BABY TALK REGISTRATION—If there is a new baby at your house this month or one is expected; if you are a first-time parent; if you are wondering when your baby will smile at you; or what kind of crib to buy; or why babies spit up so much — then you need "Baby Talk," a series of twelve free leaflets sent once a month during baby's first year. They are designed to help first-time parents learn about a baby's development and parenting. The leaflets include helpful hints about clothing, baby equipment, safety and other areas of importance in a baby's life.

To receive "Baby Talk," call or write the Durham County Agricultural Extension Office, Contact Mrs. Bernadette G. Watts, Home Economics Extension Agent, 721 Foster St., Durham, NC 27707 at 688-6770. The only information that Mrs. Watts will need to enroll parents is their name and address and the name and birthdate of the new baby.

This program is sponsored by the Human Development Department of the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service.

FAMILY ASTHMA PROGRAM—If you have a child with recurring asthma attacks, between the ages of six and fourteen, check with your physician about the Family Asthma Program.

This program, sponsored by The Christmas Seal People, will be held in Duke University's Card Gymnasium on March 7, 8, 14, 15. It is designed to provide information concerning asthma for the afflicted child and his family. For additional information, contact the American Lung Association, Research Triangle Region, 834-8235, Raleigh, or Program Director, Mrs. Dottie Waters, 489-1204 in the Durham area. There will be a charge of $20 per family and only twenty families will be accepted. Pre-registration is required.

A RAINBOW BOX is overflowing at the Edison Johnson Center on Murray Avenue. Classes being offered include clogging, athletics, puppetry, gymnastics, dance, arts and crafts. Call the Johnson Center at 683-4270 for more information.

LIVING AMBASSADOR SCHOLARSHIP—If you're interested in living, working and traveling in Kenya this summer, you may get the opportunity as the 1980 ambassador for the Experiment in International Living.

This is the 27th year the local Triangle Council of the Experiment in International Living will award a scholarship for an area resident to participate. This year, the scholarship recipient will travel to Kenya in June for eight weeks where he or she will participate in a homestay, travel, and work program.

The scholarship is open to anyone in the Triangle area who will be seventeen years old by December 31, 1980. No maximum age limit, but applicants must be physically fit as work camp projects are strenuous, the climate hot and living conditions rugged.

Applications are available in Chapel Hill at the Triangle International Living Office, 400 Eastowne Drive; International Center, UNC; A Southern Season and Chapel Hill Public Library; in Raleigh at Olivia Raney Library and the NCSU Alexander International Residence; in Durham at International House, Duke University; Durham Arts Council, Stanford L. Warren and Riverview branches of the Public Library, and NCCU Counseling Center.

Deadline for applications is March 14, 1980. For more information, call 493-2920 in Durham or 942-4130 in Chapel Hill.
