

Inscoc Tenants Confront Property Owner

Members of Carolina Action and West End Community Action who are tenants of the Inscoc Realty Company Wednesday took their grievances to Dr. R. Rosenstein, a property owner whose units are managed by Inscoc.

"It's time that the owners of substandard houses take some responsibility for the actions of the realtors who manage their property," said spokesman Ms. Elizabeth Meeks, "but like Bobby Inscoc, Dr. Rosenstein won't meet with us as a group and so we have to come to his office to be heard."

About fifteen people crowded Rosenstein's office on Main Street to present him with a statement requesting that he press

Inscoc to meet with tenants. Earlier this week, it was reported that a member of the group called Rosenstein to ask him to meet with a small group of tenants, but he refused saying that he would only meet with renters individually.

"Mr. Inscoc won't meet with us and Dr. Rosenstein won't meet with us so we have to go to their offices to make our situation clear," said Ms. Lucy Browning.

Black Highway Patrolman To Get Hearing April 9

JACKSONVILLE - highway patrolman for The firing of a black an alleged affair with white women has met protest from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Michael L. James was dismissed October 31, 1978 after Ms. Linda Frey complained on October 25 of having a sexual affair with James in the back seat of a patrol car. James denied the charge, which has been recanted by the women, sources say.

Major Glenn Russell heads up disciplinary investigations for the Highway Patrol, but said the state's personnel privacy prohibits release of information relating to the firing.

An April 9, hearing has been set for James before Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety Herbert Hyde. Hyde said the hearings will be open to the public, that is if James agrees.

Focusing on the 34 blacks employed out of nearly 1200 highway patrolmen, SCLC's Golden Frinks claimed this week that "jealous white male chauvinists dug up the story on James". Frinks also alleged dual treatment of white high patrolmen charged with more serious offenses than James. He charges that the white investigators didn't give James a fair hearing.

"All of these white chauvinist men that are running the highway patrol just went out and investigated and started digging up a story which the girl later denied," said Frinks.

"If Colonel Jenkins could keep from dismissing a white patrolman for killing a black man in Hyde County back Hyde County back in 1976, he shouldn't try to dismiss the black man in these case because of a white woman."

Secretary Herbert Hyde said that he didn't know the details of the case when approached, but said if charges of racism within the patrol were true, particularly in James' firing, it would not be condoned by him.

Frinks said demonstrations may erupt outside the Archdale Building where Hyde says the hearings will be held.

"I'm trying to do it (organize a demonstration) prior to the meeting during the April 9 meeting in the Crime Control Division Conference room in Raleigh," Frinks said. "I think that this will have more affect and would raise the issue that people could take a look at that highway patrol as it now exists. Secretary Hyde is due to give more respect to Mr. James than he is getting."

Toney Penna Talks Golf

Selecting golf clubs starts with selecting the shaft that's right for you. Try shafts with different flexes, weights and material. Then talk things over with a pro familiar with your swing.

Here are a few things to keep in mind when deciding which shaft to order:

Young and powerful golfers need extra-stiff shafts. Those who can't put as much muscle into a swing should choose flexible shafts.

Today's lightweight steels, and especially solid graphite, make the finest shafts ever. Graphite is so light that most of the club's weight can be concentrated in the clubhead, where it does the most good.

The right shaft can make a major difference in your game.

Mr. Penna, a former leading tour and club pro, is the designer of the widely imitated MT irons and head of the Toney Penna Company,

Store Manager Charged With Assault by Shopper

BY PAT BRYANT

A white Montgomery Ward manager has been charged with assaulting Mrs. Caroline Bell, a local black woman March 14 while she shopped in the South Square Mall store. Bill Findley, Montgomery Ward's Boys' Department manager would not discuss the charge. He referred questions to Chapel Hill Attorney Lunford Long who would not comment on the pending case.

Mrs. Carolina Bell, along with Ms. Rhonda Allen, a Duke senior, Ms. Patricia Bolden, a cousin-in-law, and her daughter, Iris Bell, were shopping at Montgomery Ward's store between eight and eight-thirty during a recent sale. Sale announcements in hand, Mrs. Bell and the trio of young women had bought several sale items but were having problems getting pajamas for her son.

There were none left in stock, Mrs. said she was told by a saleslady who, she said summoned Manager Bill Findlay when Mrs. Bell asked for a substitute for the pajamas advertised.

