

Undersea Connector Gets The Once Over... Nicely

A passing "mermaid" gives a quick check to this rugged electronic connector, developed by Amphipol Connector Division for critical underwater applications. The first-of-a-kind connector is not only waterproof in the mated condition, as our mermaid sees it, but also in the unmated condition before it's "plugged in." Its outer shell is a special corrosion-resistant steel and that cable sealing adapter on the back end allows the connector to be dragged along the ocean's bottom without catching on any stray pieces of coral.

Koreans Still Hold Pueblo

TOKYO — Communist North Korea celebrated its 20th National Day anniversary Sunday with no sign that it will release 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo detained since Jan. 23.

The day was observed with delegations from 60 Communist parties around the world attending, amid rumors that North Korea would release the Pueblo crew for the occasion.

The official North Korean Central News Agency—KCNA—added to the rumors when it served advance notice that it would distribute "important reports" on a special Sunday broadcast. But neither KCNA nor Pyongyang radio, monitored in Tokyo, made any reference to the Pueblo and her crew before winding up the day's transmission.

Split Reflected

Attendance at the celebrations from abroad reflected the split in the Communist camp resulting from the occupation of Czechoslovakia.

The Czechoslovaks, apparently angered by North Korea's condemnation of their liberalism, snubbed the celebration. So did the Chinese Communists, who denounced the Soviet intervention.

Those present at the celebration included a Soviet delegation led by deputy premier D. S. Polyansky and leaders of the East European nations which invaded Czechoslovakia.

North Korea's strongman Premier Kim Il Sung delivered a lengthy speech to the nation and foreign delegates underlining Pyongyang's anti-U.S. policy.

In Seoul, South Korea, rumors persisted and foreign correspondents converged there in anticipation of possible release of the Pueblo crew.

U.S. military spokesmen in Japan and South Korea, however, discounted the possibility. In Washington, government sources said there had been no change in the situation.

Jury Still Deliberating

OAKLAND, Calif. — Let them go to church, the jurors in Black Panther Huey Newton's murder trial deliberated Sunday for their fourth day.

The judge said several jurors had requested time off for worship services, but the prosecutor and defense attorney would not agree to it.

When the jurors halted work shortly before 10 p.m. Saturday there were signs they were near a decision.

Newton is charged with slaying white policeman John Frey last Oct. 28 in a Negro neighborhood gunfight.

A short time before being locked up, the jury returned to the courtroom where Judge Monroe Friedman carefully explained the differences between first degree and second degree murder. The judge also spelled out the other verdict possibilities, manslaughter and acquittal.

A half hour after resuming work Sunday, the jury came back down to the courtroom. It asked the judge to read again the possible degrees of guilt.

QUICK QUIZ by THOMPSON

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO warned the nation years ago: "Unless strong action is taken quickly to rebuild the U.S. merchant marine we will become nothing more than a sixth rate power in the world." The NMU, America's largest seaman's union is leading a campaign to warn America about relying on foreign flag ships to meet our needs. Where do we stand today? Test your knowledge.
