Pryor and Tyson To Star in 'Family Dream'

Richard Pryor and Cicely Tyson, two of the decades most acclaimed black superstars, will star in their first motion picture together, in the Universal romantic comedy-drama "Family Dream," which began principal photography in Ellensburg, Washington last week.

"Family Dream," based on an original idea by Pryor, will be produced by Pryor and Michael S. Glick, and directed by Oz Scott, who will be making his motion picture directorial debut. Scott is the Tony award-winning director of the Broadway box office hit, "For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide — When the Rainbow is Enuf."

The story is based on an ex-con and a school teacher who transport problem children from a Philadelphia ghetto to the tranquility of a Washington farm. It will be filmed on locations in Washington and Los Angeles.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: "We were devastated," Carol Burnett recalled, "crying ourselves to sleep every night." What caused the devastation was when she and her husband, Joe Hamilton, realized that their 13-year-old daughter, Carrie, was involved with drugs—all kinds, "uppers, downers, cocaine, the heavy stuff," as Carrie now puts it. That was two years and one long nightmare ago. Today, Carrie, 15, is being treated at the Houston headquarters of the Palmer Drug Abuse Program, which claims a 70 percent recovery rate. Carrie looks back on times when "my head was in one place, my legs in another. First you take the drug, then the drug takes you," she told me. For Burnett, the strain exacted its toll: "I started to stutter. I was nervous and exhausted. I could talk or think of nothing else."

After Carrie's first 30 days in Houston, mother and daughter had a reunion in which they held each other for 15 minutes and cried. Carrie lives with a sponsor and attends a Houston high school. Burnett and Hamilton urge parents with similar problems to "pull their heads out of the sand." And as for insisting that their daughter get treatment even though she was angry and resistant, Burnett said, "You have to love your kids enough to let them hate you."

TV-TICKER: Lou Ferrigno and Bill Bixby exploded at each other on the set of CBS-TV's 'The Incredible Hulk' the other day. Their on-again, off-again feuding has been going on almost since the beginning of the series. But it sank to new depths when Lou once more said he was tired of playing second fiddle to Bixby. "I'm sick of your complaining," Bill replied. And, he added, it didn't take someone with any brains to play a green monster and jump around. Looks like the Hulk isn't the only green thing on this show... Kristy McNichol will not return to ABC-TV's 'Family' after this season. The two-time Emmy-winner has told the producers of her show, she wants a series of her own. She's tired of being a co-star, says the 17-year-old. "I want to do something that is more in line with my talent and my stature in this business," Kristy added... An off-screen romance has already struck the set of the new CBS series 'California Fever.' Sexy Lorenzo Lamas and pretty Michele Tobin are a new twosome definitely worth keeping an eye on... A postscript to the recent Emmy Award ceremonies—Katharine Hepburn, who was a nominee for 'The Corn Is Green,' sent this reply to her invitation to attend the festivities: "Tell them I'm dead."

CELEBRITIES IN CANDID: The average television series usually has the longevity of a snowflake in you know where. Others, of course, go on years and years. An outstanding example of the latter is 'The Danny Thomas Show' which began its video life in 1953 as 'Make Room For Daddy' and ran for 11 years. Danny Thomas' show is still being shown today. Asked why the series is still hot in so many countries, Danny shrugs and smiles. "We were a family on the screen doing a family show," he explains. "As long as there are families coming along who want to see clean television, our series will always be popular." ... Actress Jane White plays evil psychic 'Tante Helene' on CBS-TV's smash daytime hit, 'Search For Tomorrow.' But off camera, the soap star has actually experienced many frightening real-life psychic phenomena. "Something or someone touches me on the shoulder or arm, I turn around to see who it is and no one is there." ... Young people, as well as their elders, will have a chance to see how the age of chivalry originated when they tune to MGM's 'Knights of the Round Table,' a pre-Halloween TV special presented by the SFM Holiday Network. Robert Taylor will star as Sir Lancelot, Ava Gardner as Queen Guinevere, and Mel Ferrer as King Arthur.
