

Calendar and Announcements

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN HELPING BATTERED WOMEN? The YWCA Coalition for Battered Women is offering a 30-hour training program for men and women who would like to become volunteer Advocates. Course starts Saturday, October 4, 9-5, YWCA, 809 Proctor St., Durham. Eight remaining sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7-9:30. Call 968-4646 (Orange Women's Center) or 688-4396 (Durham YWCA) for further information.

CLOTHES FOR THE NEEDY — The Social Service office of OBT has accumulated lots of clothes and is open to serve people within the community and Head Start families who may have a clothing problem.

RECYCLING is a growing industry, according to the latest figures from Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company.

During the first six months of 1980, Reynolds collected a record 101 million pounds of aluminum nationwide, a 34% increase over the first six months of 1979 and an all-time high figure during Reynolds' 13 years of recycling.

Reynolds recycles at Northgate Shopping Center, every Tuesday through Saturday, 9-11:30 a.m.

Paul S. Hayden, vice president and general manager of Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co., said that the record setting volume includes 2.1 million aluminum cans, and that consumers were paid $32 million during this period.

For more information, call toll free 1-800-228-2525.

WSSU TO HOST GRANTSMANSHIP TRAINING — Winston-Salem State University will host a Grantsmanship Training Program, October 6-10, at the University O'Kelly Library. The Program, co-sponsored by the Voluntary Action Center, is designed for college and university development officers and members of other non-profit agencies. Program participation is limited to 25 persons. Tuition is $375 and includes a 500-page Grantsmanship book along with these post-conference services: proposal critique, consultation with grantsmanship experts, information about groups of past program participants and a one-year subscription to the News (a special grantsmanship publication).

The course will be conducted by the Grantsmanship Center of Los Angeles and Washington, D.C., recognized as the largest philanthropic training organization in the nation with more than 100 courses each year. Training includes program planning, researching government and private grant sources, and writing grant applications.

To register or to obtain additional information about registration, interested persons should contact Ms. Joan Sullivan of The Grantsmanship Center, (213) 749-4721. Persons wanting to know more about local arrangements should call Mrs. Hellena Tidwell, Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations at Winston-Salem State, 761-2176.

"TRIBUTE TO MINORITY WOMEN" — The North Carolina Council on the Status of Women will sponsor its first banquet and "Tribute to Minority Women" October 11 at St. Augustine's College, Raleigh. The purpose of this tribute is to honor minority women who are making outstanding contributions to their local communities and the state of North Carolina. Tribute will be paid to those community leaders who have not previously received statewide recognition for their contributions.

The banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m. A reception will precede the banquet at the Merrimon-Wynne House, office of the North Carolina Council on the Status of Women, 526 North Wilmington St., Raleigh, from 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Persons wishing to make nominations should contact Ms. Patricia Gill, 428 N. Clarke St., Henderson NC 27536

REGISTRATION FOR DURHAM TECHNICAL INSTITUTE'S fall quarter classes will be held at Northern High School on Thursday, September 25, 5:45-8 p.m. Registration will be held at Durham Tech on September 29-30, 9 a.m.-7:30 p.m.. Fall classes begin October 1. For more information, contact Durham Tech's Admissions Office at 596-9311.

AFTERSCHOOL RECREATION PROGRAMS — The Durham City Community Education program and the Durham Parks and Recreation Department are conducting Afterschool Recreation Programs at Y.E. Smith, East End and George Watts Elementary schools. These programs operate each day school is open through June 5, 1981. The hours are Monday through Friday, 2:30-5:30 p.m.

The program offers a wide range of activities including sports and athletics, music and drama, arts and crafts, study hours, tutorial sessions, and other seasonal special events. There is a small weekly fee.

For more information, call Gaston Patterson at 683-4355 or Albert Huey at 688-2361, extension 245.

WHAT IS THIS THING ANYWAY? If it's hung over your grandmother's couch since you can remember or if you found it in the attic and it looks like art to you, bring it by the N.C. Museum of Art in Raleigh on Mondays between 2 and 4:30 p.m., when the museum staff offers its free art consulting service. They won't tell you what it's worth, but you'll find out everything else they know about it, and you might discover that you have a treasure. For more information, contact Sterling Boyd, the museum's chief of programs at 919/733-7568 or Michael Matros at the Department of Cultural Resources at 919/733-5722.

TREES FOR FALL PLANTING — The National Arbor Day Foundation reminds local organizations that they need to contact the Foundation now to line up a fund-raising project involving the sale of trees for fall planting.

Youth and school groups, clubs, churches and other organizations can sell trees in their community to raise money for their activities, and the Foundation will mail the trees directly to the customers' homes. The local sponsoring organization never has to handle the trees, according to the Foundation.

Red Maple, Sugar Maple, Redbud, Weeping Willow, Tulip Tree, and White Flowering Dogwood trees are sold for $3.50, including a profit of $1.25 per tree for the local sponsoring organization.

Organizations may obtain sample sales literature and further information by calling (402) 474-5655 or writing the National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

D.H. LAWRENCE FOCUS — A series of films, lectures, panels, and other programs focusing on the author, D.H. Lawrence, is being offered at the Durham County Library throughout September, October and November. All programs are open free of charge to the public.

Details of the entire series are available from the Office of Continuing Education, 107 Bivins, on Duke's East Campus, and at main and branch Durham County libraries. For more information, call 684-6259.

UPDATED "ALL ABOUT OSHA" edition is available free from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room 406, Federal Office Building, 310 New Bern Ave., Raleigh, NC 27601.

