Volkameria Literary Club Meets At YWCA

Mrs. Virginia Alston, hostess for the regular meeting of the Volkameria Literary Club, greeted seventeen members in a setting that had been made very attractive by the Valentine motif. The meeting was held at the Harriet Tubman Branch of the Y.W.C.A.

The president, Mrs. Julia Lucas, opened the meeting by reading for meditation an appropriate prayer for the Lenten season, entitled "Love Triumphant." This was followed by an interesting "quiz" for Black History Week, the traditional period set aside to note world contributions made by Blacks.

Mrs. Katherine Thomas reviewed the highly controversial book, "Time on the Cross." The authors are Robert W. Fogel and Stanley L. Engerman. The book does not attempt to rationalize slavery or deal with it morally. The authors obtained lives of some 250,000 slaves over a ten year period or research and study.

As a result, many of the traditional ideas, concerning slavery are presented in an entirely different light. For example, the typical slave was not lazy, inept, or unproductive as traditional history as often portrayed him. He was actually harder working, and more productive than his northern factor co-workers, according to findings of the authors. Neither Eli Whitney nor Henry Ford invented the modern assembly line. Fogel says Southern slave plantations utilized the modern assembly line. "Gangs" of slaves would be assigned certain farming tasks, such as digging, while a subsequent crew would follow with planting and other chores.

Fogel and Engerman write in the book's epilogue that their conclusions strike down the view that black Americans are without culture, without achievement and without development for the first 250 years. The saddest fact of all is that the Civil War made so little difference concerning the status of the Black American. Blacks, no longer slaves, were held "on the cross" not by the chains of slavery, but by the stripes of racism.

Mrs. Mildred Amey thanked the hostess, Mrs. Alston, for the delicious dinner and the delightful period of fellowship enjoyed by the following members: Mesdames Virginia Alston, Mildred Amey, Sadie Carry, Essie Curry, Minerva Evans, Manie Geer, Mabel Gerst, Julia Harris, Sallie Harris, Maggie Kennedy, Ora Lee, Julia Lucas, Lyda Merrick, Roxie Rowland, Katherine Thomas, Marie Torain, and W.J. Kennedy, Jr.

Mrs. Gertrude Gibson Hosts Durham Blossom Garden Club

The house was beautifully decorated throughout with flowers arrangements. The 'Garden Gate' was opened by Mrs. Mary T. Horton after which a business session was presided over by the president.

During the evening, committee reports were heard. Mrs. Gibson reported that a plant has been presented from the club to the Pine Knoll Rest Home in the honor of Mrs. T.C. Graham who resides there. Miss Ruth Stephens gave a very informative report on the many kinds and care of Ferns.

Preceding the business session the hostess served a delicious dinner, buffet style, to the following members and guest: Mrs. Margaret Allen, Mrs. Mary Allison, Mrs. Margaret Fuller, Mrs. Daisy Gunn, Mrs. Mary Horton, Mrs. Mary Love, Mrs. Gertrude McBroom, Mrs. Naomi Parker, Mrs. Beatrice Spencer, Mrs. Cornetta Williams and Misses Ruth and Mary Louise Stephens with Miss Ariene Mebane as guest. Mrs. Margaret Allen thanked the hostess for an enjoyable evening. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Daisy Gunn.

A man should not allow himself to hate even his enemies, because if you indulge this passion on some occasion, it will rise of itself in others, if you hate your enemies, you will contract such a vicious habit of mind, as by degrees will break out upon those who are your friends or those who are indifferent to you.

MAKE YOUR OWN MIXES

There are thousands of convenien foods on the market today. In general a food is termed a "convenience" food when it appears on the grocery shelf either partially or totally prepared for use. Even though convenience foods play a big role in everyone's busy life, the fact remains that cost often includes a built in maid service.

In an effort to save both time and money, consumers may find it easy and economical to make their own mixes for convenience. Hot chocolate drinks are now very popular whetehr used for breakfast or in-between snacks. When made with milk, they add much needed protein and calcium to the diet.

Here are two that are quite inexpensive, delicious and nutritious:

COCOA MIX

4 cups non-fat dry milk powder
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup cocoa
pinch salt

Stir together. Store in jar with a cover. To make one serving; Add one cup hot water to 1/4 to 1/3 cup cocoa mix. Mix serves 24.

HOT CHOCOLATE MIX

1-8 quart size dry milk
1 pound chocolate-flavored drink
1 pound confectioners sugar
1-6 ounce size coffee creamer
1/2 teaspoon salt

Thoroughly mix all ingredients and store in container with close fitting lid. It does not require refrigeration. For individual serving: Use 1/3 cup mix, plus 1 cup hot water. For a quantity recipe to serve a crowd: Add total mix recipe, plus 2 gallons water. Heat and serve. Yield: 50 6-ounce cups.

You will find this mix easy to store, prepare, and serve. Children usually enjoy the rich, creamy flavor. The cost is less than chocolate drink made with whole milk, yet the flavor is comparable.
