MRS. JAMES M. SCHOOLER, JR.

Miss Mignon Miller is Bride of James M. Schooler, Jr. in Chicago Ceremony August 10

Miss Mignon Miller, daughter of Mrs. Lillian W. Pryor of Chicago and James M. Schooler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Schooler, Sr. of Durham were married Saturday, August 10, at First Unitarian Church in Chicago.

The Reverend John H. Robinson performed the ceremony and Mrs. Robert Ingram was organist. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Alvin A. Diamond.

For the mid-afternoon ceremony, Miss Miller wore a gown of white silk organza embossed with seed pearls and imported lace as was her full length mantilla. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Wilfred Gouridine who wore a floor-length moss green silk gown with a circle neckline, line. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Kyle Schooler of Washington, D. C. was best man for his brother.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Pryor was hosted at a reception at the Center for continuing Education.

The bride holds both Bachelor and Masters Degrees from Howard University where she was a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Wittenberg College and earned Masters and Doctorate Degrees at the University of Wisconsin.

Both are instructors at Tuskegee Institute where they will make their home following a wedding trip to Wisconsin, Montreal and Quebec.

have been taken away. The school should progress nicely if the students and teachers, both black and white, learn to realize that a school system has one major goal and that is to get an education. Lots of other things are important but a good education is the main function of a school.

The Panthers won their home game against Eastern of Alamance 13-6. The team played before a full house and a very enthusiastic crowd. Phillip White, a 6'2, 255 pound senior made a spectacular 87 yard touchdown. Cornelius Cathcart, Durham Morning Herald's lineman of the week, also did a tremendous job of intercepting an Eagle pass and setting up a play which formed an earlier touchdown.

The Mount Bright Baptist Church called Reverend William Richardson to pastor on September 1. He and his family were recently living in Durham while he served as associate minister at First Calvary Baptist Church.

The youth of Mt. Bright Baptist Church have sponsored car washes for the last four weeks. They will wash cars for the last time on September 14. The money is being raised to help renovate various areas of the church. The youth will also sponsor a Youth Day program Sunday, September 15. They will conduct the whole morning service. The evening service will be rendered by the Choir. It is very inspiring for the Hillsborough Community to see the youth interested in betterment of the church as well as the community.

Sgt. William Massey and Wife Honored at Downtowner Inn

Sgt. Wilham Massey and his wife, Annette were honored recently at the Downtowner Inn upon his retirement from the U. S. Army by Mrs. Shirley Massey Hunter, sister and Mrs. Omega Solomon, mother.

For the opening, invocation was given by Earl Artis, after which the toast master, J. A. Carter made the occasion a very happy one. During the evening Sgt. Massey's Durham teachers were asked to give highlights of him as a student.

Miss Mary Louise Stephens spoke of him as a second grade pupil, Mrs. Rosa Artis as a grammar grade student and Adolph Coward and J. M. Schooler as a high school student. His teachers spoke of his outstanding music and athletic ability, his cooperative spirit and his almost perfect school attendance.

The speaker for the evening was J. C. (Skeepie) Scarborough, III, recently elected County Commissioner, who spoke very effectively on how our city needs more young people who would be willing to give the type of long and faithful service that Sgt. Massey has so willingly given to his country.

The menu was composed of turkey, dressing, tossed salad, string beans, baked potatoes, rolls, apple pie, ice cream, tea and coffee.

After dinner, the guests moved over into the ball room to join Mrs. Shirley Massey Hunter in her class reunion of the class of 1968 of Hillside High with dancing which was enjoyed by all. Music was furnished by the Pastel Band of Durham.

Out-of-town guests included: John Hunter, husband of Mrs. Shirley Massey Hunter, Mesdames Nora Hunter, his mother; Dorothy Washington and Carrie Morris of New York; George Matland of British W. Indies; Charles Johnson of Staten Island, New York, Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Livingston of Mizpah, New Jersey; Mrs. Gladys King and Miss Carolyn Dunston of Fayetteville and their guests and about two hundred guests and friends from the city.

Everyone went home talking about how much this gala affair was enjoyed and each hoped for Sgt. Massey a happy retirement.

HILLSBOROUGH HAPPENINGS SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

By SHERRY SHANKLIN

Orange High School is lively and active once again, after a long summer of peace and quiet. The doors opened this year to approximately 1,000 students, both black and white. The combined faculty of both Central and Orange makes the educational opportunities exceptionally high this year. Mobile units provide additional classroom space for the large student body. The student parking area was increased also for extra bus space.

Orange High anticipates a very good year. A survey showed most of the students asked liked Orange High School despite the few privileges that

Q. My family's going on a fabulous trip this summer. Mom assigned me the responsibility for keeping the car clean — between three kids, two parents and luggage and . . . help! Any short-cuts?

A. Fortunately, there are always short-cuts in cleaning — even on a family car trip. Prepare a cleaning kit to handy fit under the front seat. Litter bags are a necessity — as much as your hair rollers are for your appearance. Often forgotten is a little whisk broom. If the cleaning is done every day, the load never gets large, and everyone's happy. As an added touch, put some Kleen-Ups disposable window cleaners in your little kit. All you need to do is wet them from the thermos bottle, and the hidden cleaners come alive. A few wipe-ups as you're driving makes a difference! The view will really be fabulous, and Mom will be proud of your good job.

Q. What should a girl do when she invites a boy over to her house and another boy calls while he's there? It's bad enough when the phone's in another room but when it isn't . . . well help!

A. Boy, can you ever get yourself into a bind in this kind of situation! The polite and simplest thing to do is tell the caller right away that you have a guest and that you'd enjoy talking to him later. Suggest a time that he can call you back. As you've no doubt found out, if you start a conversation with the caller, your guest may get upset. Then, to top it off, you start to feel anxious, so you abruptly end the phone conversation, leaving this boy bewildered. Be polite. Both boys will respect you — and you won't be left in a hang-up!

Policeman Convicted

MIAMI — A federal judge convicted a second former Miami policeman Tuesday of violating the civil rights of a 17-year-old Negro by dangling him by his heels from a bridge 80 feet above a river and threatening to drop him.

Both officers, now resigned from the police force, pleaded no contest to one count of a two-count indictment. Sentencing was delayed.
