

Mrs. C. V. Hauser Gets Life Membership At 85

These words echoed through the Yadkinville Community Center on March 14 and 15 and through the Fellowship Hall of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church on the 16th when Mrs. Callie Victoria Hauser of this city was honored on her 85th birthday anniversary by her thirteen children, 34 grand-children, seven great grand-children, and other relatives and friends.

The celebration began with a surprise on March 14, Mrs. Hauser's birthday, when some forty senior citizens who participate with her in a food program for the elderly shared family-provided sheet cake along with their meal and sang "Happy Birthday" to her. It ended with a reception following morning worship on Sunday.

Mrs. Hauser is the widow of the late Rev. Daniel Montgomery Hauser who died in 1965. She has spent all of her life in Yadkinville where she has been and is still active in the civic and religious life of the community. She has held offices in several organizations and has been honored as Church and NAACP Mother of the Year.

The family group entered the community center on Saturday for a family celebration where each signed a birthday card as "We Are Family" by Sister Sledge resounded throughout the center.

Following a buffet dinner, Ms. Rita C. Cannon, a granddaughter who originated and spearheaded the idea of the party, presided over a formal program where numerous members of the family paid tribute to Mrs. Hauser. Among those paying tribute were: Rev. M.E. Walker of Charlotte, a former pastor; L. Reginald Hauser, a son; Jerald Callaway, a great grandson; Mrs. Mary Olena Paige, a daughter; and Ms. Donna J. Callaway, a granddaughter.

Mrs. Hauser, a pert lady of small stature, appeared especially delighted upon receiving two group or family gifts—a silver service, and a life membership in the NAACP. Ms. Rita Cannon, a granddaughter, presented the silver service, and Dr. C. Brady Hauser, a son, presented the life membership.

Mrs. Callie Victoria Hauser receives a NAACP Life Membership plaque from Howard B. Carter as Miss Fay E. Hauser looks on. The $500 membership was given to Mrs. Hauser on her 85th birthday anniversary by her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Miss Fay E. Hauser, a granddaughter, is an actress who starred in "Roots II: The Second Generation," and more recently in "Christmas Lilies of the Fields." Carter, a nephew, is president of the Yadkin County Branch of the NAACP.

The Fayetteville Times has recognized Spec. 4 Charles T. King, III, for his plan to run from Fort Bragg to Wilmington on May 3 to collect money for the Lupus Foundation. His reason is simple: "A very dear friend has it. He plans to run the distance in about 17 hours. King has been ordained as a deacon in the St. Luke's AME Zion Church. He is desirous of entering Fayetteville State University in August and later entering a seminary, and then returning to the Army as a commissioned Chaplain. Congratulations to the "Soldier Of The Week."

Hundreds enjoyed "Expo 80" at the Cumberland County Arena on Saturday and Sunday past.

It is stated that next to Christmas, Easter is the most important feast day in the Christian World. In America, the centerpiece on the festive board is usually a fragrant baked ham studded with cloves. You might want to stick with ham.
