Funds Awarded Roughly Equal to Quarter of U.'s Annual Budget

North Carolina Central University currently has three million dollars in federal grants in force, Chancellor Albert N. Whiting told UNC President William Friday this week.

Although some of the federal money is for periods longer than the current fiscal year, the gross amount of federal funds awarded is roughly equal to a quarter of the university's total annual budget.

It is this level of support that could be interrupted should the result of Judge

John H. Pratt's ruling that North Carolina has been negligent in submitting desegregation plans be a cut-off of federal funds to the university system.

Judge Pratt ruled February 16 in U.S. District Court that North Carolina has not submitted a plan for desegregation of the public universities, as requested by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The court made the same judgment against several other Southern states in a suit brought against HEW by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Cameron West, UNC's vice president in charge of planning said recently that no request for a desegregation plan has been made by HEW since the restructuring of the state's system of higher education. West has reported that a draft plan to "reduce the identifiability" of the traditionally

Black Housing Mgr. Named To HUD Post

Controversial Figure Picked By Pres. Nixon

WASHINGTON — (NBNS)

A controversial black housing manager has been nominated by President Nixon as an assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, it was announced Wednesday.

H. R. Crawford, who has, during the last two years, gained a reputation for being a tough businessman and disciplinarian, would be the highest ranking black in the Nixon Administration if his nomination is confirmed by the Senate.

A self-avowed "law and order" man, the 34-year-old Crawford has said that he carries a gun around his projects. When it was rumored in early January that he would be nominated to the HUD post, John Hampton, of the National Tenants Organization (NTO), said the appointment would be "further confirmation that the Nixon Administration is hostile to public housing."

Crawford, who has chaired public housing projects

Medical Care To Be Provided For Syphilis Study Survivors

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — Caspar Weinberger, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, intervened last week and announced that all necessary "medical care" will be provided survivors of a controversial syphilis experiment known as the Tuskegee Study.

Last week, officials at HEW said now that the study had ended, they had no authority or funds to continue physical examinations and medical treatment for the 40-year experiment. The study of untreated syphilis began in 1932 and ended only last year after public disclosure of the project.

The study involved more than 430 black men from Macon County, Ala. At least 28 and perhaps as many as 107 of the participants died as a direct result of the untreated disease.

Weinberger, in making the announcement, said: "I have personally reviewed the facts in this study. Because of this highly unusual and, to our knowledge, fortunately unique research project, I feel that the federal government has a strong obligation to continue medical care for all the participants by providing them a full range of medical services for the rest of their lives."

Weinberger said he had directed the Public Health Service to provide the medical care.

The meeting will consist of speeches and panel discussions beginning Wednesday afternoon, March 14, with an address by Ernest L. Hogan, president, People Life of Washington, D. C., a veteran of nearly forty years in the industry.

First Black and Second Student Nominated To Duke Trustees

A second student and the first black have been nominated for membership on the Board of Trustees of Duke University.

Susan Tift, a senior English major from St. Louis, Mo., and Dr. C. E. Boulware, a mathematics professor at North Carolina Central University, have been nominated by Duke's trustees to the state's two Methodist conferences. Jeff Kurzwil, a Duke graduate now studying law at Vanderbilt University, became the first student trustee in 1972.

Miss Tift and Boulware will join six other new trustees on the university's 36-member board. Six present trustees also were re-elected by alumni or nominated to the Methodist conferences for additional terms.

To fill vacancies on the board, the Rev. Wallace Kirby, pastor of the Hay Street Methodist Church in Fayetteville, and Mrs. Isobel Y. Martin of Lexington were elected to membership.

Under Duke bylaws four trustees are elected by alumni. Eight others are nominated by the board to the Methodist conferences, which formally elect the nominees in June. Terms of office for trustees are six years. All new and re-elected trustees begin their new terms in January, 1974.

The university alumni elected Mrs. Kathleen Watkins Dale of Cincinnati, O., and Edward S. Donnell, president of Marcor, Inc., of Chicago. Re-elected were Raymond Nasher of Dallas, Tex., and Charles S. Rhyne of Washington, D.C.

Nominated to the Methodist Church's North Carolina Conference, in addition to Boulware, are Alfred Hunt of Pittsburgh, Pa., Thomas F. Southgate, Jr., of Mt. Airy, and K. Brantley Watson of Durham. All three are currently board members.

SENATE COMMITTEE DEFEATS RENT CONTROLS

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — Splitting on an 8-to-8 vote, the Senate Banking Committee defeated last Thursday a proposal by President Nixon to impose national rent controls. In considering a presidential request to extend wage-price controls for one year, the Committee ended in a tie vote. According to Committee rules, a tie vote defeats a motion.

The proposed rent control amendment would have limited rent increases to 2.5 per cent per year in areas where apartment vacancy rates were less than 5.5 per cent. However, landlords would have been able to pass along to the tenant the cost of taxes, fees, service increases, and necessary capital improvements. The Committee also voted 9-to-3 to increase the number of workers poor from workers who make $2.75 an hour to those who make $3.50 an hour.
