

Miss Laura Strudwick Is Wed To Reginald Turner

Mrs. Reginald Lemar Turner

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In the Zion Baptist Church on Sunday, August 17, Miss Laura C. Strudwick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Warren J. Strudwick (Mother professionally: Dr. Bette L. Caroe) of Washington, was married to Reginald Lemar Turner, son of Mrs. Corine Turner Graves of Palo Alto, California.

The Honorable H. Carl Moultrie I, Chief Judge, Superior Court of the District of Columbia, performed the 6:30 p.m. candlelight service, assisted by the Reverend James T. Wright.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Ron LaVece design of English net and Venice lace, studded entirely with crystals. The dress featured an off the shoulder bodice with a natural waist line and a chapel length lace train. She also wore a matching turban of Venice lace, dotted with crystals with an illusion veil.

Mrs. Marianna Roxborough of Washington, D.C., was Matron of Honor and Miss Dellenia Cunningham of Elizabeth, N.J., was Maid of Honor. Bridal attendants were: Ms. Edith Howard Bostic, Ms. Stephanie Bostic, Ms. Wilhelmina Bradford, Ms. Wilette Bunton, Ms. Jacqui Thompson Dodd, Ms. Yolanda Gaskins and sisters of the groom, Mrs. Corona Lynn Crowell and Miss Debra Lynn Graves. Master Claude Roxborough, Jr., Godson of the bride, was ringbearer. Dexter Price of Washington, D.C., served as best man and groomsmen were Rodney Davis, Archie Dean, James Edwards, Edward Johnson, Khoni White, Charles Ogletree, David Wilmot, and brothers of the bride, Warren J. Strudwick, Jr., and William J. Strudwick.

Ushers were Charles W. Cobb, Michael W. Cobb, James W. Cobb, Jr., and Thomas Myers.

The bridesmaids carried Hurricane Candles with white orchid bibs and the church was decorated with Hurricane Candles and baby's breath. The bride carried white orchids with ivy. Mrs. Gwendolyn Bradford and Thomas Williams rendered music, assisted by Mrs. Judith Grove at the organ.

A reception at Indian Spring Country Club followed the ceremony.

The bride and groom are graduates of Georgetown Law Center with J.D. degrees. Mrs. Turner attended the Sidwell Friends School in Washington and Boston University. Mr. Turner is an alumni of Stanford University in Palo Alto.

The couple resides in Los Angeles, California following a honeymoon in the Grand Caymen Islands and Nassau.

YAHAMA SOCIAL CLUB

The Yahama Social Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Gwendella Clemons. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Old business included discussion of the Club's summer trips taken during the months of July and August. In July, the Club toured Kings Dominion in Richmond, Virginia. In August, the Club toured New Orleans, Louisiana. Some of the sites enjoyed by the club members and their guests were: The New Orleans Superdome, Bourbon Street, Jackson Square, the French Quarter, and several other parts of the city. In traveling to New Orleans, the group stopped in Atlanta, Georgia and Mobile, Alabama.

New business included discussion on NCCU's Homecoming Parade, fund-raising activities, and next year's summer trip.

Following the business session, the hostess served a delicious meal to the following members: Mesdames, Ruth Choate, Pearl Haskins, Laurette Hayes, Marjorie Johnson, Elizabeth Pretty, Clementine Self, and Pauline Throckmorton; Kenneth and Remell Clemons, Richard and Rosalyn Cole, Bill and Marie Moize, Velton and Edna Thompson, and Robert Edwards.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clemons.

NCNW Announces Steps To Aid Local Organizations

The National Council of Negro Women, Inc., has announced that it has taken another step to support the efforts of community-based, self-help organizations in Mississippi. The NCNW Factory, located in Shaw, Mississippi, is designed to train farm-workers in the specific skills related to publishing, printing and entrepreneurship.

The factory will serve as a resource to benefit local community organizations by creating employment opportunities and by providing training for rural workers to take advantage of job opportunities. Initially, an NCNW reading curriculum, designed for pre-schoolers, will be printed at the factory and will be introduced throughout the rural south in day care and head start centers, as well as other institutions of learning to help improve literacy education.

materials for NCNW national offices, projects, sections and affiliates will be produced at the factory. Outside markets will be developed.

