with rich, full-bodied Instant Sanka Coffee, would be a most welcome gift on any occasion.

Let's Give Again

Most think the usual giving season is behind us, but when we stop to think about it seriously, every season is a time for gift giving, whether for birthdays, anniversaries, special occasions, or just to let folks know how much we think of them. One of the nicest types of gift to give or receive is one that is made by the giver. Seems like a little of the person goes along with the gift.

Candies and cookies, the homemade variety, are an excellent way to give a little of oneself when the occasion arises.

This is a collection of extra special recipes. They extend the same warmth to the receiver as that invitation to "Come over for coffee."

Coffee - flavored treats, all made with rich tasting Instant Sanka Coffee, are not only easy to make but attractive and downright good tasting. The recipes range from Coffee Brittle that's crisp and crunchy to Coffee Cashew Kisses that are light, soft, and chewy.

So whether for a student away at school, a "welcome new neighbor," or just a simple "thank you for being you," these homemade sweets will be a most welcome and appreciated gift. Make some soon!

COFFEE CASHEW KISSES
2 egg whites
1-1/3 cups sugar
2 tablespoons instant decaffeinated coffee
1/4 teaspoon salt*

2/3 cup chopped cashew nuts*
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Combine sugar, instant coffee, and salt; gradually add to egg whites, beating well after each addition. Then continue beating until mixture will form stiff, shiny peaks. Fold in cashew nuts and vanilla. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake at 325 degrees about 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes about 3 dozen.
*Omit the salt if salted nuts are used.
