Socialist Candidates Urge Emergency Action to Defend Black Rights

NEW YORK - The following statement was released by Peter Camejo and Willie Mae Reid, Socialist Workers Party candidates for president and vice-president:

"Desegregation in Boston is in peril. The racist forces are getting bolder every day. They are well organized. They are encouraged by the antibusing stance of government officials of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

"The racists believe their campaign of violence can subvert the court-ordered busing plan. They believe they can terrorize the Black community and cow all supporters of desegregation into silence. They believe they can deal the struggle for Black rights a blow that will be felt across the country.

"We must prove them wrong. In the past few weeks the antibusing movement has escalated its drive to keep the schools segregated. They have created an atmosphere of violence - an atmosphere identical to the one that produced lynch-mob attacks last year. This terror has been taken INSIDE the schools. White students, acting under the direction of antibusing groups like ROAR, are assaulting Blacks in the classrooms and corridors, trying to enforce their 'white only' rule through intimidation and violence.

"At the same time, the Democratic party officials who rule Boston are giving the green light to the establishment of segregationist private academies for white students who are boycotting the schools.

"What is happening today in Boston is not only a Boston issue. It is a national emergency. It must be answered by a renewed mobilization of all those forces committed to defending Black rights and the besieged Black community in Boston.

"Boston remains the focus (See BOSTON, Page 10)

Harry Groves To Be NCCU's Fifth Dean Of The Law School

Harry E. Groves, who began his teaching career here in 1949, will become the fifth dean of the North Carolina Central University School of Law on June 1.

Chancellor Albert N. Whiting of NCCU announced the appointment of Groves at a press conference Friday afternoon. The appointment was approved Friday morning by the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina.

Groves, a native of Manitou Springs, Colorado, has served as dean of the law school at Texas Southern University and as president of Central State University in Wilberforce, Ohio. He is now professor of law at the University of Dayton, Ohio.

Groves is the author of three books, a contributor to four others, and has written numerous scholarly articles. He is a graduate of the University of Colorado, holds the Juris Doctor degree from the University of Chicago, and earned his Master of Laws (LL.M) degree from Harvard University.

He was a member of Fayetteville City Council in 1951-52, and practiced law in Fayetteville for four years. He had previously taught law at North Carolina College, now North Carolina Central University, from 1949-1951.

In announcing the appointment, Chancellor Whiting said, "Mr. Groves will be confronted with both challenge and opportunity as dean of the NCCU School of Law. Not only will he be responsible for overseeing the construction of our new law school building, but he will also be responsible for projected program improvements, faculty and staff expansion, library and instructional improvements, and the development of new thrusts in co-and-extra-curricular activities for students."

NCCU was authorized by the 1975 General Assembly of North Carolina to construct a

$2.5 million law school building. The law school's enrollment is currently being held below 225 because of crowded conditions in the existing building.

Groves succeeds LeMarquis DeJarmon as dean. DeJarmon will return to full-time teaching when the law school begins its 1976-77 academic year in August.

BLASTS SUPERPOWERS FOR SUPPLYING ARMS

NAIROBI

(Hsinhua) - Arap Moi, Kenyan vice-president and minister for Home Affairs, in a speech last week condemned the superpowers for supplying large quantities of arms to independent African countries in order to use Africans to kill fellow Africans, according to a Kenya news agency report.

Moi said the greatest challenge to the independent Africa today "is its ability to stand on its own feet and exert its influence on the world affairs in the midst of innumerable pressures from external forces."

He called on independent African countries to be fully aware of this situation and act collectively to avert any danger to their independence. Moi stressed self-reliance, saying, "the more dependent a nation is on foreign aid, the more it is influenced by a country to which it is dependent."

PUSH AND BLACK PRESS JOIN FORCES ON FBI MINORITY EMPLOYMENT

Reverend Jesse Jackson, board members of PUSH, and the president of National Newspaper Publishers Association - the Black Press of America - held a series of meetings in the nation's capital Monday through Thursday, visiting Clarence Kelley, director FBI; Attorney General Edward Levy of the Department of Justice and President Gerald Ford in a concerted drive to ascertain the Federal Bureau of Investigation's affirmative action program.

These meetings represented a continuing effort of the Black Church and the Black Press to assume partnership roles in expanding the efforts and thrusts of Black Americans to participate at all levels of the Executive Branch of the U. S. Government. As in all federal departments, the majority of blacks in the FBI are in the lower grades, and less than one per cent of the FBI agents are black.
