White-Black Churches Face Big Challenge

LEXINGTON, Ky.—The black church today faces the challenge of working with the white church to create a body that is "alive and struggling with the issues before us," according to the president of the Negro branch of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) meeting here this week in its 53rd and last convention.

Raymond E. Brown of Reidsville, N. C., president of the National Christian Missionary Convention, last week opened the convention which is due to merge with the General Assembly of the Christian Church this month.

Rev. Brown likened the problems faced by the church to the words of Charles Dickens in "A Tale of Two Cities"—"The best of times, the worst of times: The age of wisdom, the age of foolishness; the epic of belief, the epic of incredulity; the season of darkness, the season of light."

"Some of us believe that these are the best of times. We look around at the prosperity. We see the scientific and technological advances. We are aware of the educational opportunities."

"Yet, there are some of us who feel that these are the worst of times. We, too, look at the prosperity, yet in the midst of it we see the poor, the hungry, the dispossessed. We see the scientific and technological advances yet in the midst of these we see those without the benefit of electricity, running water or natural gas."

We all know all about educational opportunities, yet we are aware of those who are illiterate, undereducated or miseducated even while in an educational institution, "he said. It is an "age of wisdom" in

Miss Josephine Fuller is Bride Of Staff Sgt. Joseph McElrath

Miss Josephine Fuller, daughter of Mrs. Laura B. LeCounte of Valdosta, Ga., became the bride of S/Sgt. Joseph McElrath in a double-ring ceremony at St. Joseph's AME Church here Saturday, August 9. Rev. Philip R. Cousin officiated. The organist was Fred Mason, Jr.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Juanita Littleton of Bells, Tennessee and the son of Haywood McElrath of Highland Park, Michigan.

The bride was given in marriage by Walter Mayo. The bride wore a short A-line lace dress with an empire waistline, long sleeves, and a V-neck. She wore a lace mantilla and carried sweetheart roses on a prayer book. The matron of honor, Mrs. Joan Martin, wore a short crepe dress of mint green color and identical style as the bride's. She carried white carnations. Joseph Martin, Sr., was the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Grady Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Atlanta and is presently studying for a B.S. Degree in Nursing at North Carolina Central University. She is employed at Duke Medical Center.

S/Sgt. McElrath will shortly be stationed with the Air Force in Alaska.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Mrs. Katherine D. Scott wishes to thank the many neighbors and friends who extended sympathy and other acts of kindness which brought comfort during her illness and their time of great sorrow. May God bless each of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wilson Gratefully,

Afro-American Society, a member of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and a varsity football player. He has been employed in Winston Salem as a community organizer for Experiment in Self Reliance.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law Jather C. Coward of Greensboro, the bride wore a white short gown of embroidered silk organza with modrain neckline and long "Juliet" sleeves. Her 3-tiered short bouffant veil was attached to a crown of lace and cultured pearl flowers arranged on a horsehair bow. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white mums on an heirloom prayerbook.

For her maid of honor, the bride chose her niece, Miss Janice Coward of Greensboro. Bridesmaids were her college roommate, Miss Bernita Stanley of Atlanta, Mrs. Robert F. Moore of Washington, D. C.

and Mrs. James D. Fowler, Jr. of Greensboro.

Their gowns were designed with softly gathered short skirts of aqua ottoman, and empire bodices of white veil lace, accented by aqua buttons and short puff sleeves. They wore matching aqua ottoman bows with small loops and carried nosegays of pale yellow and white daisies with shades of lavender and blue mums and field flowers.

The bridegroom had Ellis Clayton Wade of White Plains, New York as his best man. The bridegroom's brother, Charles R. Stanback, Jr. ushered with his cousins, Dr. James S. Stanback III of West Hyattsville, Maryland, and A. Leon Stanback, Jr. of Greensboro.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Miltrine Jenkins, organist and Mrs. Eugene Bristow, soprano soloist both of Greensboro.

Cook Makes Debut With Cincinnati

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio — The Cincinnati Bengals' striving for a more balanced offense this year, clash with the Boston Patriots Sunday in a pre-season American Football League game here.

The Bengals intend to put the ball in the air more this year and their passing game will ride on the arms of Sam Wyche and rookie Greg Cook.

Tom Sherman, who started late last year as a rookie, and Mike Taliaferro, will handle the quarterbacking for Boston.

The Patriots defeated the Bengals last year 33-14 in a regular season game and Paul Brown, Bengals' coach and general manager was quick to point that out in preparing for Sunday's contest. I haven't the slightest idea how we'll do against them," Brown said, "but its a veteran football team. They beat us 33-14 last year."

Regarding the game, Brown commented that "We're like all teams getting ready through camp and we should play against an opponent. We've reached the stage where we should play a game." The Bengals, 3-11 in their initial season, centered their offense on the explosive running of Paul Robinson who was named the AFL's Rookie-of-the-Year. Robinson, who gained 1,026 yards, agreed only Thursday night to terms for the coming season.

Man Sentenced In Assault Case

Henry Bradshaw, 45, of 1302 Walnut St., was sentenced in Wake Superior Court Friday to 10 to 15 years imprisonment for assault on a female with intent to commit rape. Bradshaw originally had been charged with raping 10-year-old Brenda Green of 1335 Walnut St. last Dec. 7. However, the jury found the defendant guilty of the lesser offense.

"Tribute To The Clergy"
 Because our contacts with the clergymen of our community are frequent and varied, we must admit that we have sometimes been guilty of taking their selfless devotion for granted. May we at the Scarborough and Hargett Funeral Home at this time express our appreciation for the many gracious services they render without complaint and often with little or no reward.