"We are very pleased with the warm reception that this project has received from Shaw's Mayor Gregory Flippins," said the director of the factory, Vern Gavin. "We are enthusiastic about the new employment opportunities that this project will afford members of the entire Delta region. We have already recruited 55 participants who are in the second phase of a comprehensive training program."

"NCNW was domesticated in Mississippi," said Miss Dorothy I. Height, president of NCNW. "Since 1966, we have witnessed a rapid growth of resources and a broad-based volunteer force, encompassing thirty

HOLD COMMUNITY PICNIC

Medina and Elmira Street neighbors held their second "old fashion" community picnic on Labor Day, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Tate.

For the first time, other streets in the neighborhood participating were McLaurin, Cana, Red Oak, Crowell, Gaston and Chalmers. Each participating family contributed toward the purchase of necessary items for the outing.

Families participating were: The Tates, Wilsons, Smiths, Youngs, Woodys, Jarmons, Holman, Brown, J. Johnsons, Bingham, Hammonds, Barnes, Gilchris, Harrises, Taylors, Baileys, Thorntons, Allison, MacDonalds, Hunters, Marshes, Scotts; Newsomes, M. Kylees, Merritts, J. Rays, Campbells, Clarks, Flemmingses, E. Joneses, Russells, Bases and Biggers.

Randolph Young welcomed everyone to the outing, especially new families in the community. Among the guests were Dr. John Hope Franklin, historian-educator, formerly of Chicago but now of Durham, his wife, Aurelia, and son, John W. Over 160 persons were in attendance.

THE GLEANER CLUB

The Gleaner Club of Saint Mark AME Zion Church met Sunday afternoon, September 21, at the church.

Mrs. Lula M. Royal presided and the meeting was opened with devotion and reading of the minutes.

Those present and enjoying refreshments were: Mmes. Royal, H. Hamm, Beatrice Sowell, Margaret Allen, Nellie Bynum, Annie Williams, Hattie McClain, Thelma M. Bullock, Janie Swan, Dorothy Steele, Fleur Steele, Kitty Ola Curtis; Messrs. Willie Sherrill, Madison McDonald, Glenis Thompson, Frank Williams and James Smarr.

CHOIR TAKES BUSCH GARDENS TRIP

Members, friends and guests of the Mass Choir of Mount Vernon Baptist Church went by chartered bus to Busch Gardens (The Old Country), Williamsburg, Virginia on Saturday, September 6, for its annual outing. The weather was ideal and the beautiful scenery made the trip more enjoyable. Visits to Italy, England, France, and Germany were fascinating and the interesting shows, especially the "Magic Show" at the Globe Theatre in England were entertaining. This was a delightful trip and participants expressed an interest in returning next year.

A Different Dinner Pie

by Martha Logan

Declare an end to dinner monotony with this spaghetti-cheese pie. Cooked spaghetti and eggs form the "crust" for this hearty main dish made with lean, all-meat pork breakfast strips. The breakfast strips not only make dinner more exciting but also economical, since you get more meat from a 12-ounce package of the strips than from 16 ounces of average bacon.

Sizzlin' Spaghetti Cheese Pie

Yield: 6 to 8 servings

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|---|
| 12 ounce package Sizzlean | 4-1/2 ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained |
| 8 ounce package spaghetti | 1/2 cup chopped onion |
| 3 cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese | 3 eggs |
| | 1 cup milk |
| | 1-1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce |

Preheat oven to 350°F. Coat a 10-inch pie plate with butter or margarine. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water. Drain; toss immediately with 2 cups cheese. Fill pie plate with spaghetti mixture.

Cut pork breakfast strips into 1-inch pieces. (If desired, cook and reserve 3 whole strips to use as garnish.) Panfry in large skillet. Remove from pan, reserving 1 teaspoon drippings. Add mushrooms and onions; cook until browned. Stir in pieces of breakfast strips. Sprinkle mixture over spaghetti. Hand beat eggs with milk and Worcestershire sauce. Stir in remaining cheese. Pour over spaghetti. Garnish with whole strips. Bake 35 minutes or until set. Let stand 15 minutes before serving.
