HILLSBOROUGH HAPPENINGS SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

By SHERRY SHANKLIN

MISS SHANKLIN

The students at Orange High School have been very busy preparing for homecoming activities. Friday, October 11 will mark the first homecoming for the recently consolidated high school.

This week was proclaimed "Lick 'em Week" by the cheerleaders. Monday was set aside for victory stomping. Students stomped the halls of Orange High all day to illustrate how the Roxboro Rockets will fall under the feet of the Panthers. Tuesday was "sock 'em Day." All the students wore loud, brightly colored-socks to show their determination.

Wednesday was "Silence Day." The whole student body was quiet all day unless asked a question by a teacher. When the bell rang, everyone could holler "Beat Roxboro." Thursday was "Player Appreciation Day." The students were under an obligation to the football players to do as they requested. Friday was color day and all the students responded by wearing the traditional black and white school colors.

The homecoming court will ride in a parade scheduled for 7:00 p.m. Friday. The court consists of senior representatives: Shirley Daye, Georgia Crabtree, Mary David Walters, Sarah Franklin and Marie Carroll; junior representatives: Jenny Williams, Linda Kieger and sophomore representative: Darelene Jacobs.

FALL REVIVAL

During heat waves, it is easier on the air conditioner to let it run continuously, keeping the temperature down consistently. Letting the indoors warm up puts an extra strain on the unit to pull the temperature down repeatedly. Steady operation also keeps the humidity down.

Senior Citizens Make Bus Trip To Kenansville

On September 26, Senior Citizens of St. Titus' went by chartered coach to Kenansville to see Liberty Hall, the restored home of generations of Kenans. Amid a variety of old trees, and surrounded by a rail fence with white artistic gates stands the large white frame house with green blinds. The eleven rooms have been restored to their original decor: period furniture (including hand carved four poster beds), rugs (oriental, handwoven, and petit point); drapes, paintings, china, glassware, silver, copper and brass. It beggars description; It Must Be Seen.

The visitors, graciously received by the curators, were first given the background of the place and of the Kenan family, then with the help of other guides were shown thru the house from entrance hall and withdrawing room to kitchen and wine cellar.

The tour was followed by a picnic lunch in the cafeteria of the beautiful new E. E. Smith School. This had been arranged by Tom Kenan, III, host for this group. Unforgettable is the gracious hospitality of J. J. Henry, principal of the school, and of his cafeteria personnel.

Greatly enhancing the success of the trip was the presence of Father E. N. Porter, Vicar of St. Titus', who served as priest and as handy man with equal ease.

Forty-Four persons enjoyed the trip.
