

MRS. ELVIS LEWIS, JR.

Miss Claudine McKenzie Daye Is Bride of Elvis Lewis, Jr.

Miss Claudine McKenzie Daye became the bride of Elvis Lewis, Jr. in a 4 o'clock ceremony Saturday, May 25 at First Calvary Baptist Church.

The Reverend A. L. Thompson officiated. The musicians for the occasion were John H. Gattis, organist and Walter McLean, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Daye of 314 Todd Street. Lewis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Lewis, Sr. of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an empire silk organza gown with a chapel train. The bodice of the gown was embroidered with alcon lace and seed pearls. The front of the gown and the train were embroidered with alcon lace also. The elbow length bridal veil consisted of white satin leaves, surrounded by crystals, and organza bows attached to triple tiered English silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses and feathered carnations centered with orchids.

Miss Sylvia Sharpe of Ossining, New York was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marie Shaw of South Plainfield, New Jersey, Mrs. Doris S. Penn of Wappingers Falls, N. Y., Mmes. Laura B. Smith, Shirlyn R. Stanback and Irma P. Davis of Durham, Miss Annie R. Lewis of Brooklyn, New York, a sister of the groom and Miss Edith Lewis of Miami, Florida, also a sister of the groom. Miss Gloria Mattacks of Durham was the flower girl.

The bridesmaids wore aqua chiffon gowns with empire waist and a back panel of satin. They also wore organza picture hats with self flowers to match their dresses. They carried bouquets of yellow pom poms and roses, tied with a yellow satin ribbon.

Floyd Ferebee of Petersburg, Virginia, was the best man. Ushers were LeRoy Walker, Jr. of Lefrak City, New York, Edward L. Irving of Arlington, Virginia; Eugene Kithcart of Gastonia; Clifton Woods, III of Charlotte; Lee McLean, Charles R. Stanback, Jr. and John N. Smith of Durham.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Voyager Inn.

The bride was an honor graduate of North Carolina College where she was a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. The bride-groom, a member of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity, is an honor graduate of the North Carolina College School of Law.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Nassau. They are now making their home in Charlottesville, Virginia where the groom works in the Regional Attorney's office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Pre-nuptial affairs included a luncheon given by Mrs. Joanna J. Johnson of Raleigh, a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Shirlyn R. Stanback of Durham and an after rehearsal party given at the residence of Marvin Rux.

200 APPETIZING RECIPES FOR THE DIABETIC

Here is news for the diabetic who is tired of dull meals. COOKBOOK FOR DIABETICS, a new paperback book, was a Canadian best-seller; it was just revised and edited for American use by Gavnor Maddox. Originally prepared by the Canadian Diabetic Association with the Ontario Dietetic Association, it was compiled by a panel of experts to provide variety and excitement for the Diabetic's diet in a wide range of dishes from soups and appetizers through main dishes, breads, salads, cakes and other desserts. All of the recipes can be served to the entire family. Here is one of the 200 recipes:

- Mocha Fluff
1 1/2 tbsps. unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 1/2 tbsps. artificial liquid sweetener
2 cups hot, strong coffee
3 tbsps. lemon juice
3 egg whites

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add artificial liquid sweetener, hot coffee and stir until thoroughly dissolved. Add lemon juice. Cool. When nearly set, beat until mixture thickens. Add stiffly beaten egg whites and continue beating until the mixture holds its shape. Serves six.

The "Cookbook for Diabetics" available at local health food and book stores or by sending $2 to Taplinger Publishing Company, Inc., 29 East 10th St., New York, N. Y., 10003, has 199 more tasty treats for diabetics.

MRS. FREDERICK H. BLACK

Miss Sylvia Margaret Sloan Weds Frederick H. Black in Duke Chapel Ceremony Monday Eve.

Miss Sylvia Margaret Sloan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maceo A. Sloan of 2100 Otis St., Durham, and Frederick Harold Black, son of Colonel and Mrs. Gorham L. Black of Woodbridge, Virginia were married Monday in a 6:30 p.m. ceremony in Duke University Chapel.

The Rev. Lorenzo Lynch, Pastor of White Rock Baptist Church, officiated at the wedding. John H. Gattis was at the console of the Chapel's organ while Mrs. Leroy B. Frasier and Mrs. Margaret K. Goodwin were soloists.

In keeping with the cathedral-like setting provided by the Duke University Chapel, The Reverend Mr. Lynch conducted the two distinct parts of the wedding ceremony in different parts of the Chapel building. The couple "plighted their troth" at the "east end" of the nave at the foot of the chancel. Then, as the organist softly modulated chords reminiscent of a pre-ceremony solo, the wedding party proceeded to follow the officiant up the chancel to the edge of the sanctuary to a pair of kneeling benches with white-covered pillows. Rev. Lynch then conducted the closing prayers and pronounced the traditional, nuptial benediction as the couple kneeled and members of the wedding party stood before the handsome, reredos in the aisle of the great choir.

The bride wore a formal gown of candlelight silk organza over taffeta featuring an empire waist of lace embroidered with seed pearls. It had elbow length sleeves and an "A-line" skirt with a cathedral train bordered with lace, embroidered with seed pearls. The veil of "illusion" was attached to lace petals trimmed with seed pearls.

Miss Marsha L. Goodwin, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Black of Woodbridge, Virginia, sister of the groom; Janyce Brewer, Sybil Ray and Eileen Watts of Durham; Lydia Pitts of Chattanooga, Tennessee and Mrs. Cheryl Lucas Taylor of Detroit. The Misses Kathleen Clement of Durham and Pamela Thorpe of Wilberforce, Ohio, were junior bridesmaids, while Donna Black, niece of the groom from Fort Benning, Georgia, was the flowergirl. Master Marion Dennis Thorpe of Wilberforce, Ohio, was the ring-bearer.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore gowns of yellow dupioni silk, trimmed with yellow lace rosettes and matching headpieces with yellow veiling.

Best man was Michael Collins of Washington, D. C. Groomsman were Charles Dug-ger, Gary Grimes, Harold Orr and George Smith of Washington, D. C., Maceo K. Sloan, brother of the bride, and Alonzo Speight, both of Durham.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 2100 Otis Street.

The bride, a June graduate of Howard University, will attend the University of N.C. Graduate School in the fall. The bridegroom, also a June graduate of Howard, was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the U. S. Army on Commencement Day and is currently assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg.

Father of the bride, Maceo A. Sloan, CLU, is Vice President-Home Office Operations of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company. The groom's father, Colonel Gorham L. Black, is currently on duty at the Pentagon.

Serve a dessert with the touch of the Emerald Isle. Sparkling Emerald Mold is calorie-light and full of flavor. Whipped evaporated milk makes desserts and salads that look as good as they taste. Try Sparkling Emerald Mold soon. You'll like it.

SPARKLING EMERALD MOLD (Makes 4 to 6 servings)

- 2 packages (3 ounces each) lime-flavored gelatin
2 cups hot water
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Dissolve 1 package gelatin in 1 cup hot water. Stir in cold water. Pour into 8x8x2-inch baking dish. Chill until firm. Cut into 1/2-inch cubes. Dissolve remaining package gelatin and sugar in remaining 1 cup hot water. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Chill undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edge of tray (10-15 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (2 minutes longer). Fold into partially set gelatin mixture along with 1 cup gelatin cubes. Pour into 4 cup mold. Chill until firm (about 2 hours). Unmold. Garnish with remaining gelatin cubes.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...
Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?
Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.
Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.
Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?
