Carey said plans call for the center to have quarters for overnight patient care, but HealthCo is coordinating its effort for their health care.

He said the center will provide limited dentistry, and basic medical care, including such services as environmental health and preventive medicines.

do so. He said the reported increase in black enrollment in white institutions "has been used by the federal government, by state legislatures, by foundations and corporations to decrease support for traditionally or historically black colleges and universities and increase the support of white institutions of higher learning."

"I do not find any evidence that white institutions are graduating black students in any numbers comparable to the numbers they let in," Check said.

Check said that his university is the only one for which Congress has specifically authorized federal support. "On this basis, one would assume that Howard ranks among the top among universities receiving federal support. The truth is that last year, Howard ranked 23rd among colleges and universities in the amount of federal support it received. Among the 22 institutions receiving more federal money than Howard were seven private universities possessing the largest endowments.

Check said that the United States professes "to be something we clearly are not."

"In twenty-seven years since waging a war against the forces of tyranny, fascism and genocide in Europe, I am afraid that we have become a nation more tyrannical, more fascistic and more capable of genocide than was ever conceived or thought possible two decades ago."

"We conquered Hitler, but large segments of the American population have come in their attitude toward us to embrace Hitlerism," Check said.

Continued From Front Page unprecedented in the annuals of the history of the denomination, in the retiring of five bishops, but it was definitely controlled by the delegates, who made sweeping changes. It was noted that practically all of the newly-elected bishops had ties in North Carolina. Dr. J. Clinton Hoggard, the first one elected, is a scion of a Winston family and as secretary of Foreign Missions has been in and out of the state quite frequently.

Dr. J. W. Wactor, who pastored in Birmingham, Ala., was born in Robeson County, educated at Livingstone College, entered the army as a chaplain and pastored in Sanford, before going to New York and thence to Alabama.

Dr. Clinton R. Coleman, even though born in Alabama, upon graduating from Livingstone, held many pastorates in the state. His last one was at Evans Metropolitan, Fayetteville. He was transferred to Pennsylvania Avenue Church, Baltimore, Md. His development of the property of that church, located in the slum area, commanded the praise of the entire city of Baltimore.

Dr. J. H. Miller, also a graduate of Livingstone College and Hood Theological Seminary, after pastoring in New England for a number of years, was transferred to Goler Metropolitan, Winston Salem, where he made an enviable record. His most recent pastorate was at Broadway Temple, Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Arthur Marshall, St. Louis, Mo., has been one of the true circuit-riders. After finishing Livingstone and Hood Seminary he pastored in North Carolina and thence to Kansas City and moved to Metropolitan, St. Louis. He has deep roots in High Point. He is an uncle of Robert J. Brown, Special Assistant to President Nixon.

The story of George J. Leake is phenomenal. He rose from an encounter with the law, as a juvenile, in his hometown of Wilson to the high post of bishop. He also attended Livingstone. His first break came when he was sent to Buffalo, N. Y., where he became a power in politics. He also commuted to Hood Theological Seminary where he graduated. He was sent to Grace Church in Charlotte and not only did a good job there, but embarked on a building program that helped clean up some of the Queen City's slums.

This accomplishment put him in the forefront of the community life and he was chosen to head one of the city's housing and poverty program. He ran for mayor of the city last year and lost by a small margin.

The Rt. Rev. William Alexander Hilliard, Detroit,

Mich., will be the presiding prelate over the Central North Carolina Conference, succeeding Bishop W. A. Steward, who was retired. He also is familiar with North Carolina, having pastored St. John, in Wilson, before being sent to Greater St. Paul, in Detroit.

Alexander Barnes, Durham, who has headed the Public Relations Department for 16 years, was elected for another 4-year term, without any opposition.

the educational institutions they represent in increased understanding of the opportunities and the problems of the South and Georgia. The bridge that they will help build between business and education can but only bring together both sides in a united effort for self-improvement."

Dr. Henderson has held his current post at Clark College since 1965. His current board memberships include, among others, those of the National Bureau of Economic Research, the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association, and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. He is also a Trustee of the Ford Foundation. Dr. Henderson holds the Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Iowa.

In response to word of his election to the bank board,

Dr. Henderson offered this comment: "I look upon this as an excellent opportunity to be of further service in the Atlanta community and in the South in bringing to the attention of banking interests as well as our educational institutions the great problems that still lie ahead in furthering opportunity for all people. I shall work hard with the C&S National Bank to further the common interests of all of us in Atlanta and in the South."

Mt. Pisgah has earned the right to be called the leading church in the community being foremost in race relations and ecumenical cooperation. The 11:00 a.m. services broadcasted for one month in January, 1970 were the first of any black church in the county. Another series is now in progress. Televised studio programs are also recent church history.

Young people are involved in every phase of the church program and youth from 18-21 on every board.

Rev. Saunders was the first black president of the Ministerial Association. He is a member of the executive board of the NAACP, advisory committee of the Social Service, Board of Directors of Alcohol Control, second Vice Chairman of the Democrat Executive Committee of Catawba County, The Human Relations Council, and Chairman of Inter Church Housing Cooperation of which he founded.

A Pre-Dedicatory Banquet slated Saturday, May 27, 1972-7:30 p.m. Bishop Henry W. Murph presiding prelate of the Second Episcopal District of the African Methodist Church will be our honored guest at 11:00 a.m., Sunday Bishop Murph will preach. Deditoral service will follow at 1:00 p.m.
