'God's Provisions'

God never leaves His children alone for long. He has us directly in mind even when we sometimes forget and deny Him as being our primary source for everything. If our God never leaves us alone, and He does not, who would not enjoy serving Him who continues to show loving care? God does not provide for us simply because we totally meet all of His specific requirements—He does so anyway. If the idea expressed here were the true personality of God, none of us would receive anything from the God of men's salvation. However, it is not so that we just have to be so precise to the letter in order to secure some key favors from our God.

God very well understands that the Holy Trinity belongs in a category all set apart to itself. Therefore, the category of the Holy Trinity is called the "Holy of Holies." Because of this special setting, anything which men attempt to offer in this channel as a sacrifice would certainly be insufficient. Since men cannot offer a supreme sacrifice of worthiness to our God, all men need to learn how to forever depend on Him for their total care.

God is not like men who quickly cut others asunder because we do not always reach to the mark of the high calling as demonstrated likened unto Jesus Christ our Lord. However, I am certainly not presenting any kind of excuse for men afar off nor nearby to lean on because God can drop men from His divine provisions list without further notice. In other words, let it be well known today that most of us who are of a reasonable age have already received sufficient notice on how we should rely on Him for our well-being.

All persons and all things which God has brought into existence, our Father knows how to sustain. In fact, men are not residing here on earth by mistake although we are prone to making the same, but rather God has so willed that we come to earth to live in a heavenly atmosphere through serving men according to His purpose thus finding an everlasting place of rest with Him in the future.

While we labor here on earth, God's provisions are likened unto a slew of hogs that find themselves feasting under an acorn tree. The hogs are steadily eating acorns and when it appears that no more fruit will fall to the ground for their consumption, more acorns suddenly fall to ease their starvation.

He who hath ears to hear—let him hear.

Better Homes and Gardens Club Sponsors Pre-Valentine Celebration

On Monday February 9, the members of the Better Homes and Gardens Club entertained their husbands and friends at a Pre-Valentine Fun Night at the home of Gardener Catherine Page, 123 Masondale Ave.

The home was beautifully decorated carrying the theme of Valentine's Day. Members of the club prepared a lovely table of repasts. The guests were invited into the dining room, buffet style, and loaded their plates with a variety of foods.

Games were played which began an evening of fun. Many gifts were given to the winners. Also, door prizes were given to the guests. The Program Chairman, Gardener Beulah Hill, prepared songs for the group to sing. Gardener Mildred Smith led in the singing of "Loves Old Sweet Song, I Love you Truly, and Sweet Mystery of Life." The following guests and members declared the event a most enjoyable evening of fun: Elvin Eings, W. L. Watson, J. W. Hill, Mrs. William Allison, Mrs. Modessa Justice and Ms. Nettie Davis. Members: Ella Brown, Mable Bryant, Magnolia Eings, Ella Floyd, Beulah Hill, Thomasine Shaw, Mildred Smith, Mary Taylor, Carrie Veree, Frances Watson and Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Page who hosted the fun night. The President, Gardener Ella Brown, thanked Mrs. Page for a most enjoyable evening.

North Carolina Mutual Heritage Room Scheduled For Sun. Opening

NASHVILLE, TENN. — A newly constructed basic sciences center at Meharry Medical College will be named the Harold D. West Basic Sciences Center in honor of the first black president of the college who served in this capacity for 14 years (1952-1966). Dedication ceremonies will be held from 2:00-3:30, Thursday, February 26, according to Dr. Edward High, Chairman of the event.

The new basic sciences building will provide teaching, laboratory and office space for students in medicine, dentistry and graduate studies and will house a new animal hospital. It will bring together the departments of anatomical sciences, biochemistry and nutrition, microbiology, pathology, pharmacology and physiology. The requirements for multidisciplinary teaching and laboratory areas were considered in designing the building and each laboratory will be adaptable to the teaching needs of more than one field.

The Center will contain 292,000 gross square feet of floor area distributed over six levels. Outdoors will be introduced into the interior through the four-story atrium, the circulation center for the whole complex. At either end of this sky-lighted space there will be elevated shafts and stairways.

North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company will open the first phase of its Heritage Room at an open house Sunday, Feb. 22 from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. Located on the Twelfth Floor of the company's Home Office Building at Mutual Plaza, the Heritage Room will be dedicated as a "Shrine to the Black Presence in American History," and its opening coincides with the annual national observance of Black History Month and the celebration of the nation's Bicentennial.

The Heritage Room will house exhibits and displays intended to show the contributions black Americans have made to this country's growth and development. The exhibit on display at the opening will be THE BLACK PRESENCE IN THE ERA OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION exhibit that

North Carolina Mutual has on permanent loan from the Smithsonian Institution. Developed by the National Portrait Gallery, the exhibit is a presentation of the broad spectrum of life experienced by blacks before, during and after the American war for independence.

The exhibit has six sections including one devoted to black participation in the Revolutionary War, the black clergy, the accomplishments of blacks in scientific and literary fields, and replicas of documents and letters that paint a verbal portrait of some aspects of the 18th Century black experience, variety of professional endeavors. The company also plans to develop a North Carolina Mutual Heritage Wall that will honor those employees of North Carolina Mutual who have made outstanding contributions to the company's emergence as the country's largest black-managed financial institution.

Visitors to the Heritage Room are asked to enter the building through the Chapel Hill Street entrance to go to the Twelfth Floor Heritage Room area. Once on the Twelfth Floor, tour guides will be available for assistance.
