

NCCU Alumni Day Set For September 25

Dr. Annette L. Phinazee, dean of North Carolina Central University's School of Library Science, this week announced the schedule of the school's Alumni Day, Saturday, September 25.

A number of alumni and friends of the library science school have indicated their plans to attend, Dr. Phinazee reported.

Participants will register, have coffee, and tour the library science quarters in the James E. Shepard Memorial Library at 9:30 a.m. Group meetings are scheduled from 10:35 a.m. to noon. A luncheon at the university cafeteria is set for 12:15 p.m., and an alumni business meeting is scheduled for 1:45 p.m.

The first Alumni Day celebration is being held on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the school of library science. A souvenir booklet, prepared for the occasion, will be dedicated to Daniel Eric Moore, who served longest as the school's dean.

Former teachers in the school of library science are among those who have said they will attend, Dr. Phinazee said.
