SPAULDING LOSES TO HAWKINS IN RACE FOR MAYOR; STEWART NAMED PRO-TEM

Cheek To Address A&T Grads

BANK BEAUTY—Miss Alice J. Andrews has been named "Miss NBD" by National Bank of Detroit. She has been employed by NBD for two years and now works in the Trust Department of NBD, the nation's 10th ranking bank. Miss Andrews, a junior at Wayne State University majoring in business and sociology, will hold the title for one year.

Dr. C. E. Boulware Retains City Council Seat in Satur.'s Election

James R. Hawkins, a real estate agent and former City Councilman, edged out Asa T. Spaulding to become Durham's mayor by some 1,500 votes, Saturday, May 15.

Hawkins said of the election, "I think the people chose, not on the basis of color, but on the basis of experience in public office." He was a member of the City Council from 1959-67.

Part of his campaign was focused on promoting city-the standard bi-weekly formal sessions, he said.

Saturday's voting trends indicated the Durham Committee on Negro Affairs threw its support behind Spaulding for mayor. In the primary, the black bloc had backed Spaulding, Boulware, Mrs. Griffin, and Keith.

Hawkins is secretary-treasurer of Allenton Realty Co., and is a former chairman of the Research Triangle Regional Planning Commission, of which he is still a member.

A native of Mebane, he has lived in Durham since 1942.

D. C. E. Boulware, who was elected to his second term as acting chairman of the mathematics department at North Carolina Central University. He has worked on the council's public works committee and human relations committee. He will serve for the next four years in the council's at-large positions.

J. S. Stewart became mayor pro-tem as the new City Council was formally installed in ceremonies at City Hall.

Stewart is Durham's first black mayor pro-tem. He was nominated for the office by outgoing mayor pro-tem Chas. Steel and got the unanimous vote of the council.

Steel pointed out Stewart has served 14 years on the council and "has gained the respect and confidence of all of us."

A native of Atlanta, Stewart moved to Durham in 1935 and (See ELECTION 9A) county consolidation and more aggressive approaches to urban renewal.

Hawkins reported he intends to recommend changes in City Council procedure "so there will be more time for deliberation rather than so much time spent on public hearings during regular council sessions."

The council may require more regular meetings than

Dynamic Young Howard Prexy Jun. 6 Keynoter

GREENSBORO—Dr. James E. Cheek, the dynamic young president of Howard University, will deliver the principal address at the annual Baccalaureate-Commencement exercises at A&T State University on Sunday, June 6.

More than 675 undergraduates and 75 graduate students will receive their degrees during the 11 a.m. services in the Charles Moore Gym.

Cheek, a nationally prominent scholar, educator and theologian, has gained more recent fame as an advisor on higher education to President Nixon.

Prior to being called to the presidency of Howard, Cheek had headed Shaw University, gaining national recognition for that college with a series of imaginative programs for disadvantaged students. Cheek is the brother of Dr. King V. Cheek, the president of Morgan State College.

In addition to the commencement exercises, A&T has outlined plans for its annual three (See CHEEK page 9A)

NAACP Week Set For May 23-30; Gilliam To Direct Care Center

The executive committee, Durham Branch, NAACP, in a call meeting, Tuesday night, confirmed the appointment of W. M. Gilliam, retired agency director, North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, as the director of the Day-Care-Center, which will occupy the Crest Street School building.

The action was taken after Warren Howard, executive assistant to Roy Wilkins, national head of the NAACP, had inspected the building and announced that it represented a fine opportunity for the people of Durham to aid in creating an image of service to the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Helen Happs, district consultant, State Social Services Department, gave her approval of the building and the operation of the Center. She agreed to work with Mr. Gilliam in the preparation of a budget and the selection of a staff. Persons interested in giving volunteer service and employment are asked to please send a resume to W. M. Gilliam, 409 Cecil Street, Durham, N. C. 27707.

It was also announced that Dr. Rose Butler Brown, retired head of the Department of Education, North Carolina Central University, would serve as coordinator, in the planning and setting up the educational program.

Rev. L. H. McDonald was named chairman of the Planning Committee, in charge of contracts. John Mason will chair a committee that will purchase supplies and equipment. Members of McDonald's committee are W. R. Collins, Rev. L. W. Reid, Dr. Howard Fitts, J. B. Philyaw, and Elmore Mangum. Mason's committee includes Guy Myzck, Burch Coley, L. A. Miller and S. F. Pompey.

The executive committee announced that the week, beginning May 23 and ending May 30, has been designated as "NAACP Week." The observance will begin Sunday, when it is hoped that each church will conduct a membership drive to enroll new members and to renew expired memberships. Speakers will attend the morning services, where requested, and tell the story of "Members & Money."

The drive will end on the 30th when a special offering will be taken for the Freedom Fund, when it is hoped that Durham will collect enough (See NAACP page 9A)

Soul City . . . Fact Or Fiction

WARRENTON — In 1957 when Floyd McKissick was in Europe in the service, Soul City was not even an element of fiction.

McKissick began noticing how some of the cities in Europe were built with people's common interest, not their economic stability, in mind. And he wondered "would it work in America?" Well, McKissick is going to find out.

He noted that "urban crises was formed by minority groups, particularly the poor, migrating to the north. Soul City will attempt to conquer this problem, not by welfare programs or band-aid measures, but by bringing industry and economic resources to deprived people.

The city will be developed on three major principles:

- 1) economic development
- 2) created and developed by blacks therefore, it is of certain value to the blacks of America.
- 3) through ownership of industry and economic development blacks will become producers as opposed to receivers.

It will lie between total integration and total separatism. It will be working within the existing economic system, therefore, becoming both politically and economically viable. Hopefully, its example will spread across the country.

WHAT IS SOUL CITY:

It will be a new planned, multi-racial community, built to provide unique economic and social opportunities for the disenfranchised and to bring new solutions to bear on the crises facing American Cities.

Soul City will be built by those who will live in it, as well as people of good will from every walk of life. Floyd B. McKissick Enterprises, Inc., a black owned and managed company, is the developer and prime mover.

The city is being built so that black people can participate in capital ownership and control their own destinies. The town will be self-reliant and open to all. It will include shopping, recreation, housing all municipal facilities, and a sound diversified economic base.

All people who desire, and who respect the rights and customs (See SOUL CITY page 9A)

Housing Authority Tenants Call For Support of Charles Tillman

By JOHN MYERS
Staff Writer

A public protest to the firing of Charles Tillman by the Durham Housing Authority was made in a news conference at the Cornwallis Project Wednesday, May 19.

The statement read: "We enter a formal protest to the Durham Housing Authority who has served the tenants, Durham citizens, and the Housing Authority well."

The protest was entered by R. A. Hunt, representing the Durham Business and Professional Chain; Ben Ruffin, UOIC; N. B. White and J. H. Wheeler with Durham Committee On Negro Affairs; Rev. L. H. McDonald, Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance; and tenants of the project.

Wheeler, speaker for the protest group, said they considered the firing to be a total effort to divert and divert the blacks of responsible planning and attention of the housing (See HOUSING page 9A)

FNWC Seeks More Funds For Girl's St. Training School

The State Training School for Girls at Kinston, N. C. where girls from the various communities in the state are sent for conduct correction, is without any special provisions for religious influence and training, similar to the conditions at their home to which they were exposed before being committed to the Training School.

In order to correct this condition, the Federation of Negro Womens Clubs of North Carolina, the advisory committee of the State Juvenile Correction Commission made an appeal to the 1969 General Assembly for funds with which to build and equip a chapel at the Kinston School. (See SEEKS page 9A)
