Looks Who's On Top And Unbeaten In The NFL

By Larry Barber

It seems each fall the National Football League has more surprises to spring, revitalized teams to top the horizon, and new faces to haunt the old. The current season in just the third week follows that mode.

Last weekend, the San Francisco 49ers, the Detroit Lions, and the Buffalo Bills all won their third straight game against no losses, and they all are atop their respective divisions.

Is that news, or is that so strange? Yes, when you consider out of sixteen contests; Detroit and San Francisco won only two games apiece during last year's regular season, and Buffalo only seven.

Wait a minute now — Detroit and San Francisco. Are they not members of National Football Conference (NFC), and isn't Buffalo in the same American Football Conference division with Miami, New England, and the New York Jets?

All of the above should be marked correct, and all three clubs have a common route to success. They own seasoned quarterbacks and prized rookies.

In Detroit . . . 1978 Heisman Trophy winner, and leading Rookie of the Year candidate Billy Sims has led the Lions to lopsided victories over Los Angeles, Green Bay, and last week St. Louis 20-7. He has rushed for 153, 134, and 95 yards in a row, caught six passes for 180 more yards, and scored six touchdowns. The QB is four-year man Gary Danielson, back from an injury that kept him out all of last season. In San Francisco . . . another four-year QB Steve Deberg has settled down, and throwing the football as well as anyone in the NFL. The 49ers are getting superb production out of rookie Earl Cooper, a big, bruising back who can run and catch. These two have guided San Francisco to wins over New Orleans, St. Louis, and last week, the Jets fell to them 37-27.

In Buffalo . . . eight-year veteran Joe Ferguson appears to be back in peak form after hitting on 27 of 31 passes for 295 yards and three touchdowns in last Sunday's 35-26 win over New Orleans. The rookie sensation is Joe Cribbs, who rushed for 89 yards, caught six passes, and scored twice last week. The Bills opened the 1980 campaign beating Miami, a team they had lost to twenty straight times, and then the Jets.

As for the inter-conference matchups, the AFC, which has been dogged by the AFC in previous years; seem to be catching up. After three weeks, the two have split eight games. And by the way — there are two other undefeated teams in the San Diego Chargers, who beat Denver 30-13 last week, and the Philadelphia Eagles, 35-3 winners over the N.Y. Giants Monday night; but of course, those two clubs made the playoffs last year.

In other games last Sunday, Cincinnati upset Pittsburgh 30-28, Minnesota tripped Chicago 34-14, Miami clipped Atlanta 20-17, Cleveland held off Kansas City 20-13, Houston

Baltimore 21-16, Los Angeles buried Green Bay 51-21, New England outlasted Seattle 37-31, Dallas stopped Tampa Bay 28-17, and the Oakland Raiders turned Washington away 24-21.

This week look for at least two of the unbeaten to fall. Oakland will get by Buffalo, and Minnesota will find a way to beat Detroit. The other three should continue to win with Philly over St. Louis, San Diego over Kansas City, and San Francisco in a close one over Atlanta. For the rest, Pittsburgh over Chicago, Cleveland over Tampa Bay, Dallas over Green Bay, Houston over Cincinnati, Los Angeles over the Giants, Miami over New Orleans, Baltimore over the Jets, Washington over Seattle and New England over Denver.

THE ENERGY MISER

As the sun shines brighter and the mercury continues to rise, thoughts of saving energy turn to the summer's number one energy-user — air conditioning. Here are some tips to help you save on energy bills this summer:

— If you're in the market for a room-size air conditioner, you'll find a new government regulation a big help. Major appliances, including air conditioners, must now bear labels stating how energy efficient they are. These labels must tell how much the appliance will cost to run during one year of average use. Look for these labels so you'll know what you're buying.

— If someone told you that you could save 10 percent of the energy it takes to cool your home in the summer, at no sacrifice to your personal comfort, you might think you were being taken in by a con man, right? Well, according to the Department of Energy, there really is a secret potion — installing adequate insulation. To find out how much fiber glass insulation is recommended where you live, and for a step-by-step do-it-yourself guide, write for the booklet "Insulation Facts." If you'd like a contractor to do the work, ask for "Tips on Choosing An Insulation Contractor." These booklets are available free from the CertainTeed Home Institute, P.O. Box 860, Valley Forge, PA 19482.

— If you have whole-house air conditioning, here are some simple steps you can take now to make it work more efficiently all summer.

First, start the cooling season with clean air filters. Your air conditioner won't have to work as hard and the filters will pay for themselves in the energy you save.

Then check your condenser — the part of your air conditioner that sits outside your house. Clean the condenser coils of dust and grass clippings.

Also, your condenser should be shaded. If it has to work in the sun, it wastes a lot of energy. When you shade it, though, make sure you don't obstruct the flow of air out and around it.
