

Journal Dept
Duke Univ. Library
Durham, N. C.
4/23

Words of Wisdom

American businessmen are always ready to scrap worn-out machines, but slow to scrap worn-out ideas.
—E. G. Grace

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBRIDLED

Facts on the Weather

EXTENDED FORECAST FOR SATURDAY THRU MONDAY

Increasing cloudiness and warmer with chance of rain. Quite cool with chance of rain on Sunday.

VOLUME 49 — No. 14

DURHAM, N. C., SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1970

PRICE: 20 Cents

Two Black Scientists May Have Key To Cancer Cure

Lincoln University Presidential Inaugural Program Set

STATE FAIR AWARDS PROGRAM—Those who participated in the State Fair Awards Program in the Hillside High School Auditorium last week are shown here. They are (left to right) Joseph Ruffin, president Vocational Education Students; B. H. Thornton, teacher; J. H. Lucas, Hillside principal; Dr. T. R. Speigner, State Department of Education; L. W. Hannen, superintendent city schools; Sharon King, Student Body President; Art Pitzer, State Fair manager; Mrs. C. C. Cobb, Jr., teacher; E. M. Alderman, State Fair official; Mrs. S. T. Herbin, teacher; J. L. Turner, state fair official; and H. C. McAllister, Whitted Jr. High School principal. (Photo by Purefoy)

Dr. Daniels to Take Office as 12th President

JEFFERSON CITY — Inaugural ceremonies which will see the formal installation of Dr. Walter C. Daniel as the twelfth president of Lincoln University are scheduled for the weekend of April 18-19.

Highlight of the ceremonies will be the pre-inaugural luncheon on Saturday, April 18, in the school's gymnasium where the principal speaker will be the world-famous chemist Dr. Percy Julian, Director of the Julian Research Institute in Franklin Park, Illinois.

Actually, the festivities will begin on Friday, April 17, when the women of the university and the community join to honor Mrs. Daniel at a pre-inaugural tea in the ROTC auditorium.

Following the luncheon on Saturday, there will be an inaugural ball in the Rotunda of the Missouri State Capitol. Attendance at the ball is by invitation.

The inaugural ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, April 19, in Richardson Auditorium. This will be followed by an open reception, sponsored by the Board of Curators, at the Ramada Inn.

The new president will receive greetings at the luncheon from nearly every segment of the university's life. Greetings will be extended by the president of the Jefferson City Chamber of Commerce; by Dr. Charles Hoard, dean of students, on behalf of the faculty by the president of S. G. A.; by Dr. Lawrence Nicholson of St. Louis for the alumni; by Dr. Granville Sawyer, president (See DANIELS page 2A)

STATE FAIR HONOREES—Twenty-two students, all enrolled in some area of vocational education, along with two vocational education teachers were honored by the North Carolina State Fair for their work with the fair in showing booths, exhibits and other items of interest. The two teachers, standing in the rear, Mrs. C. C. Cobb, Jr. (left) and Mrs. S. T. Herbin (right) were said to be instrumental in exciting the interest in their students to participate in the state fair format. (Photo by Purefoy)

Miller Raps Jailing Of Drug Addicts; Proposes Treatment

State Must Face Problem Now Says Candidate

George W. Miller, Jr., a candidate for the N.C. House of Representatives says North Carolina must squarely face the issue of the problems caused by the tremendous increase in the use of narcotics.

Miller, a candidate for seat number two which was formerly held by Wade Penny, who will not seek re-election, proposed that treatment facilities be set up by staffed doctors and personnel trained in treating and rehabilitating drug users.

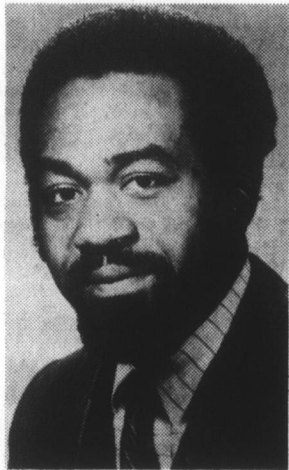

While praising the work being done by law enforcement agencies in apprehending the dope peddlers and in trying to get to the supply source, Miller pointed out that there are now no facilities available (See RAPS page 2A)

Immunity System Thought To Hold The Secret Of Solution For Crippling Disease

NEW YORK — The research of two black scientists may help solve the riddle of cancer and provide important tools in the diagnosis and treatment of the disease, it was learned at the American Cancer Society's Science Writers' Seminar in San Antonio, Texas.

The two young investigators, both Ph.D.'s, were Drs. Edwin L. Cooper, 33, Associate Professor of Anatomy at the University of California at Los Angeles, and Edward E. Smith, 35, Associate Professor of Biochemistry at Boston University.

Dr. Cooper's work is based on the belief that immunity—the bodily function that protects human and other animals against disease—may have originally evolved in primal animal life systems like earthworms to fight off newly forming cancer cells or neoplasms. Hence he does experiments with the creatures that involve grafting tissue from other worms onto them, and then studying their ensuing rejection process for clues to the mechanics of the immune response.

