Thursday Highlights

9 a.m.—PARADE—"Thanksgiving Parade"—Presented as Bob Barker and Gail Fisher host the New York parade; Marilyn Van Derbur provides comment at the Toronto, Canada, parade; the Philadelphia parade is narrated by Herschel Bernardi and Beverly Garland; and Greg Morris and June Lockhart host the Detroit parade. WTVD, WFMY.

9 a.m.—PARADE—"The 45th annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade" will feature, among hundreds of attractions, the McDonald's All-American High School Band of 101 musicians—two from each state and one from Washington, D.C. WRDU.

Noon—SPECIAL—"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court"—This special comedy is an adaptation of Mark Twain's classic tale about a 19th-century New Englander who is unexpectedly transported back in time to the days of the Round Table—and the effects the modern man has on the chivalrous past. WTVD, WFMY.

2:30 p.m.—FOOTBALL—The number one and number two ranked college football teams clash in an all-or-none battle as Nebraska takes on Oklahoma. WRAL.

3 p.m.—FOOTBALL—"The Los Angeles Rams meet the Cowboys at Dallas in National Football League play. WTVD, WFMY.

3 p.m.—SPECIAL—"Thanksgiving Day: The World Symphony Orchestra"—140 "musical ambassadors" from 60 countries and 27 states—including James Gilmore of Durham, principal clarinetist—are brought together with the support of the U.S. State Department to perform under Arthur Fielder at Walt Disney World in Florida. WUNC.

8 p.m.—FOOTBALL—"NCAA football is featured as age-old rivals Georgia and Georgia Tech clash at Atlanta. WRAL.

9 p.m.—NORTH CAROLINA: THE ARTS—"Tales from the Toybox"—Especially for children, the North Carolina School of the Arts presents a merry musical retelling of such stories as "The Frog Prince"; Aesop's "The Wind and the Sun"; Scott's "Lochenvar"; and two fables by James Thurber—through the use of improvisational theatre. WUNC.
