GREENSBORO — More than 500 area citizens attended the annual Pot Luck, sponsored last Thursday by the Eastern District of the general Greene Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The program was held in the Moore Gymnasium of A&T State University and also served as a launching point for "Boypower '76," the current national Boy Scout program. Highlights of the program included tributes and recognition of unit leaders, presentation of awards and the installation of officers for 1969.

Installed as chairman of the Eastern District was Marvin Graeber, superintendent of buildings and grounds at A&T. The new vice chairman is Atty. Henry E. Frye, who was recently elected to the North Carolina House of Representatives.

Other district officers include Dr. Isaac Miller, president of Bennett College, vice chairman; B. C. Crews, commissioner. Committee chairman include Walter Johnson, organization; C. A. Levette, leadership and training; Bernard Battle, finance; Clinton Gravelly, camping; Van McDonald, activities; Frank White, advancement; J. E. Smith, health and safety; Richard E.