It was three or four minutes before the manager arrived, she said, "and when he started walking toward us, I could tell he had an attitude."

"I doubt that a rain-check would do you any good," Mrs. Bell contends.

Then Rhonda Allen quipped that the store was engaging in false advertising, says Mrs. Bell, and "probably didn't have any pajamas anyway."

Standing in close proximity to Rhonda's face, the manager hollered "I am not a liar", Mrs. Bell says.

Mrs. Bell says she then interrupted the manager, telling him that he shouldn't be hollering at Miss Allen.

"I can holler at anybody I want to holler at," Mrs. Bell claims the manager shouted to her. "I don't give a damn about you anyway," Mrs. Bell said, recounting more of the manager's comments.

"That's when he hit me," Mrs. Bell said. "I then told him you know you are wrong." Then Mrs. Bell says a black security guard, employed by the store grabbed Findlay and apologized for the manager's actions.

Mrs. Bell says she received a scar from where she was hit by Findlay. The blow and scar were in Mrs. Bell's breast where she says she was operated on just five weeks before the incident.

The woman admits that physical injury received was less than the emotional pain and suffering which she says continues to the present time.

"I guess they feel they can do black folk any way and get away with it," Mrs. Bell claimed, vowing not to let the matter drop. A hearing in district court is set next month.

Resolution Calls for Pardon Of Innocence For Ten and Three

BY PERITA BRYANT

A resolution for the immediate pardon of the Wilmington Ten and the Charlotte Three, along with good ole foot stomping, hand clapping gospel music, was the order of the day at the musical benefit sponsored by the Durham Chapter of the NAACP at Russell Memorial CME Church on Sunday, March 25.

The resolution on justice and freedom has come as a result of continued reluctance of Governor James Hunt to grant unconditional pardons to the members of the Wilmington Ten and Charlotte Three. This has occurred despite the U.S. Justice Department's conclusion last November that the Wilmington Ten did not receive a fair trial and that the Charlotte Three case was riddled with secret payoffs to key witnesses.

Speaking for the adoption of the resolution, Rev. L.H. Whelchel, pastor of Russell Memorial, warned blacks to be wary of state leadership. "Jim Hunt is waiting until election time to parole Ben Chavis, but let us not accept a parole!" If Ben Chavis is paroled, he will not be physically incarcerated, but his privileges will still be limited, he explained.

Whelchel also urged the black community to support the statewide boycott of North Carolina merchants during the Easter holiday season, declaring that black folk must make an economic impact on the state to bring about justice and freedom.

The resolution calls upon President Jimmy Carter and Governor Jim Hunt to act immediately to issue full pardons of innocence to the Wilmington Ten and the Charlotte Three. It also requests that the U.S. District Court Judge Franklin T. Dupree grant a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of the Wilmington Ten which

Home and the Western Missouri Mental Health Center. Tickets have been provided by Miller High Life to eight local organizations to attend one or more of the following games: Sunday, March 4, against the Golden State Warriors; Sunday, March 11, against the Portland Trailblazers.

The most weighty of all publications is probably the 1,112-volume set of British Parliamentary Papers of 1800-1900. The complete set costs $65,000, would take years to read, and weighs 3.64 tons. The total print run was only 500 sets. The publishers didn't expect it to become a best seller.

U.S. Census Bureau Recruiting Temporary Employees

The U.S. Census Bureau has a number of temporary jobs open during the next few weeks in Durham County to help prepare address lists for use during the 1980 census.

Temporary census workers usually will work three to four weeks each and will be paid on a per-address collected basis. For an eight-hour day, the average worker will earn $27 to $30 per day plus 17 cents per mile for any driving done in a private vehicle. Applicants for the jobs must be 18 years old or over, a U.S. citizen, and pass a written test.

The work involves driving or walking to compile lists of addresses of each dwelling unit in designated areas of the county. These address lists will play a vital role in taking the 1980 census. They will be used to produce mailing labels for the census questionnaires to be sent to each household in America on March 28, 1980. Then, a few weeks following the April 1 Census Day, census officials will use the address lists to determine which households have not returned their completed questionnaires. Census takers must then be sent to each non-responding household to collect the information required on the census form.

All persons indebted to said estate, please make immediate payment.