DR. SMITH

DR. COOPER

A native of Houston, and a graduate of Texas Southern University, Dr. Cooper pointed to recent evidence from human organ transplantations. In these operations, drugs are used that hinder the body's ability to reject foreign tissue. In many instances these patients have developed certain types of cancer.

"Did cancers appear because the efficient surveillance system of immunity was impaired?" he theorized. The development of animal life systems such as breathing, digestion, blood circulation, nerves, etc. sprang from some common set of natural environment. (See SECRET page 2A)

Ushers Slate Mid-year Meet Sun., April 5

The 46th annual midyear session of the Interdenominational Ushers Association of North Carolina, Inc. will convene Sunday morning, April 5 at the Ushers Home in Franklinton, Clifton Stone, president of the organization will preside.

Topping the agenda of business will be recommendations by the president that the group approve a new building plan that calls for renovation of an unfinished building on a plot of land owned by the association. Original plans called for using the building as a (See USHERS page 2A)

Coca-Cola Executive Takes New Post With Burger King As Corporation Mgr.

MIAMI — William Burke, a man who brings "an extensive knowledge of the Black community" with him, has joined the Burger King Corporation as Manager of Urban Franchise Development, President James W. McLamore announced.

Burke, 44, credits his success to "knowing and being able to relate to all people; no matter who they are." Burke brings a formidable record with him to the Miami-based Pillsbury subsidiary. He has spent the past seven and (See EXECUTIVE page 2A)

BURKE

Graveside Rites are Held For Arthur Whitted Fri., March 27

Graveside rites for William Arthur Whitted were conducted at Beechwood Cemetery here Friday, March 27. He succumbed at the V. A. Hospital here March 25, after a lengthy illness. The Rev. Phillip R. Cousin, pastor of St. Joseph AME Church, conducted the ceremony. Whitted was the son of the (See DANIELS page 2A)

Inauguration of FSU President Is Set For May 3rd

FAYETTEVILLE — Fayetteville State University has set the inauguration of President Charles "A" Lyons for May 3, Dr. M. S. Frierson, Chairman of the University Inauguration Committee; announced today.

Dr. Lyons assumed the FSU presidency August 1, thus becoming the eighth executive officer of the institution.

Dr. Lyons came to the Fayetteville State post from Howard University, where he served as director of admissions. He is a native of Canetoe, and did his undergraduate work at Shaw University and earned the doctorate degree from Ohio State University.

Dr. Frierson said that a detailed program will be announced later.

Salisbury Teenager Crowned '70 Alpha Alpha Debutante Queen

SALISBURY — Miss Olivia Dionne Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, Sr., of 1149 Kenly Street, was crowned 1970 Debutante Queen here Friday night as the Alpha Alpha Zeta Chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. ushered 59 young ladies into society.

She was crowned by Miss Edith Wyatt, the 1969 Queen, in ceremonies held at the Catawba College Community Center. Her sponsor was Mrs. Myrtle McGarity.

Runners-up in the Debutante Queen Contest were Miss Hazel Stanton Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy B. Hudson of Mocksville, second place; Miss Doris Marie Krider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Krider of Granite Quarry, third place; Miss Constance Elaine Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly of Salisbury, fourth place; and Miss Jerolene Pitts, (See CROWNED 2A)

Last Rites Held Wednesday for Dean James T. Taylor at NCCU

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 1, in B. N. Duke Auditorium on the campus of North Carolina Central University for James T. Taylor, a member of the institution's faculty from 1926 until 1960.

Dr. Taylor died Sunday, March 29, at Lincoln Hospital in Durham.

He was born in Danville, Va., reared in Wilson, N. C., and graduated from North Carolina Central University when that school was known as the National Training School. In addition to the B.A. degree he held from NCCU, Dr. Taylor held the Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees from Ohio State University and was a holder of the honorary LL.D. degree from North Carolina Central University.

He had served his alma mater in various capacities (See TAYLOR page 2A)

DR. TAYLOR

during his lifetime. He had been Dean of Men, Professor of Psychology, and executive secretary of the James E. (See TAYLOR page 2A)

Dr. Martin Jenkins To Head New Urban Affairs Office In Washington

BALTIMORE — The American Council on Education announced the appointment of Dr. Martin D. Jenkins as Director of a new Office of Urban Affairs.

Dr. Jenkins recently announced his resignation as president of Morgan State College in Baltimore, effective in the latter part of the summer. He will assume his new position in Washington on September 1. In the meantime he will serve as consultant to the Council and assume responsibility for organizing the new program.

Plans to establish the new office were announced last year by the Council and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation which is providing a grant of $180,000 for the new effort. The new office will enable the Council to assume leadership in relating colleges and (See JENKINS page 2A)

DR. JENKINS

Old Glory Flies Over Indian Graves in Ariz.

Old Glory now waves every day over the humble Navajo Indians Veterans Cemetery in the rolling pinon and juniper country of Arizona.

Until recently, there was no flag except on holidays and for funerals. Dr. George Bock, medical director for the Indian Health Service in the Navajo area, and his wife decided to do something about it. They got in touch with (See INDIAN page 2A)