Humphrey's Book on Rights Tells His Stand

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Beyond Civil Rights, a new 193 page book written by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, was published this week by Random House.

The book outlines Humphrey's belief and practice during the great civil rights struggles of the century and tells emphatically where he stands as he faces the political battle of his life.

The Vice President prefaces his dramatic account of the period with the declaration: "My record on this issue includes the proudest moments of my public career. I would not deny that record, or change it, or tone it down, even if I could."

And whatever the outcome of his effort to continue America's movement toward full equality for all its citizens, he added "I want it to be said then, of Hubert Humphrey: He stood by what he believed."

The author also emphasizes that his book was never intended as a campaign document because he began writing it three years ago, long before a candidate for president.

In his moving look into the past and the future of race relations in America, Humphrey finds it ironic that he faces again his long time foe and extreme antagonist on civil rights, J. Strom Thurmond, at this crossroads of his political career.

A. T. Spaulding Fred McNeill Win Offices

Attorneys Elreta Melton Alexander and Henry E. Frye made history in the General Election held Tuesday, Nov. 5 when both were successful candidates in their bids for public office.

Attorney Frye was elected to the House of Representatives and Attorney Alexander was elected Judge of the 18 Judicial District of Guilford County.

Both victories of the Greensboro attorneys represent the first time since Reconstruction that Negroes have been elected to such offices.

In Durham, Negroes also made history and elected to office A. T. Spaulding to the Board of Durham County Commissioners and Fred D. McNeill to the Durham County Board of Education.

Trial of Three Knoxville Col. Students Ends

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — The trial of three Knoxville College students ended in what the students and their lawyers termed "a political victory" on October 28.

Pete Tigner, Joseph Scott and Gary Keel were charged with possessing explosives and conspiring to blow up two college buildings, after a white cab driver was killed on the campus March 9. They pleaded guilty to two reduced charges October 28, after an agreement between their lawyers and the Attorney General.

They were sentenced to serve 11 months and 29 days on each charge, concurrently. The judge has allowed them to return to college where two of the three are presently enrolled — and to begin serving their terms June 2, after the school year ends. He said he will consider suspending the remainder of their sentences when it is time to return to college in September, 1969.

Settlement of the cases came in the midst of rising protests in both the black and from across the country.

The students have already spent nine weeks in jail, under high bond. They are finally permitted to post bond after their first trial ended in a mistrial in May, when one of their lawyers suddenly fell ill.

Whitney Young Quits Fact-Finding Panel In New York School Crisis

NEW YORK — I am resigning as a member of the fact-finding panel appointed by Mayor Lindsay in the school crisis. It is apparent that the panel can no longer serve a useful purpose in resolving the dispute. The rejection of the latest Allen Plan offers fresh evidence that Shanker will accept nothing less than total destruction of any attempt to improve the education of the city's children by decentralizing the present inadequate school system.

The issue of due process for teachers, a dubious issue from the beginning, has been resolved by assurances by the local board, the City Board of Education, the State Commissioner of Education, and the Mayor,

The 8-year-old Deans, a native of Essex County Virginia, joined the service of North Carolina Mutual in 1920 as manager of the company's Richmond District. So outstandingly successful was he in the management of the district that in 1924 the entire State of Virginia was put in his charge as State Agent. In 1927 his development of that state was rewarded by the addition of Maryland and the District of Columbia, and the title of Regional Supervisor. In Police Lt. James Booker Samuel, 49, one of the first Negro policemen to be appointed in Durham in 1944, has been suspended, without pay from the police department pending the outcome of the case involving the death of Jesse Hill, Jr., a former N. C. College student.

Hill is reported to have died as the result of a skull fracture and brain injury alleged to have been sustained in a recent encounter with Samuel on Cecil Street near the NCC campus.

Police report that Samuel, while off duty, is also alleged to have slapped Jasper Harris, another NCC student, in addition to Hill and is now under a charge of assault and battery on Harris in addition to a manslaughter charge in the case of Hill.

Hearing in the case was set for Wednesday, Nov. 6 in District Court before Judge E. Lawson Moore.

The charges and suspension of Samuel have caused quite a bit of concern within the Negro community and the outcome of the hearing was awaited with great concern.

He was represented by the law firm of Pearson, Malone, De Jarmon, and Johnson.

Asa T. Spaulding Makes Victory Statement

VICTORY STATEMENT

By Asa T. Spaulding, Candidate for County Commissioner Thank you Mr. Higgins-----

May I first thank WDNC, First Federal, WTVD, and other communications media, including the press, for the service rendered the citizens of Durham and Durham County in your efforts to make the electorate of the community an informed and intelligent one.

The issues facing our community, our state, and our nation are momentous ones and call for wise decisions and sound judgment on the part of those chosen to deal with them. It is a sobering responsibility to have been selected by you to serve your interests.

Next, I wish to commend the voters of this County for turning out in, perhaps, unprecedented numbers to express their will. And all the precinct workers are deserving of highest commendation for the herculean job they did under very trying circumstances.

The verdict is now in and we have a better idea of what our community attitudes and desires really are, and an index as to what must yet be done to bring about more Unity In The Community, and to vouchsafe greater progress for all. See STATEMENT 2A
