

Calendar and Announcements

The council awards grants which average $400 each to community youth groups four times a year. The next awards will be made at the State Youth Council Board of Directors meeting in Asheville, September 26-28. Grant application deadline is Sept. 12.

For information and application forms, contact the Youth Involvement Office, N.C. Department of Administration, Suite 115, Howard Building, 112 W. Lane St., Raleigh, 27611, telephone 919/733-5966.

The State Youth Council is a component of the Youth Involvement Office and networks some forty youth councils across the state. Although the council advises existing councils and helps new ones get started, the grants are not restricted to youth councils.

ONE LITTLE, TWO LITTLE. . . . There's more to Indian heritage than just arrowheads. And the 50,000 Native Americans living in the state today are out to prove just that during Indian Heritage Week in North Carolina, September 20-26. Special community and statewide activities will take place.

JOIN GIRL SCOUTS — Computers, spaceships, photography, careers for women, the wonderful world of the out-of-doors — just a few of the many programs enjoyed by Girl Scouts today. The best of traditional Girl Scouting has been retained and is enhanced by new programs as contemporary as the girls themselves. Durham County Girl Scout troops are forming now. If you are a girl between the ages of 6-17 or an adult of any age, male or female, Girl Scouts want YOU! Have fun, make new friends, be a part of something great! In Durham, call 493-3234 or 489-2886.

LEARN AND SHARE N.C. HISTORY — Join the N.C. Museum of History volunteer training class. A six-session docent training class begins Monday, September 8 and meets on successive Mondays through October 13. The 10 a.m. - 12 noon sessions include four hours of North Carolina history, along with special emphasis on the new Bechtler gold and North Carolina monies exhibit which will open in late September.

Docent training also includes guided tours of the museum with emphasis on the collection and preservation areas, and detailed outlines of the programs and purposes of the N.C. Museum of History.

Following the six weeks training period, new volunteers will become tour guides and sales shop assistants at the Museum of History, which is a section of the Department of Cultural Resources.

For further information and registration, call 733-3894 or write Museum of History, Department of Cultural Resources, 109 E. Jones St., Raleigh, 27611.

KID'S DOG SHOW — The Carrboro Recreation and Parks Department is pleased to announce its third annual Kid's Dog Show. Since 1975, millions of happy children and their dogs have participated in shows all across the nation, sponsored by local recreation departments, under the joint sponsorship of the National Recreation and Park Association and Ken-L Ration.

The shows teach youngsters how to be responsible dog owners while providing them with an opportunity to have fun parading their pets and winning prizes in a variety of non-professional categories. Kids love the shows because everyone is a winner. The free spirit of Kid's Dog Shows allows both pedigreed dogs and "mutts" to take honors.

Seven categories of competition include Funniest Dog, Smallest Dog, Longest Tail, Best Behaved and Best Trick. The winner of each category is eligible for Best of Show. Regardless of who wins, each entrant is given a merit award ribbon, along with a Ken-L Ration dog care booklet, to help youngsters learn more about caring for their pet.

This year's show will be held on Saturday, September 13, at 4 p.m., on the Wilson Park field in Carrboro. Registration will take place at the Carrboro Recreation and Parks Department until September 11. Entrants must be between the ages of four and fourteen. There is no registration fee.

For more information, contact the Carrboro Recreation and Parks Department at 942-8541, extension 203.

SOUTHERN ARTS EXCHANGE, a unique project of the Southern Arts Federation, is scheduled for September 26-28 in Atlanta, Georgia. Approximately one hundred artists' representatives and agencies from across the nation will gather at Colony Square Hotel for two and one-half days of exciting activities designed to explore and develop new ideas.

Space is filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Deadline for registration is September 12. For further information, contact Southern Arts Exchange, Southern Arts Federation, Suite 712, 225 Peachtree St., NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30303 or 404/577-7244.

CHILDREN'S FALL FILM FESTIVAL — The Carrboro Recreation and Parks Department will begin its 1980 Children's Fall Film Festival on Friday, September 19. The festival will feature seven children's films for family entertainment during the fall season. All films will be shown in the Carrboro Elementary School Auditorium and will begin promptly at 7 p.m. There is a 75¢ per person admission fee.

Scheduled films and dates are:
 * September 19 - the Boatniks; * October 3 - Lassie's Great Adventure; * October 17 - The Magic Witch; * November 7 - Poco; * November 21 - Toby Tyler; * December 5 - Kidnapped; * December 19 - The Prince and The Pauper.
