A $3,200 economy car that won't end up costing you $4,200.

The 1976 Fiat 128 Custom. $3,200.

All economy cars start at low prices. But what happens when you add things like tinted glass? Or radial tires? And what about full-side moldings, front-wheel disc brakes, a rear window defroster and door-to-door carpeting? When the car happens to be a Fiat 128 Custom, all that comes as standard equipment. So absolutely nothing happens.

A lot of car. Not a lot of money.
