BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS CLUB MEETS AT MRS. LENORA HOOKER'S

The May meeting of the Better Homes and Gardens Club was held at the home of Mrs. Lenora Hooker. Devotions were led by Chaplain Magnolia Eings. Reports on recent Flower Show where the club received (4) blue ribbons, and discussions of annual worship celebration at St. Mark AME Zion Church on May 18 were discussed. A progress report was made by Mrs. Helen Brown on the 25th Anniversary Celebration to be held on June 28. Mrs. Carrie Vereen submitted names of prospective new members. Mrs. Eings reported that one of the former charter members was ill and it was suggested that visits be made and that flowers be taken from gardens. Members present: Louise Jenkins, Mable Bryant, Frances Watson, Magnolia Eings, Ella Brown, Catherine Page, Helen Brown, Gladys Dawkins, Beulah Hill, Annie Green, Lenora Hooker and Carrie Vereen. A colorful and tasty repast of seasonal appeal was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Gladys Dawkins thanked the hostess for the club.

Fayetteville Happenings

BY MRS. T. H. KINNEY

Memorial Day will be celebrated on May 26, in accordance with the federal practice of observing national holidays on Mondays. Perhaps you will consider sharing a meal with the elderly home bound persons.

Members of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority held their regular monthly meeting Saturday past at the Lakeview Country Club. Soror G.T. Hollingsworth presided. A delicious repast was enjoyed immediately followed by the business session. Plans were made for those sorors who plan to attend the 1980 Boule which is to be held in Memphis, Tennessee.

The Congregation of St. Luke AME Church which had its origin approximately a decade after the Civil War, dedicated a new sanctuary at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, May 17, while entertaining the 111th session of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Bishop Henry W. Murph officiated.

The church had its beginning in 1879 with a small band of devout people who gathered regularly at the home of Mrs. Amanda Thomas for prayer, exhortation, comfort and charity. The church was first situated on Hay Street between the former Prince Charles Hotel and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The congregation remained there for 33 years until they moved to Cashwell Street where they remained for 66 years. They moved into the new educational building on Hillsboro Street on April 9, 1978.

Dr. William M. Bell, special assistant to the Chancellor for Development at Fayetteville State University, was the guest Men's Day speaker at Simon Temple AME Zion Church on Yaddin Road last Sunday morning.

The Rev. Aaron J. Johnson, pastor of Mount Sinaia Baptist Church, was in charge of the 3 p.m. service.

Dr. Bell is a native of Polk County, Georgia, and is a retired U.S. Air Force lieutenant colonel. He holds bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. He was the first black person to become a member of the Ohio State varsity football team and was named an All-American tackle in 1931.

The Theodore Kinneys joined other friends in a "Spring Cookout" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Haile Saturday past in nearby Hope Mills. Games, fellowship and delicious food were enjoyed.

The Fayetteville Observer-Times carried an interesting article on Sunday past recognizing Marshall and his wife, Mrs. Lucille Ray. Mr. Ray retired from the Army in 1973. Mrs. Ray is a 42-year retired teacher. They enjoy a two and one-half acre vegetable farm, a rose garden, twenty chickens and compulsive bowling.

Ray works in the Pre-Trial Release Program of Cumberland County and plays the Drums for the Sunshine Rhythm Makers. He has received several awards. Mrs. Ray directs the Sunshine Rhythm Makers, is district supervisor in the Household of Ruth and is a member of the Eastern Star. The Rays share the idea that "you have to get up and do to forget your complaints."

Applications are now being taken for the 1980 National Youth Sports program to be held at Fayetteville State University June 13-July 18. Applicants must be 10 through 18-years of age. The program will be provided daily, Monday through Friday, 1-5 p.m. All participants will receive a snack lunch each day before activities and dinner at the conclusion of daily activity. Call 483-1315, 486-1349 or 486-1511 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

E.E. Smith High School football standout Stanley Davis has been invited to play in the North Carolina Jaycees' Boys Home All-Star football game on July 19. Davis has accepted a grant to North Carolina State.

"Twelve Angry Men" opened Thursday past at 8:15 p.m., at Fort Bragg Playhouse.

A "Pig Pickin'" was enjoyed Saturday past, sponsored by the Fayetteville Museum of Art back of Eutaw Center.

The annual Memorial Day weekend gathering of the National Association of E.E. Smith Alumni and Friends, Inc., will be Friday, May 23, through Sunday, at the Heart of Fayetteville Motel. Registration begins at 6 p.m.

The guest speaker at the dinner-banquet on Saturday will be Dr. Ernest A. McNeill, a 1961 graduate, who is coordinator of Area of Education and associate professor of special education at Fayetteville State University. You are invited!!!

Mrs. Jessica Denise Durham, 2015 Seabrook Road, has graduated from the 19th Class of the Agricultural Institute at North Carolina State University in Raleigh. The institute offers a two year program which prepares students to manage farms and businesses related to agriculture.

Evann Rowe Duncan has received a master of arts degree from Pembroke State University.

Mrs. Janet Lucas Henley, 6534 Amanda Circle, has graduated summa cum laude from Shaw University in Raleigh. She is a graduate of E.E. Smith High School.

Mrs. Sandra Cobb Woolweaver has earned her certificate in nurse-midwifery from Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tennessee.

This is a week you can put your feet in good foot wear. It's National Foot Health Week. "Take Care of Your Feet, One Pair-Must Last a Lifetime." Whether you are a jogger or into disco, a ballet dancer, an everyday walker, etc., be sure to consider the best of care for your child's feet as well as your own.

John Waddey, president of the Tennessee Volunteers for Life spoke Friday evening at the Seabrook Auditorium. The Right to Life Group of Cumberland County sponsored it.

Rest Haven Nursing Home observed "National Nursing Home Week" with an open house each day. Refreshments were served and the public was invited to enjoy the entertainment.

On June 21, a group plans to go to the Great Smokey Mountains to begin a white water adventure. Experienced guides will accompany the trip down the scenic French Broad River.

Cinderella was enjoyed at Pine Forest Senior High School during the weekend.

Sunday on the Lake, an arts and crafts festival was enjoyed in nearby Hope Mills Sunday past from 2-7 p.m.

A stress management workshop for teachers was held Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., at the K & W Cafeteria. Dale Robinson, NEA representative, conducted the workshop for about sixty people.

The public enjoyed a display of junior and senior high school art at Cross Creek Mall.
