

SC State Plans Inauguration Of President

FAYETTEVILLE — Miss Jacqueline Ann Rendleman of Hickory, a junior elementary education major, will reign at Fayetteville State College's Homecoming, October 30-November 2.

Miss Rendleman, who was elected "Miss Homecoming" last spring will be crowned at the annual Homecoming coronation ceremony in the Lilly Gymnasium, Wednesday, October 30. Her Attendants will be Yvonne Alderman, senior; Joyce Gear, junior; Rebecca Alford, sophomore and Portia Tann, freshman.

Miss Rendleman is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Tillis E. Rendleman, Sr. She was recently named to "Who's Who" and is a member of Alpha Kappa Sorority, Pan Hellenic Council and a Women's Counselor.

The FSC-Elizabeth City State football game on November 2 will highlight the four-day celebration. Class reunions, tours of the campus and buildings, along with other activities have been planned for returning alumni and interested friends.

The annual pep rally and bonfire will be staged Friday on the college's athletic field and the Dawn dance will commence at 2:30 a.m., November 2 in Lilly Gymnasium.

A homecoming parade with floats, bands and campus beauties will get underway at 12 noon Saturday. A pre-game show featuring marching bands from throughout North-South Carolina will start at 1:30 p.m.

The annual Homecoming ball for alumni, students and friends is scheduled for Saturday, 8:30 p.m. Cumberland County Memorial Auditorium, featuring music by the sensational "Impressions."

NEWEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY for 1968 might well be the "Prettypurse," as created by White Swan Uniform Co., and small wonder that the nurse might do more for the patient than pills when she can dress up hospital rooms like this. Among the looks that make the "Prettypurse" will be a gently shaped, doubled breast-skimmer that carries all the aplomb of a couturier's dress. White Swan sculpts it in an easy-care corded bengaline of Dacron and cotton for both regular and petite sizes.

What's Afoot in Decorating

Practical Ideas From America's Leading Decorators
By Marvin K. Culbreth, A.I.D.*

KITCHEN MAGIC

A popular fallacy is that it takes a great deal of money, and perhaps even a different home, to create a kitchen that is as strikingly modern as it is efficient.

Actually, relatively inexpensive decorative touches—call them "kitchen magic" if you wish—can turn almost any "busiest room in the house" into one of the most beautiful.

Modestly priced plants, as you can see, add flair while reducing long thrust of wall space.

So can screening that is easy to erect and low in cost.

You can decorate with light by arranging things so that a lamp, or the natural light from your window, plays on something special: a picture, a lovely plant, or perhaps a pleasing pitcher, vase, or cooking vessel.

When most people think of flooring, they think of something to be walked on, yet clever use of resilient flooring material (and even the very finest vinyl is not expensive considering how long it lasts) can give you such interior architectural elements as an unusual platform that elevates decorative elegance as well as the diners. (And notice in the photo above how this material lends itself to the vertical sides of the platform.)

In the contemporary kitchen-dining area above, I chose Kentile's Glendura vinyl sheet flooring, a high style pattern with thousands of vinyl chips and pebbles drifting three dimensionally down into a "sea" of clear vinyl.

It is essential that kitchen flooring be practical, not just beautiful, and this is one of the considerations leading to my choice of the material. The fact that it comes in six-foot rolls makes it possible to design a virtually seamless floor.

The easy care qualities of vinyl were another consideration, but don't let your whole decorative scheme be controlled by easy care considerations. In the room above, for instance, I use two large goblets as candle-holder centerpieces.

Easy care? No. It's a little more work, but also a little more beauty. And isn't beauty really part of what life is all about?

GARDEN TIME

If you would like to plant some muscadine grape varieties this winter here are some suggestions about varieties. All of the ones I am describing are perfect-flowered and may be planted alone, or used as pollinizers for such imperfect flowered varieties as Scuppernon, James, Thomas, Hunt and others.

Albemarle is a large fruited, smooth, blue-black grape of high dessert quality. It ripens about mid-season or along with Burgaw. The vine is vigorous, productive and resistant to leaf spot diseases. Albemarle is rated as being superior to Burgaw, Duplin and Tarheel in fruit size, sugar content and flavor.

Pamlico is a large fruited, light green grape of good flavor and attractive appearance. The fruit ripens about a week earlier than Dearing. The vine is vigorous, productive and has good foliage. Pamlico is superior to Willard and Wallace in flavor, fruit size, soluble solids, vigor and disease resistance; and is also superior to Dearing in fruit size, appearance and flavor.

Chowan is light brown to bronze in color. The berries are large, borne in loose clusters and have a very pleasing aromatic sub-acid flavor. The fruit is somewhat similar to Scuppernon but a little larger in size and sweeter. The soluble solids content will average about 19 per cent, which is 3 per cent higher than Scuppernon. Chowan ripens about a week earlier than Scuppernon. The vine is vigorous, productive and has good foliage. This variety is superior to Wallace and Willard in flavor, appearance, production and disease resistance.

Roanoke is a very attractive white grape with a tinge of golden yellow. The fruit is of medium size and ripens about a week earlier than Scuppernon. The vine is vigorous and productive. Roanoke is superior to Wallace and Willard in production, flavor, vigor of vine, and attractiveness; and is superior to Dearing in production and attractiveness of fruit.

Magnolia is a large attractive white grape with smooth skin. The grapes are of medium size and produced in medium large loose clusters. They mature about one week later than Scuppernon and the flavor is good. The plants are vigorous and very productive. Magnolia is superior to Wallace and Willard in fruit size, appearance, flavor, sugar content, vigor and production; and is also superior to Dearing in all of these qualities except vigor and sugar content.

Have you decided which season of the year you like best? Spring? Fall? Regardless of your choice, I believe that we will all agree that the fall season is a beautiful time in the Old North State, and especially in our mountains. Should you need a little prodding to convince you, I would suggest that you select a section of the Blue Ridge Parkway between Fancy Gap, Virginia, and Clingman's Dome in the Great Smoky Mountains. You will be rewarded beyond measure by the beauty that unfolds before your eyes as you round each curve in the highway, or capture the views from the many parking overlooks.

To understand the reasons for fall coloration in the leaves we must go to the plants themselves and find out what makes the color in the first place. It is complicated but perhaps we can simplify enough to be understood.

Leaves are the manufacturing centers for plant food and they are green because they contain chlorophyll. It is the chlorophyll which manufactures the sugars which supply the food essential for all plant growth.