FREE PUBLICATIONS FROM IRS may be ordered by calling the IRS toll free telephone number listed in the directory. Among the subjects covered are: child care credit, energy credit, moving expenses and other tax breaks.

IRS PROBLEM RESOLUTION OFFICE has a toll-free number, 1-800-832-8800 in Greensboro. If you have problems you have not been able to resolve through normal channels, call the Greensboro number. They promise to cut through red tape and get to the solution faster than routine channels you have tried. You may also write: Problem Resolution Office, 320 Federal Place, Greensboro, NC 27401.

THREE MEMORABLE NIGHTS AT THE SAN FRANCISCO OPERA — If you are an opera lover or think you might want to become one, this fall is your chance to see three glorious productions of the world famous San Francisco Opera, combined with the opportunity to experience for the first time or revisit the city that is loved by people all over the world.

The Durham Arts Council is offering a tour, November 4-8, limited to twenty participants. Included in the tour package are three opera performances, Richard Strauss, Arabella, Verdi's La Traviata, and Wagner's Tristan Und Isolde. The remaining evening in San Francisco gives participants the option to see the classic musical, My Fair Lady with Rex Harrison.

The tour's daytime activities include a wine tasting visit to Napa Valley, California's most beautiful wine region, a chance to see the giant redwood trees and other famous sights.

For details, call the Durham Arts Council at 682-5519 and ask for a brochure on "Three Memorable Nights at the San Francisco Opera."

COLLEGE DEGREES WITHOUT CAMPUS LIFE — For people who find a need for a college degree, but cannot manage the time away from work, there is an alternative.

"Non-traditional" or "alternative" education takes many forms: credit for life and work experience, independent study, and credit by examination are just a few. A workshop is being offered which will make participants aware of the non-traditional learning programs available to them around the country often without leaving their own homes. Information regarding procedures will be presented along with advice on how to use resources. Persons who are currently pursuing alternative degrees from various institutions will be present to answer questions about their own experiences.

The workshop is offered by the Duke University Office of Continuing Education. It will be held on Thursday, Sept. 25, 6-9 p.m., Bivins Building, Duke's East Campus. $20 fee includes materials. For further information, call Ms. Dorothy Heatherington, director of Peer Counseling Service, Duke, 684-6259.

THE DURHAM COUNTY NURSING HOME COMMUNITY ADVISORY COMMITTEE wants to help. If you need information about nursing homes in Durham County, in the area of financing nursing home care, quality of care received by nursing home residents; or if you would like to know how you can be of service to Durham County Nursing Home residents, contact Mrs. Jane Hare, 682-8104, Coordinating Council for Senior Citizens. This agency will take incoming calls from residents and their family or friends and make appropriate referrals.

HALF-MARATHON SCHEDULED — Chamber of Commerce officials and coordinators for the Durham Half-Marathon have scheduled the Second Annual Durham Half-Marathon for Saturday morning, October 4. Charlie Payne, assistant track coach at Duke University, will serve as race coordinator. For details of the race and further information, contact Jim Mentzer, Durham Chamber of Commerce, 201 N. Roxboro St., Durham or call 682-2133.

SATURDAY MORNING LIVE — Student Theatre Guild Players in live stage production of Winnie-the-Pooh, cartoons, audience participation and full-length film. Film: "Seven Dwarfs to the Rescue", Sept. 27; Play at 10 a.m., movie at 1 p.m., Colony Theatre, 1620 Glenwood Ave., Raleigh. Tickets from Colony box office (info. 787-3638) $2. Children will be supervised throughout the performances.

INDIAN CRAFTS EXHIBIT — "Selections of Traditional North Carolina Indian Crafts," now through November 23, third floor, N.C. Museum of Art, Raleigh. Hours are Tues.-Sat., 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sun., 2-6 p.m. More than thirty artifacts from the 12th to early 20th centuries representing cultures from the Appalachian, Piedmont and coastal regions of the state will be shown.

STRING RECITAL — The Duke University String School will present Hjordis Tourian and Frances Evans in a faculty recital for violin and piano on Saturday evening, Sept. 27. The program which will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the East Duke Music Room will include Bach's Sonata III in E Major; Aaron Copland's Sonata for Violin and Piano; and Beethoven's Trio III in C minor, Op. 1, No. 3, in which Kathryn Logan will also play. The public is invited. Admission is free.

JOIN GIRL SCOUTS — Computers, spaceships, photography, careers for women, the wonderful world of the out-of-doors - just a few of the many programs enjoyed by Girl Scouts today. The best of traditional Girl Scouting has been retained and is enhanced by new programs as contemporary as the girls themselves. Durham County Girl Scout troops are forming now. If you are a girl between the ages of 6-17 or an adult of any age, male or female, Girl Scouts want YOU! Have fun, make new friends, be a part of something great! In Durham, call 493-3234 or 489-2886.

ROOTS OF RACISM — The Durham County Public Library will present a seven-part film series on "The Roots of Racism." Sponsored by Duke University, the distinguished feature-length films will be shown free of charge. Beginning on September 24, films will be shown each Wednesday at 7 p.m., in Zener Auditorium on Duke's West Campus (Sociology Building, Main Quad); and each Thursday at 7 p.m., in the auditorium of the Durham County Public Library, 300 North Roxboro Street.

CHILDREN'S FALL FILM FESTIVAL — The Carrboro Recreation and Parks Department 1980 Children's Fall Film Festival will feature children's films for family entertainment during the fall