Alworth, Rentzel Go In Seven-Man Trade

DALLAS. — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League traded flanker Lance Rentzel to the Los Angeles Rams Wednesday in a whirlwind series of wheeling and dealing that also saw tight end Pettis Norman and tackle Tony Liscio and Ron East leave the Cowboys.

Rentzel was traded to the Rams for tight end Billy Truax and wide receiver Wendell Tucker.

Norman, Liscio and East went to San Diego for wide receiver Lance Alworth.

Rentzel, who received a five-year probation sentence last month on a guilty plea of exposing himself to a 10-year-old girl, missed the last five games of the regular season in 1970 and the NFL playoffs because of the incident.

"This was a difficult decision made in the best interests of the team," said Sid Gillman, head coach and executive vice president of the Chargers.

In San Diego, he said the straight player trade, announced jointly with Cowboys'

President Tex Schramm in Dallas, will improve the San Diego team "in areas where we need it most."

The only player in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in seven consecutive seasons, Alworth was called "the all-time, all-pro in my book" by Gillman.

Ranked seventh among leading lifetime receivers, the dashing 31-year-old Houston-born player has a record of 493 catches and 9,584 yards and 81 touchdowns in his nine-year career.

Referring to the trade, Gillman said "It was made for only one reason—to help the Chargers win. We obtained three excellent players in positions in which we need help. Our club will be stronger for a trade."

Alworth caught 35 passes for 608 yards in the 1970 season.

Said Gillman: "I've never known anyone in the history of the game to have his excellence. He was the greatest Charger and Mr. American Football League."

Rentzel said "I had come back and talked with (General Manager) Tex Schramm and (Coach) Tom Landry a couple of months ago and we talked about the possibility of a trade.

"I told them then my first loyalty was to the Cowboys, but that I had a great deal of respect for them and whatever they thought was the best for me and the team was what I wanted them to do."

Rentzel added, "When you think about it, I think this is the best thing for all parties. I'm grateful they traded me to an area where I have so many friends and to such a good team and a fine organization.

"Certainly, I'm sorry to be leaving the team and the organization which stood behind me. When you get loyalty like that, you want to repay it. It was a great thing for me when Dallas gave me a chance. Right now, I'm glad to be back in the NFL. I hope to have a great year with my new team."

In his six NFL seasons, Rentzel, a former star at Oklahoma, caught 185 passes for 3,331 yards and 31 touchdowns. He also returned 39 punts for 177 yards.

Norman, who alternated with Mike Ditka at the tight end position.

Grooving With Chuckie Harris

Hi soul brothers and soul sisters, and of course, to anyone else who care enough to want the very best. We have gotten a lot of calls recently from people wanting to know how we pick the records that go on our Super Soul Survey. Every radio station differs about choosing records for the Super Soul Survey and you will very seldom find two stations that go about it the same way.

Here at WSRC radio, each week the record shops are checked to see what their top ten sellers are, then they are averaged out and listed according; for instance, if Aretha Franklin is number one at two record shops and number four at the third shop then, she would be number one on our survey. From eleven through forty we list them by request. Whatever is requested the most would be listed starting with the second ten. Our pick hits are gotten this way, each announcer listens to the new record that come in for that week; the one that the majority think is the best is the pick but also concerning our survey, there have been times when we were a few days late in coming out with it.

Our manager, Jim Mays, prints our survey for us on his own free time. Of course, as in the life of any executive free time is a rarity, but nine out of ten times he will find time to print it for us. So, when we are a little late with the survey, please bare with us because you can rest assure it will be there.

If you have been keeping up with our survey lately, I'm sure you have noticed that the top ten has been much the same for the past four weeks, which to me is an indication that you are appreciating the music that we play more. For quite some time now, a record would make the top ten in our area, but would only stay there a week or two. Now with the top ten staying more or less the same, it also shows that as long as the artists put out good records the public will stay with them.

Well, I guess you know, the Mickey Mouse says it's time to stray, so until next week you "Walk tall and stay loose."

Bosox Blast Yankees, 7-2

BOSTON. — Unbeaten Sonny Siebert picked up his seventh victory Wednesday night as Reggie Smith slammed a two-run home run and the Boston Red Sox took 7-2 decision over the New York Yankees.

Siebert, who heaped his own cause with two hits and a sacrifice for a perfect day at the plate, led off the winning rally with a single. Smith, who already had a pair of singles on top of a three-hit performance the previous night, then drilled a shot into the right field bleachers well beyond the 380-foot mark for his sixth home run.
