JERSEY CITY, N. J. — (UPI) — The Black Panthers have continued their association with violence—both as victims and as suspects.

A few days after the Panthers' office in Newark was bombed, three Panther members were arrested in this city and charged with a submachine gun attack on a police station house.

A spokesman for the Panthers, Anthony Kaiser, called the Newark bombing a retaliation for the Jersey City Attack. But Newark Deputy Police Chief Kenneth Melchior said any link between the two incidents was "pure speculation." Carl C. Nichols, the party's chief organizer for New Jersey, suffered a broken right arm and leg burns during the Newark bombing. Three others were also injured.

Arrested in the Jersey City submachine gun attack were Isaiah Rowlev, 24, the Panthers' New Jersey, defense Minister; Victor Perez, 19, of Brooklyn; and Charles (Count) Hicks, 36, of Jersey City.

SPARKPLUGS OF AGGIE CAGE TEAM — The success of North Carolina A&T's 1968-69 basketball team will depend to a large degree on the performance of senior guards Nathan Pettus (left) and Lawrence Dunn. Pettus is from Philadelphia and Dunn is a native of Raleigh. The Aggies open their conference season at Fayetteville State December 10.

NAACP Board Revokes Charters Of Three Los Angeles Branches

NEW YORK — The charters of three of the four Los Angeles branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have been revoked by the Association's National Board of Directors in response to a recommendation by a committee which conducted a hearing on the feasibility of restructuring the NAACP in Los Angeles.

Announcement of the Board's action was made here, Dec. 9, by Bishop Stephen G. P. ing a recessed meeting at which Robert A. Wright of Des Moines, Iowa, one of two hearing officers, made a report on the hearing, held in Los Angeles, Nov. 24. Charles V. Johnson of Seattle, Wash., was the other officer. Other members of the committee were NAACP officials: Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administration; Miss Althea T. L. Simmons, director of training; and Leonard Carter, West Coast regional director.

The Board accepted the committee's recommendation to maintain, for the present, the Watts Branch will reorganizing the other three units into a single branch. Further, the Board approved the recommendation that the specific charges filed by six members of the Los Angeles branches and by the national director of branches "be dismissed, providing the branch records, in accordance with the stipulations, are made available to the regional director." The branches were given 30 days in which to act. Also approved by the Board was the committee's recommendation that should the audit reveal matters requiring separate hearings the Board will take appropriate action.

The committee found that (a) multiple branches in Los Angeles had been widely opposed since their inception in 1965, (b) the branches failed to show the anticipated growth and development and (c) there should be revocation and reorganization of the branches with the exception of the Watts unit.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

New York Faces Health Crisis

NEW YORK — The city's Emergency Control Board 1,100 faculty members out on strike when classes resume Jan. met Monday to make plans for dealing with a possible health crisis created by a strike of fuel truck drivers, a flu epidemic and frigid weather.

About 2,800 fuel truck drivers and mechanics went on strike at midnight Sunday after rejecting a new contract recommended by their leaders.

Members of local 533, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, voted down a two-year contract that would have added $20 immediately to weekly pay of $145 for drivers and $151 for oil burner servicemen.

Emergency Control Board Chairman Timothy W. Costello called for reducing room temperatures 5 degrees to conserve fuel.
