Republican Governor's Association, the purpose is to contribute to the improvements of Black Communities through the offices of their respective Governors. Utilizing the Association as a medium for an exchange of ideas, methods, and strategies, the gubernatorial assistants will be able to present the best advice to the chief executives of their individual states.

At the meeting, hosted by Calvin Johnson, Counsel to Governor Kit Bond of Missouri, the Association established goals: to improve the condition of blacks; devise programs and strategies to increase black membership in the Republican Party; devise methods whereby aides can share both their positive and negative experiences with each other in an effort to achieve more effective individual skills; work toward increasing the number of black aides to Republican Governors, and cooperate with other entities for the overall improvements of all citizens of their respective states.

The Association is scheduled to meet at least three times per year, two of those meetings to be held in conjunction with the Republican Governor's Association and the National Governors Conference.

The Executive Committee members are: Roy L. Williams, Special Assistant to the Governor of Michigan, Chairman; Dr. Larnie G. Horton, Special Assistant to North Carolina Governor Jim Holshouser, Vice Chairman; Calvin P. Johnson, Special Assistant to the Governor of Missouri, Secretary Treasurer; and Ms. Cora Douglass, Assistant to the Governor of the State of Iowa.

(Continued From Front Page) workshops range from what's happening in Washington to the problem of school absenteeism. These popular sessions, featuring nationally known educators as well as PTA leaders, will also focus on such vital issues as parental involvement in the schools, financing public education, young people and the law, the fine art of parenting, and meeting educational needs of children with learning disabilities.

One of PTA's priority projects which has gained national recognition is its National Project on Smoking and Alcohol Education. In addition to examining this concern in the workshop, "New Hopes for Healthier Living," PTA delegates will hear Dr. Morris Chafetz, director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, discuss the latest facts and present information about what PTA's can do to help fight alcohol abuse.

Delegates will also elect new officers for two year terms. Nominees for national office include Mrs. Madelyn H. Wills, Lake Charles, La., for secretary; Dr. Martin W. Essex, Columbus, Ohio, for treasurer, and Mrs. Page Haddock, Jacksonville, Fla., Freeman E. Smith, Rochester, Minn., Mrs. Gerald Sparling, Bellevue, Wash., and Mrs. Tony Patch, San Francisco, Calif., for vice-presidents from regions.

Mrs. Herndon pointed out that this annual meeting of more than 1,000 delegates, representing some 35,000 local PTA units across the nation, provides the opportunity for members to actively participate in the formulation of the National PTA priorities for the coming year.

LINKS awarded cash prizes to the winners of a Poster Contest. The posters represented the many ways children interpreted the Fair's theme: Health! Its A Family Affair. Johnny Mangum and Gregory Lee of grade six at Pearson School won first prize awards of twenty-five dollars each. Second and third place awards of fifteen dollars and ten dollars respectively, went to Linda Ross and Edward Allen. Both are fifth grade students at Club Boulevard School. Ten other students received awards of 2.50 each for honorable mention. The judges were James M. McIntyre, executive director of Allied Arts, and Mrs. Edward Schamp, president of the Durham Art Guild.

Other special events attracted a steady flow of viewers. A puppet show "Joe-Joe and His Friends" was staged at intervals by the Expanded Nutrition Aides of the Agriculture Extension Service. The Health Education Staff at Lincoln Health Center sponsored an hourly Health Film Festival. It dealt with a variety of topics including nutrition, sickle cell anemia, emphysema and venereal disease. Students in Health Education 350 at NCCU entered a poster display and slide-tape presentation on high blood pressure.

Many viewers commented that Watts Hospital had the most lively and unique exhibit. The over-all design featured an octagonal structure topped with a willow, orange and white parachute. Each of the eight inner booths focused on one of specialized departments of services at Watts. The exhibit attracted large crowds to view displays or participate in demonstrations of medical procedures.

The Fair was acclaimed a success by all concerned. Many agencies and viewers expressed the wish to make the Fair an annual event. The event served to bring together a sizeable representation of the health resources available to the people of Durham and Durham County.

Many individuals and groups shared their talents and time in helping to stage the Fair. It is impossible to note the contributions of numerous supporters. A special thanks, however, should be extended to a gym class at Hillside High School and to E. A. Allen and Thomas Gilmer of the Police Department. They spent many hours erecting the tents on Wednesday. On Thursday, after heavy rains, they returned and set them up again.

The Fair Steering Committee expresses appreciation to agencies, businesses, organizations and individuals for their contributions of money, refreshments, souvenirs, volunteer service, and time. Chairpersons of sub-committees of the Steering Committee were Lt. E. A. Allen, Mrs. Delores Clement and Mrs. Freida Nash-Planning and Arrangements; Miss Mary E. Hawkins and Mrs. Ruth Clemens-Publicity; Mrs. Bernadette Watts and Fred McNeill-Program and Publicity; Dr. Charles Watts, Finance; Mrs. Mildred Page and Dr. Evelyn Schmidt were Coordinators for the Fair.

Prices for live animals were dropping in March at the same time that farmers were having to pay a higher price for the feed to grow the animals to market weight. Chick starter, for example, rose $5 a ton and broiler grower advanced $6 a ton. Dairy feeds moved up $7 a ton. Similar situations existed for beef and pork producers.

BRIGHTENERS

Laundry detergent brighteners convert invisible ultraviolet radiation into visible light. This white light, when reflected, masks yellowness in the fabric, explain extension management specialists, North Carolina State University. Although these optical brighteners do enhance color, they do not take place of good laundering procedures in removing dirt.

A few real facts about your future.

You know you have the ability. You want the chance to put it to work. The Navy is a good place to start. You have over 70 career fields to choose from...and you can learn one of over 300 different skills. And you get on-the-job training to go with your classroom work. And you get paid while you're learning. Of course, you have to earn it. You have to measure up to high Navy standards and show a willingness to do your share of the housekeeping chores. But when you're finished, you're ready to make it with a career...in the Navy or somewhere else later on.
