12 - THE CAROLINA TIMES SAT. DECEMBER 13, 1976

From left to Right: Mrs. Josie Pittman, Life Membership Chairman, presents Life Membership Certificate to Mrs. Roxie H. Rowland, Looking on is Mrs. Shirley Few, President of the Board of Directors of Durham Y.W.C.A. and other 1975 Life Members, Mesdames Beatrice Moss, Beaulah Hill, Lula Hester, Catherine Hemingway, Lorraine Weaver, Ms. Geraldine Mitchell, Executive Director of Durham Y.W.C.A., Mrs. Marie Torian, Executive Director of Harriet Tubman Branch, Y.W.C.A. and Mrs. J. B. McLester, Chairman of Committee on Administration at Tubman Branch. Life Members for 1975 unable to be present include Ms. Ila J. Blue, Mesdames Beatrice S. Cherry, Verdelle Johnston, Margaret S. Shearin, Alice M. Stewart, Marian H. Thorne, Naomi Thorpe, Carlotta R. Holmes, and Dr. Irene D. Jackson.

CH APEL HILL

CHAPEL HILL

PEL HILL

4

F

CHAPEL HILL

CHAPEL HILL

CHAPEL HILL

HILL

CHAPEL

CHAPEL HILI

CHAPEL HILI

MEAT-

(Continued From Page 1-A) Compliance Staff for the federal to cut off Maryland state meat Accordingly, USDA officials inspection program.

Fraley, president of Fraley Packing Company, Inc., operated two retail outlets in the for sale in the District. District and supplied several other local markets. During the course of the trial, his Thurmont plant after it had Fraley was convicted of C trunks of cars; offered these 20, 1975. The Federal Meat Inspection products for sale; and, as a general practice, offered for sale Act was enacted by Congress to protect the health and welfare of spoiled, slimy and decomposing pork products that had been consumers by helping to assure washed and reconditioned in that meat and meat food order to deceive potential products distributed to them are buyers, APHIS said. wholesome, not adulterated, and Witnesses also said it was a properly marked, labeled and general practice at the markets packaged, Goodman said. inspection seals from pork inspect the operations of meat products to conceal the fact that packers, to insure that the meat they were being illegally offered transported and sold is free from disease and harmful additives In addition, Fraley continued and is processed under sanitary / to process uninspected meat at conditions.

Prosecutor John P. Hume, been suspended from the willfully and continuously assistant U. S. attorney, Maryland state inspection scheming to defraud consumers substantiated 44 instances in which Fraley, or employees found it operating under He previously was convicted under his instruction, unsanitary conditions and on misdemeanors in 1963 and transported from Maryland to endangering public health. the District of Columbia occurred during the period from his Maryland plant into the non-federally inspected meat products in unrefrigerated January 1, 1973 through April District.

The substantiated violations products across state lines from program because APHIS officials of the protection of this Act. 1967 for illegal transportation of

CHAPEL HILL-

CHAPEL HILL-

CHAPEL

T

CHAPEL HILL-

CHAPEL HILL-

CHAPEL HILL -

CHAPEL HILL

CHAPEL HILL-

CHAPEL HILL

SPRUCE UP THE HOLIDAY SEASON with a fabulous MARY KAY BEAUTY SHOW Complete line of products for men, too. Call: Eunice L. Bradley 596-1279

A Musical Tribute To Tom Covington

- Allen A. M. E. Church of Jamaica, N. Y., gave a Musical Tribute Thomas Covington, Sunday, December 7.

"Tom" as he is affectionately called by his friends is retiring and will return to Durham with his wife to live.

Tom was privileged to sing at the White House in 1939 when the King and Queen of England visited the late President F. D. Roosevelt. He also toured with the Camp Meeting Choir and the Union State Quartet who broadcast over CBS radio for 13 vears.

Tom's return to Durham will be an asset to Durham and in particular, his church.

