Ancient Romans believed that amethyst had the power to prevent intoxication and fashioned wineglasses out of the gem.

COLOR STREAMS, an unusual exhibition of painting "off the wall" by Nan Gressman, at Center/Gallery, 150 Main Street, Carrboro, continues through Sunday, October 26. Gallery hours are 11-5 Friday and Saturday, Sunday 2-5. Center/Gallery activities are open to the public and are funded in part by a grant from the Grassroots Arts Program of the North Carolina Arts Council, a state agency.

INTERESTED IN SIGN LANGUAGE? Winston-Salem State University is offering free classes for all ages from 6-8:30 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday nights. Classes are being taught in beginning, intermediate and advanced levels of signing. To participate, just attend the next session in Room 203 of Coltrane Hall on the WSSU campus.

FAT IS A FEMINIST ISSUE - The Durham YWCA will offer a class October 21-December 2, 7-9 p.m., which will explore the role of food in our lives, body image, the role of women in society, and dealing with our emotions. Class emphasis is NOT on counting calories, but exploring ways in which being fat may act as a psychological survival mechanism and to ask if other mechanisms might be more effective and less painful. Call the YWCA, 688-4396, for registration and information.

THE DURHAM COUNTY NURSING HOME COMMUNITY ADVISORY COMMITTEE wants to help. If you need information about nursing homes in Durham County, in the area of financing nursing home care, quality of care received by nursing home residents; or if you would like to know how you can be of service to Durham County Nursing Home residents, contact Mrs. Jane Hare, 682-8104, Coordinating Council for Senior Citizens. This agency will take incoming calls from residents and their family or friends and make appropriate referrals.

INDIAN CRAFTS EXHIBIT - "Selections of Traditional North Carolina Indian Crafts," now through November 23, third floor, N.C. Museum of Art, Raleigh. Hours are Tues.-Sat., 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sun., 2-6 p.m. More than thirty artifacts from the 12th to early 20th centuries representing cultures from the Appalachian, Piedmont and coastal regions of the state will be shown.

MUSEUM PROGRAMS - Bones Workshop, N.C. Museum of Life and Science, Saturday, October 25, 433 Murray Avenue.

Through October 31, Haunted House Fall Carnival.

FLEA MARKET - The Durham Recreation Department's Senior Citizens Clubs will hold their second annual Senior Citizens Flea Market on Saturday, October 25, at the Central Civic Center. Selling begins at 10 a.m., and will continue until 4 p.m. Articles for sale will include craft items and home-baked goods. All funds received will benefit the clubs' treasuries. The public is encouraged to attend.

PANTRY PARTY - The Saint Theresa Community Council is sponsoring a Pantry Party at the Operation Breakthrough Building (Old Whitted School) auditorium on Umstead Street Saturday, October 25, 4-6 p.m. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.