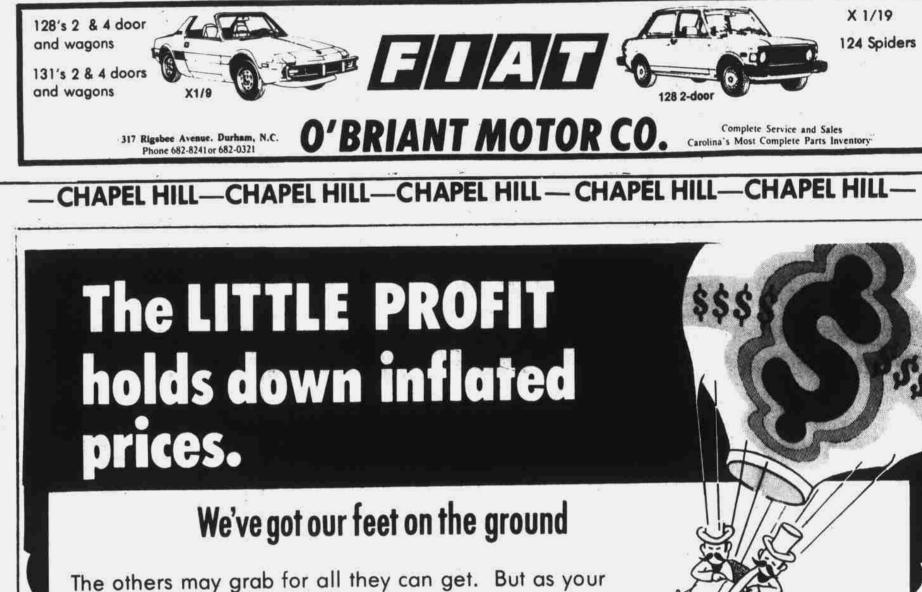

YES, WE ALL TALK by Marcus H, Boulware, Ph. D.

I have taught students public speaking for several years. The one thing that gets me is the unwillingness to make proper preparations for a speech. Many don't see the importance of thinking out what they want to say.

Consequently, they say, in many instances, absolutely nothing.

Preparation of speech material is a prime requirement of successful public speaking. Even in extemporaneous speaking is this true.

The best speeches are as unprepared as they may app

Little Profit dealer, we won't release our volume sales philosophy. We intend to put every customer in a new car at less profit. We've taken our stand!

casual inspection. Of one thing we are sure, the speaker does a superb mental job of marshalling of data.

If you know, long in advance, that you are to make a speech of a certain length on a certain subject at a definite time, you can do a complete job of preparatory work. You can do research, consult files, gather advice, try out the entire speech on your family or your friends.

READERS: I have now a new supply of the pamphlet 'Hints on Public Speaking." For it, send two stamps and a long self-addressed business envelope to M. H. Boulware, 430 Mercury Drive, Tallahassee, Florida-32304.

THEATRICAL WORLD

NEW YORK -

You just can't wipe those smiles off the faces of movie directors Sidney Poitier and Berry Gordy. Variety's list of ' 50 Top-Grossing Films" for the week ending November 26 looked like this: 1. "Let's Do It Again." 2. 'Mahogany." 3. "Jaws' 4. "Three Days of the Condor." 5. "Night Caller."

Richard Wesley, who opened "Uptown Saturday Night" and "Let's Do It Again" has another film, "The Sirens," based on his award-winning play. It will be produced by Lathan & Thomas Productions which is now in the midst of raising the $500,000 budget. Latter is headed by Hank Thomas, a physicist who at one time was a saxophone player and Al V. Davis, an MBA who's vice president for Development at Voorhees College in South Carolina. Director of the film will be Bill Lathan, a NYC medic who has many credits as an actor and director and last directed Ed Bullins' "The Fabulous Miss Marie.'

Sylvia Syms, who has been called "a legend who deserves the label in the competitive world of singers," is also an actress in a class by herself. She has been heralded all the world over as a "singer's singer," and will be heard in concert, along with guitarist Kenny Burrell in a Jingle Bells & Jazz benefit on December 20 at Town Hall for Harlem's Hale House and Northside Center for Child Development.

Terrese.

Gordon Parks, Jr. is director of 'Aaron Loves Angela,' a contemporary romantic drama starring Kevin Hooks and Irene Cara in the title roles, Robert Hooks, Moses Gunn, ERnestine Jackson and Leon Pinkney which Columbia Pictures will open in NYC on December 21. The film, produced by Lloyd Gilmour, Jr. was filmed on locations in New York City and focuses on the romance of a black youth and a Puerto Rican girl. Opening night will be a benefit for the Police Athletic League.

